Man, it's been great in Byron; ACT and in Chemistry! You and Joy BEHAVE this summer and let me give you some advice; WEAR PROTECTION! Come to see me this summer, at anytime, we'll get drunk!

Dave Cpm

Dude! ACT: Chemistry has been an experience to remember. It's easy this summer. Give me a do something mean & destructive.

Be cool,

Its been fun in ACT and golf this year. Too bad you aren't going to play next year. Have

Troy,

well tons of stuff has happened for a full junior year. I sort of feel bad for Mrs. Straisheim! But you know Maddox and Philp deserved it. Remember that weekend as we did a solmn course on Camp Bowie and you saying "Here doggie, doggie, doggie!" those are the ways to spend the weekend and the upcoming summer. You and Jay have been interesting to watch and I believe you all will one day get married. Now me on the other hand am always going to have problems. Give it time and you and Jay will get it worked out. I appreciate all the help you've given me with people my car, and life in general. We've been great friends and had our own fights. Lets hope you get the Job at Al's and lets prepare for a wild summer and a great Senior Year. One more year then we have to be responsible, oh boy! Lets take advantage of my easily accesable window and your "no curfew". Man I appreciate our friendship and look forward to us helping each other through life. Sentimental, yea, yea, yea

Love, Coco

WARNING: The 6th year I've written it, it's our 6th anniversary. Your still alive as far as insane, crazy, lunitic, basketballs, butthead, asshole, next to Kristal skin and accident prone as ever. But I'm not trading in our friendship for any thing. Although I'm not racing you anymore (I'm not racing slow down turnpike anymore) we need to get in a few hundred laps to dust one another and see if we can't bring summer and 1st 6 weeks of school, drunken, naked boash. One more year then this year? You, Jay, me, + Craig. We need to keep up the tradition! Did anyone ever tell you you drive like a bat out of HELL! I bet they have! Well I am sure we'll do something this summer. All 4 of us (hint hint). Thanks for cheering me up all those times! You're a great friend + I hope you always will be. ♥ya COCO (slave)

ESTABLISHED FRIENDSHIPS

Rob Opitz struggles while trying to push the lawn mower in the hot Texas heat.

The thermometer read ove one-hundred degrees on a ho and very humid Tuesday after noon. Most Paschal student were dispersed throughout th Fort Worth area, some at Twi Points while others busil earned their hourly wages.

While many worked, other of us spent the days under th warm sun. Backyard pools country clubs, Six Flags, an Wet-N-Wild were constantl swamped with high school stu dents. These people reall knew how to take advantage o not being in school and to hav an awesome summer.

Not only were Paschal stu dents having fun in Texas bu they were also enjoying them selves in other parts of th country such as Washingto D.C., New York, Chicago, an Los Angeles. Some even ven tured outside the country. Stu dents went to exotic place such as China and Paraguay Either in the country or out summer was an exciting time

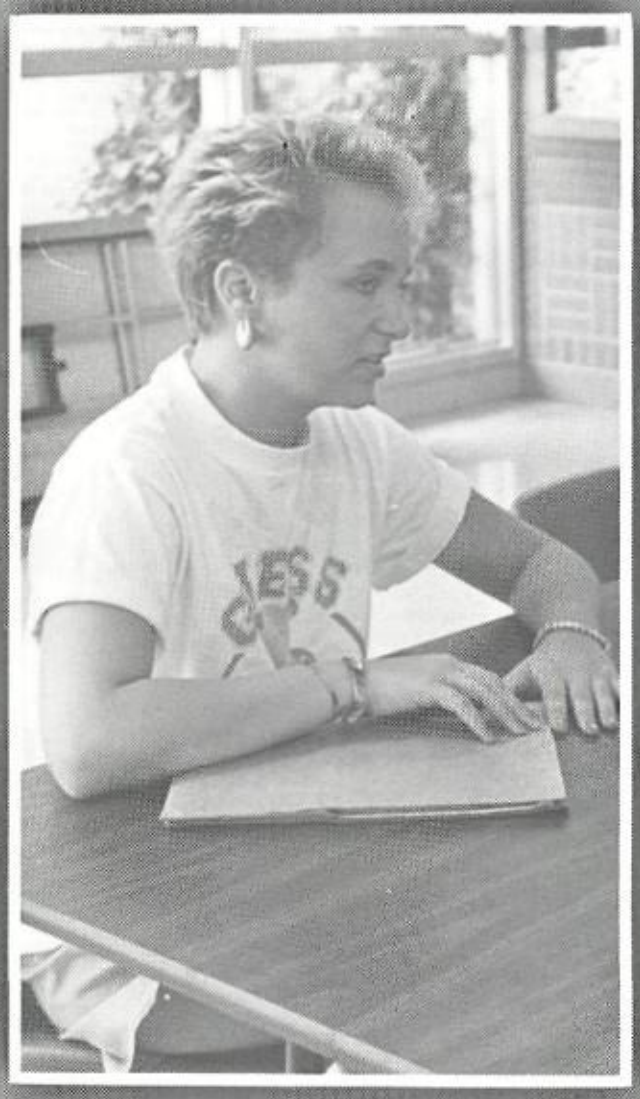
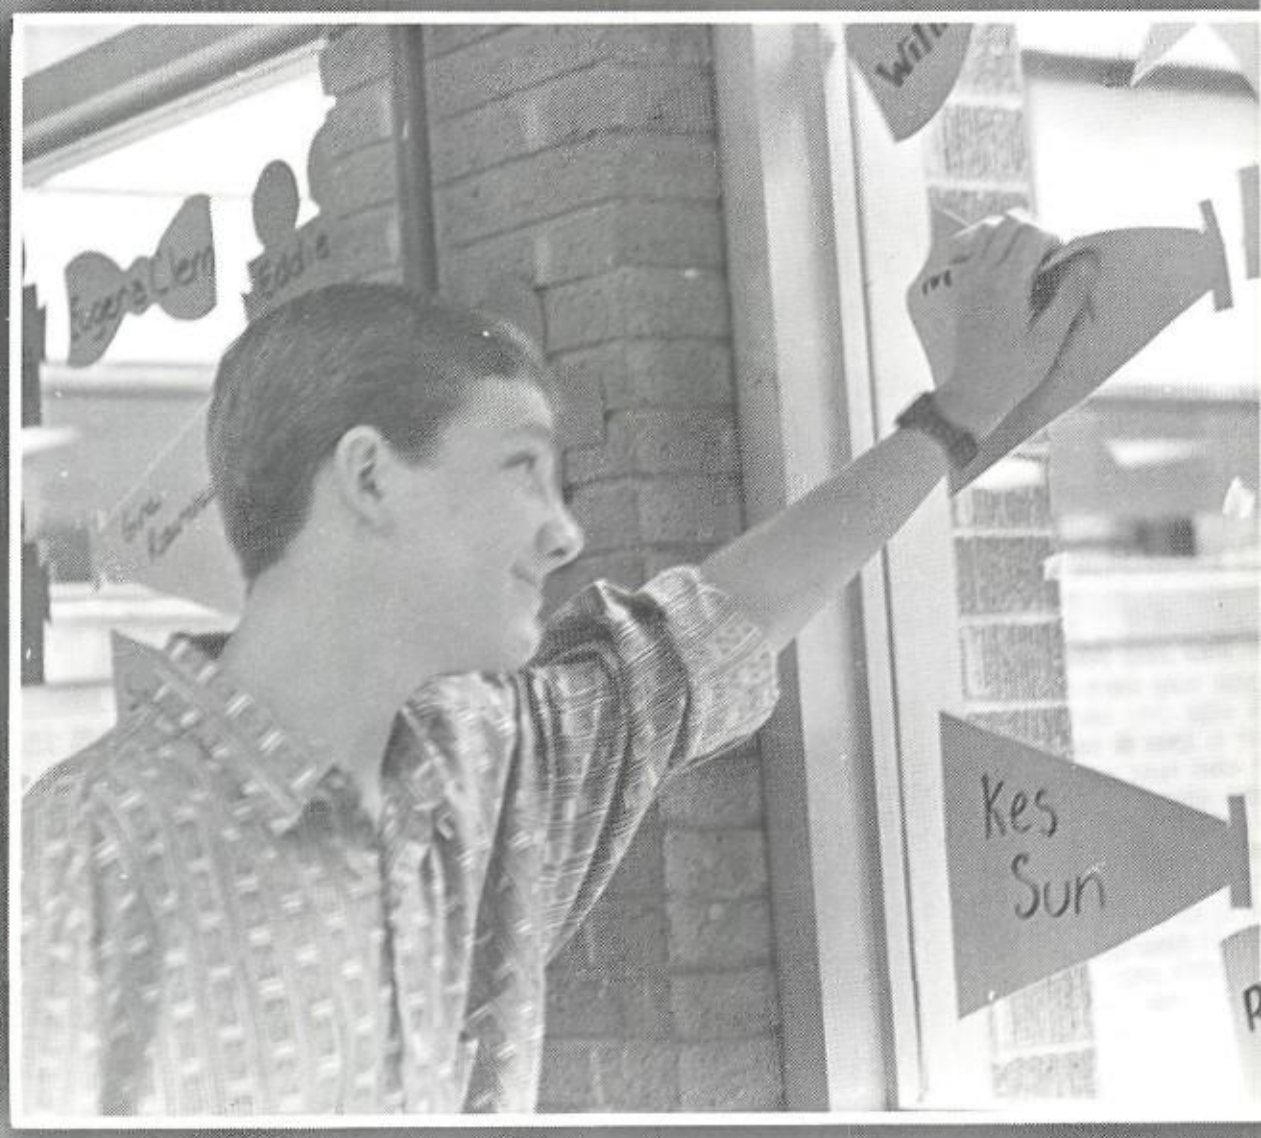
LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION!

Kim Hines signs up for the American Field Service Club on Club Day.

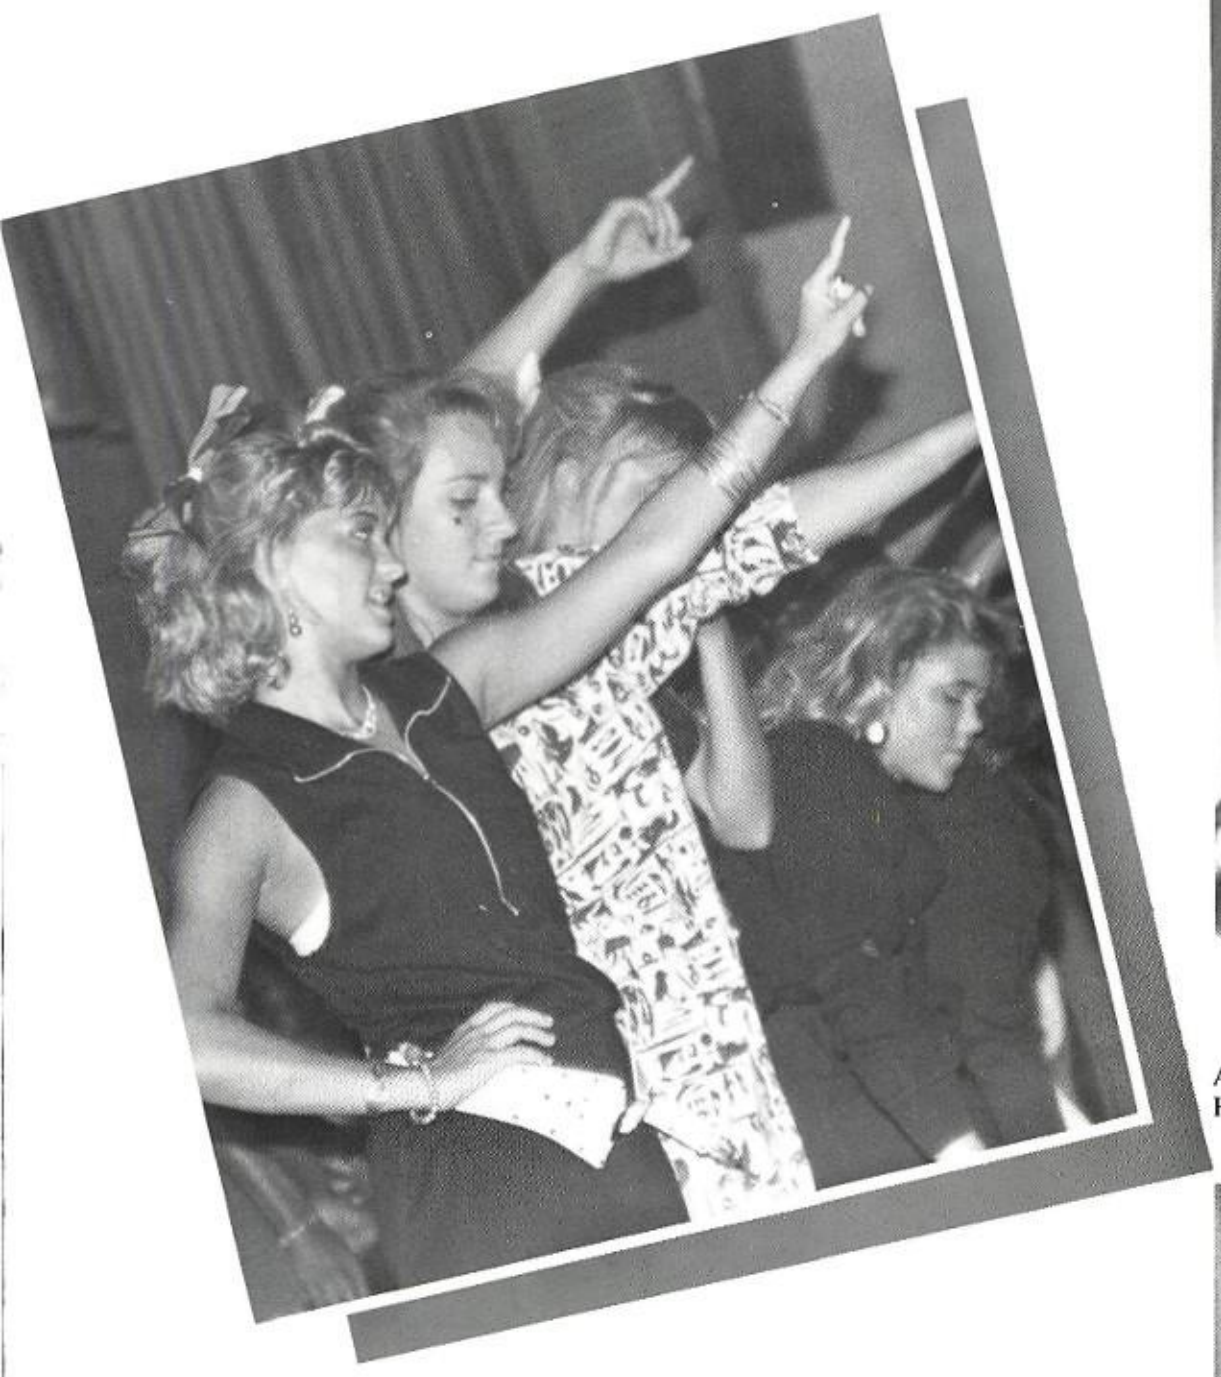
As the curtains opened, "Joe Biz" ap peared on the stage causing a streak silence throughout the auditorium. Th was just the beginning of a glamorou Howdy Week. The leadership committe showed their talent through an amazin performance in honor of the freshme Hollywood took hold of P.H.S. as fresh men searched for their names which ap peared on stars, top hats, bow ties, cam eras, film and key grips posted in the fron foyer. As Howdy Week kept on rollin club day came into focus and studen signed up for their favorite clubs. Howd Week came to a close with a happy endin as the cheerleaders led the students in dazzling pep rally. "Hurray for Holly wood" was a complete success as the glam orous life shined over Paschal.



Suzy Bailin shows her excitement, while spending her whole lunch period signing up new members to the Latin Club.



"Yes, I am a Freshman," admits Matt Sullivan.



Amy McKinney exclaims, "I've Got That Look," at the Howdy Pep Rally.

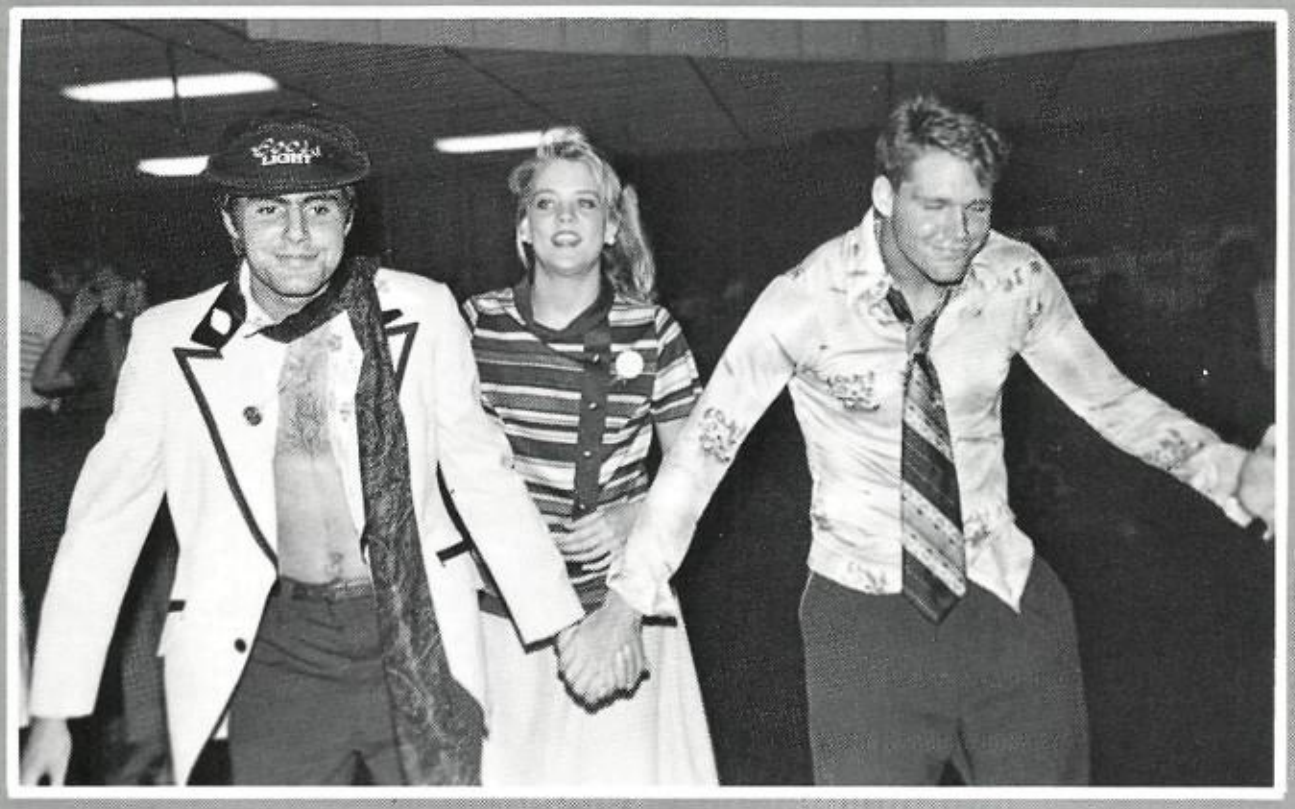
Amy McKinney watches the birdy as Stephanie Bailey tries to avoid embarassment.

Howdy Week can be a tiring experience for everybody. The string of parties and special events is enough to exhaust anyone from the shy and naive freshman to the rippin' and roarin' seniors. No exception to this was the Howdy Skating Party at Rollerland West. Paschalites showed up in packs beginning at 6:30 P.M. As tradition goes, the seniors dressed up in their finest polyester, simply to make a spectacle of themselves. The highlight of the party was when everybody danced the Hokey-Pokey in the center of the rink. Of course, dancing on skates is not an easy task and many ended up on their derrieres.



"No, you may not cut in," Tom Wacker says as April Taylor admires Michael Conn's chest hair.

"Hurray for Hollywood" was the theme for the Howdy Dance this year and the stars were shining brightly on that warm Saturday night. Attending the dance were Skipper, Gilligan, Ginger and Mary who just returned from Gilligan's Island. Also present were Princess Leia, Pebbles, Bam-Bam and James Bond, along with many other television and movie stars. The "Nurse" provided the rock 'n roll so all the stars could strut their stuff. All of Paschal's spirit and enthusiasm helped make this first dance of the year a huge success. On this night, Paschal stars led THE GLAMOROUS LIFE!

Warm Shower

The morning. The dreaded time of 8:00 A.M. Monday through Friday, for 36 weeks. It was such a hassle getting up so early in the morning. The worst thing possible was being late to first period; then forgetting your homework because the dog had really eaten it!

You rushed to get out of the shower because your car pool was coming in ten minutes. You brushed your teeth hurriedly, grabbed your books and rushed out to the car that had already honked many times. You finally got to school and realized you were ten minutes early. You decided to talk to all your friends in the front foyer till the bell rang. This was usually the start of an average day at Paschal.

Amber Stanfill and Daniel Herrera look excited as they approach the coming day.

Amy Andrews can't believe Mindy Bloomberg is still riding to school with Mommy.

Lori Cauble reflects back on the weekend while Wendy Schuster listens.

Paschal Students Throw The Munch

Eniko Walter and Brenda Ellsworth smirk unknowingly at the "Kick Me" stickers they placed on one another's backs.

When the lunch bell rang, hundreds of Paschal students poured out of their classrooms to quickly stuff their faces in the mere forty minutes allowed for lunch. Needless to say, all of the underclassmen ate in the cafeteria, while the seniors ate out. Some popular fast food restaurants were: Wendy's, McDonald's, Jack-in-the-Box, Hooker's Hamburgers and Pizza Hut. However, while the seniors were enjoying themselves, the underclassmen were forced to eat the usual plate lunch or junk food. The salad bar express at Wendy's and the personal pan pizzas at Pizza Hut were quick solutions from tardiness to class. Students who were repeatedly late from lunch were usually punished with 7:30 detention.

Brian Thomas stifles John Girodano's sneeze at Pizza Hut.

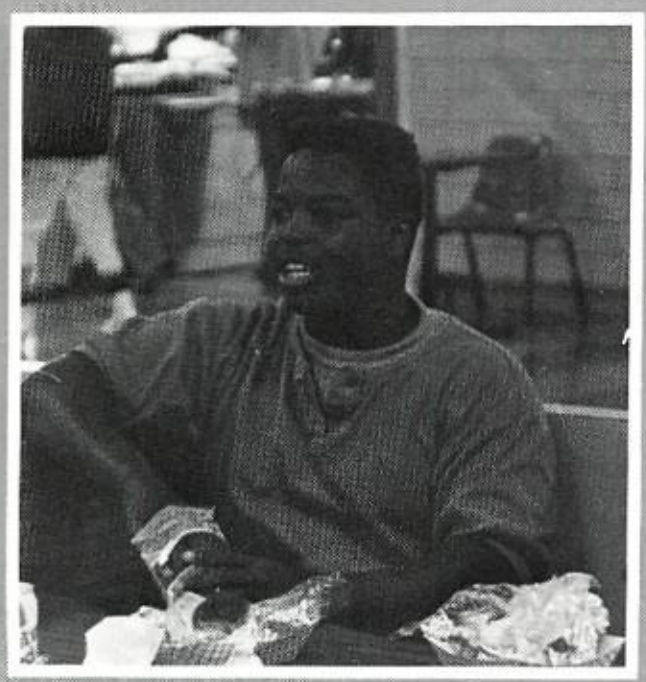
Carrie Quattrochi and Clare Blackwell share the day's gossip.



James Taylor says, "It ain't easy bein' cheesy!"

Is There Life After School?

There was never enough time after school; so much to do, so many places to be. Who could get everything done?

Paschal students had many kinds of work to accomplish; homework by the ton, practice for sports, and working in the job market. Many Paschalites held jobs at grocery stores or clothing shops.

In the end the effort paid: the thrill of victory in sports, money in the bank, and free time to have fun. The time went by quickly after school, but PHS students made the most of it!

What would school have been without weekends?? The weekend was a time to get away from exams and early mornings. It was a time to go out on those "hot" dates or late night excursions. Parties, school functions and football games dominated most Friday and Saturday nights. The weekend was a time to escape the many pressures and problems of schools. Luckily it was never more than five days away.

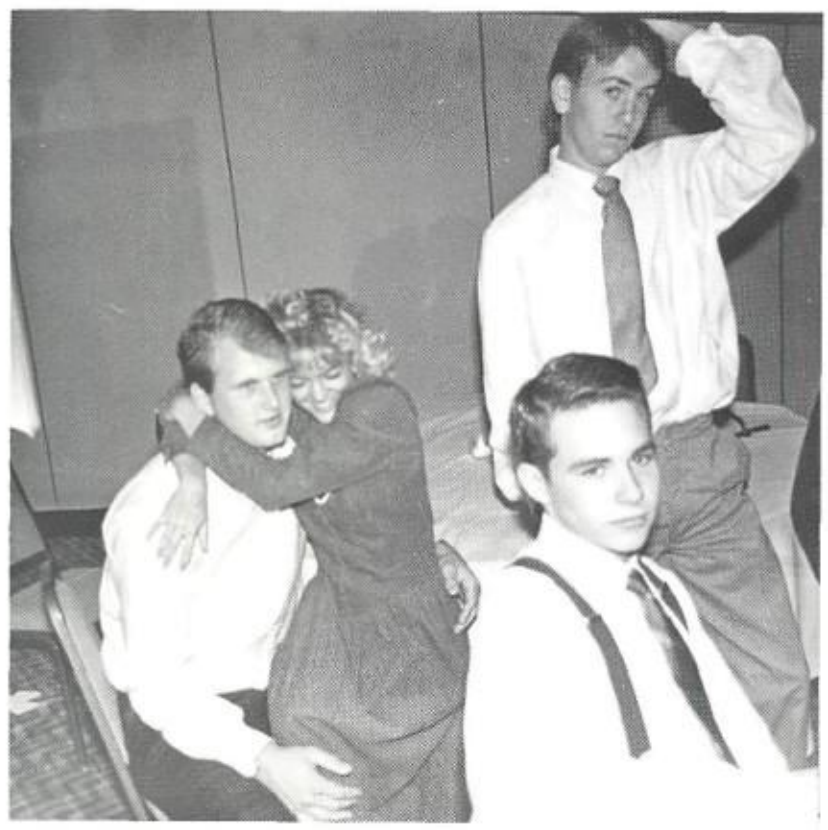
- "I gotta get some sleep for the PSAT." - Brent Harlan
- "I'm just going to the football game." - Michael Lewis

Mums Is The Word

Everyone got caught up in the fever of activity surrounding Homecoming. The weeks prior to the event were filled with skit rehearsals, line dance practices, meetings to plan the parade, the election for Homecoming queen, searches for Homecoming dresses, the ordering of mums, and the list was endless. Panther Pride rushed to inflate balloons, paint the run-throughs for the game, and create banners with each football player's name on them to decorate the auditorium during the pep rally. Then, when we thought we couldn't stand the suspense any longer, when our parents and teachers could hardly stand us any longer, it was finally time for . . .

HOMECOMING '87!! All the excitement and energy came out full force as Friday finally arrived. First came the parade. Along with the Homecoming Court and the usual clubs and organizations, the football players participated in the march down Forest Park Boulevard.

Then, on to the pep rally! Instead of having the traditional class floats, each grade performed a skit or dance. That night at the football game Lori Cauble was crowned as the 1987-88 Homecoming Queen by her sister Wendi, who was last year's queen. The dance was Saturday night from 8:00 to 12:00 at the Hilton downtown. The Penguins played and it was the perfect end to a great Homecoming.



The band, Christie Sprinkle, Heather Cordray, and Lori Cauble jam during the Homecoming pep rally.

A Homecoming Victory

It was the week before the Homecoming game and dance. Many people were frantic trying to prepare for the upcoming weekend. We were busily running all over town looking for that special dress or suit, or simply searching in the depth of our closets for some old clothes to wear in the class skit. Many of us however, were still sitting patiently in our bedrooms waiting for the phone to ring. When it rang we were the first to answer, praying it was that special person asking to escort us to the dance.

The Homecoming game finally arrived. Everyone seemed to enjoy it even though the final score was Arlington Heights, 38, Paschal 19. Although the scoreboard told us we lot, we found out later that Arlington Heights had to forfeit four of their games due to an ineligible player. One of those games happen to be Paschal's Homecoming. Paschal's Homecoming week was a total success with the newly acquired victory.

"Baby I'm A Star"

What major event at PHS this year discussed drugs, alcohol, punks, and thugs, first love, Shakespeare, child abuse, Cheryl Teigs in the clouds and designer jeans, too? No it wasn't Ms. Maddux's English class. It was the Vagabonds production of the play "Voices from the High School". During the three nights (November 12-14), the cast of twenty-nine proved that there was more to high school than just classes. Considered "The best show performed at Paschal," "Voices" dealt with the trials and tribulations of a bunch of young adults in sometimes heartwarming and heartbreaking situations. Under the direction of Susan Williams and the co-direction of Mandy Bell, "Voices" showed the audience the high and low points of being a "kid" in high school. "Forsooth, it's the truth!"

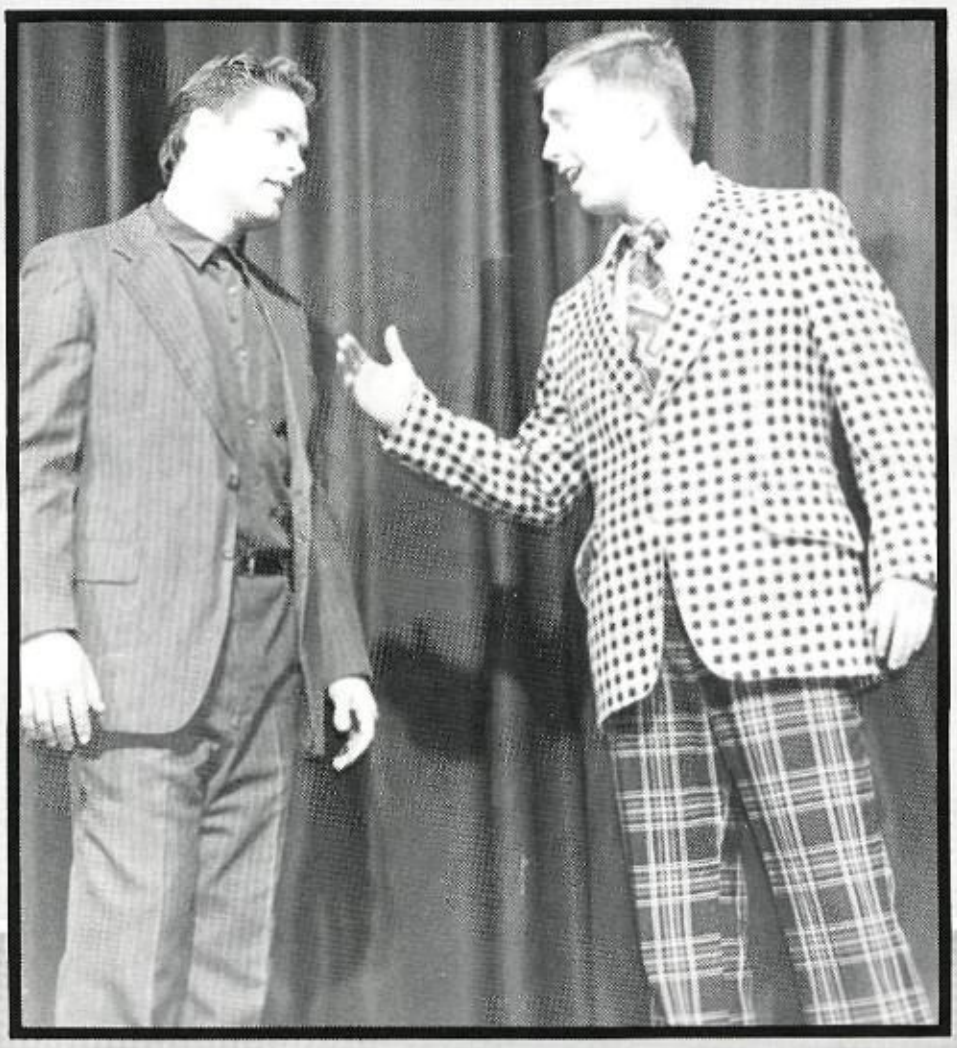
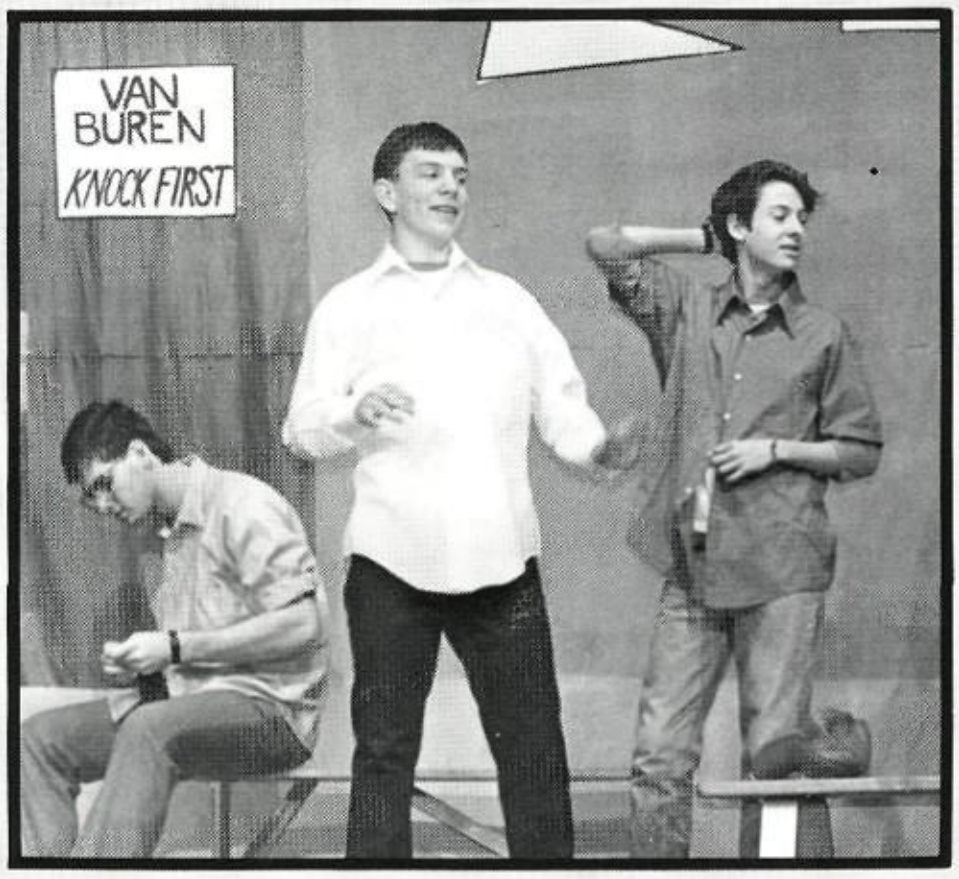
Layne Kasper's singing brings Stanley Elliot to tears.



Kevin Dickson tells Tom Wacker what it is all about.

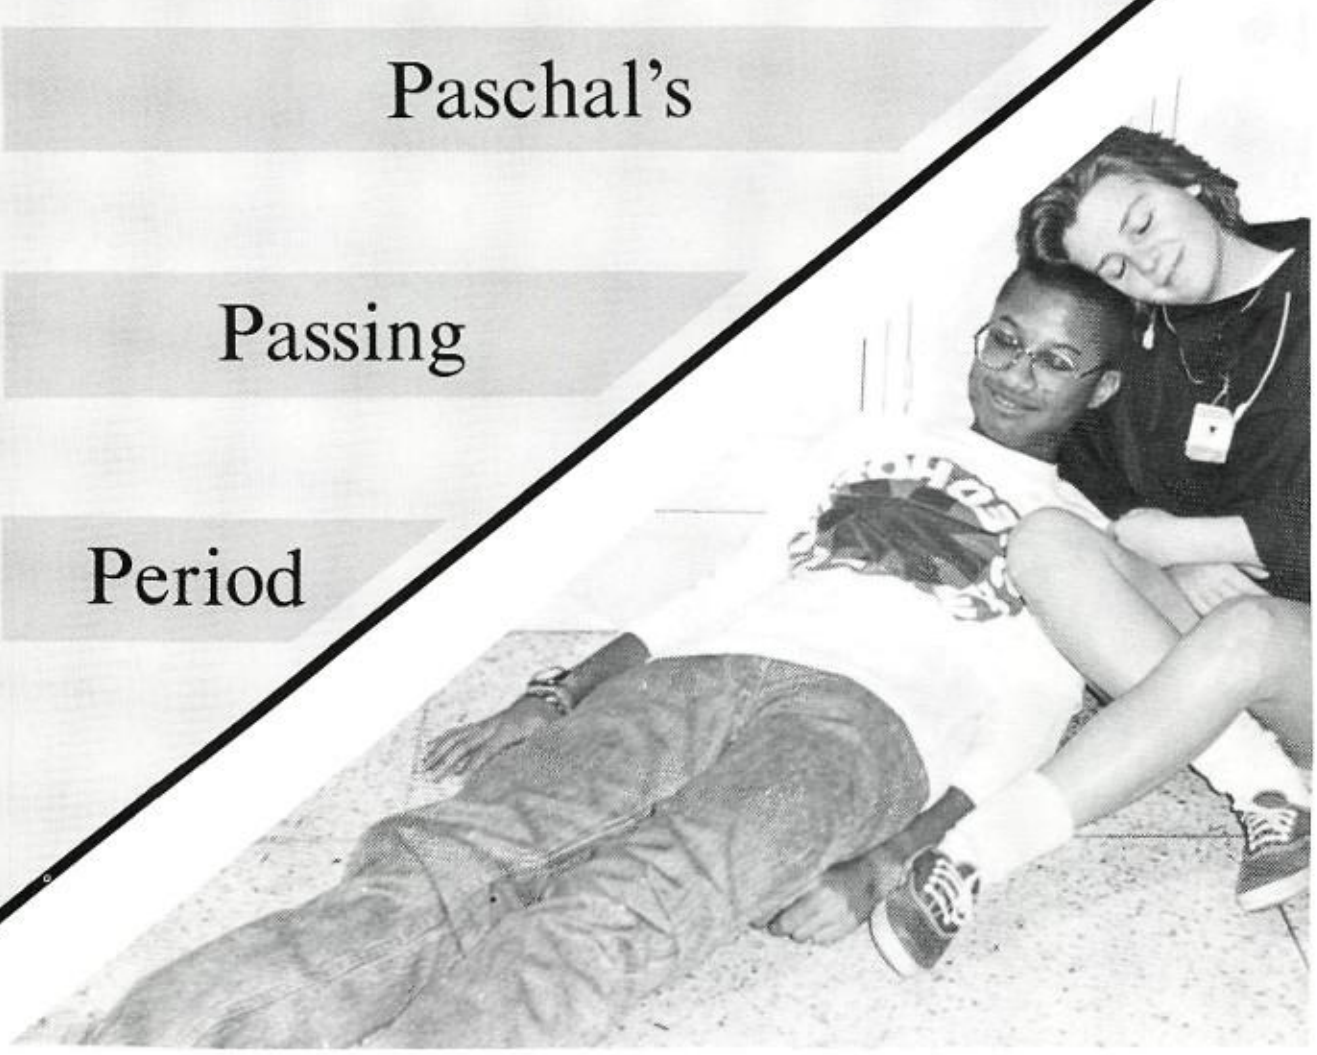
"Damn Yankees" was managed by director Susan Williams and her assistant, Stephanie Bailey. The musical, which was about baseball, love, and the devil, required lots of hard work from the actors, the technical crew and the song and dance teachers. Once again the Vagabonds showed off their true colors in the Paschal High School production of "Damn Yankees".

April Taylor, Sarah Smith, and Leigh Tucker get down and dirty when it comes to housework.



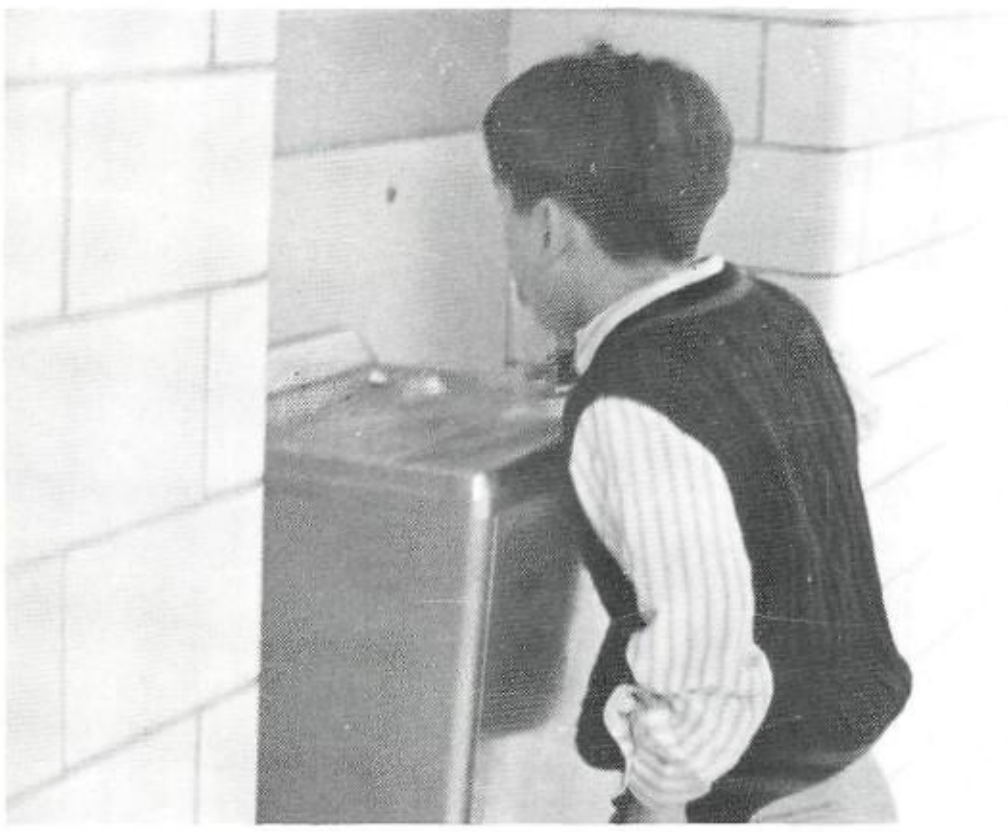
Kevin Brown, Bill Bumpas, and Ben Thistlewaite prepare for an important date with Lola.

Paschal's Passing Period



The bell rang and you ran out of class. During the five minute passing period you went to your locker, got a drink of water, and told your best friend where to meet you for lunch. The minutes passed so fast. You dreamed of a longer passing period. The goal of the passing period was to get everything done without being tardy.

Overheard



- "I wish she would just leave the door unlocked."
- "I danced with her the very last dance."
- "Yaba - Daba - Do!"
- "Are you going home now?"
- "Who is Act 1?"
- "Why is Rob Opitz always standing outside the door?"

Did You Know?

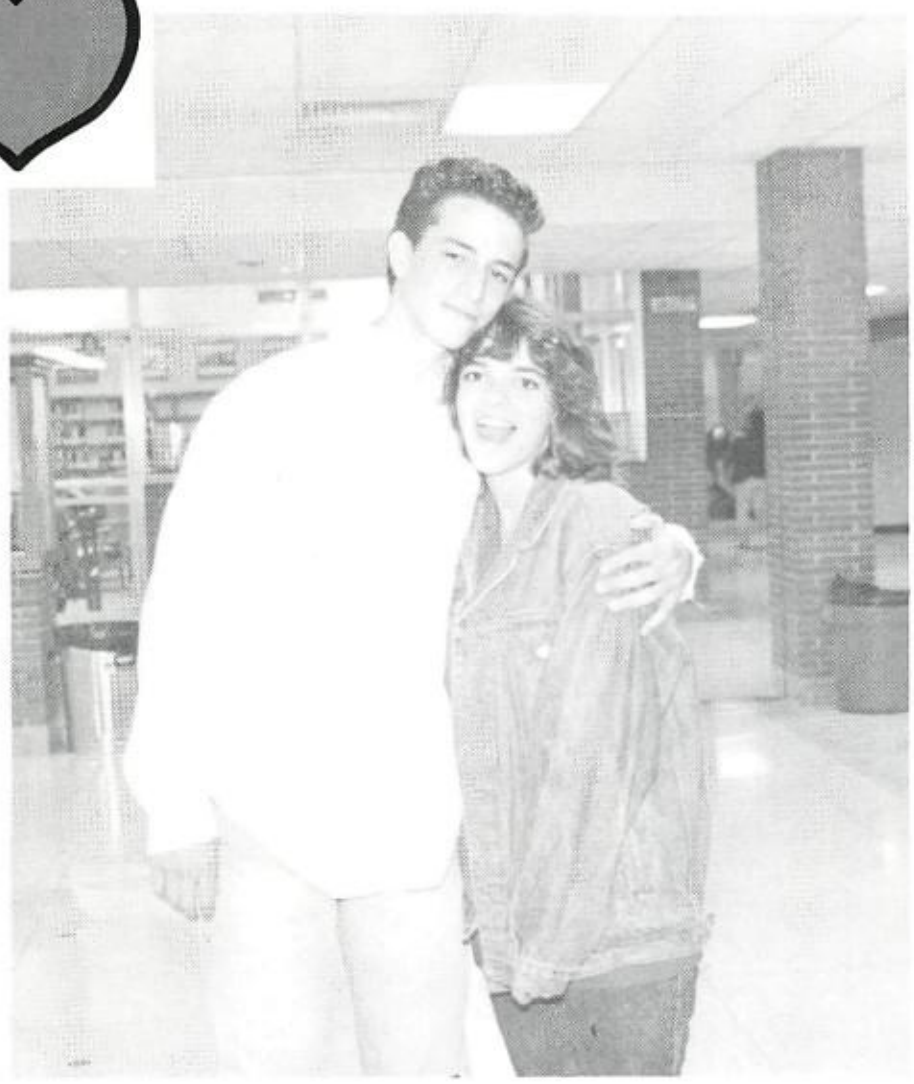
The lockers next to Mrs. Bott and Ms. William's are the original lockers.

The front hall from the large auditorium to the cafeteria is supposed to be the longest hall in Texas public schools.

The courtyard had originally been the front of the building.

There are about 2,400 lockers in the school.

When Paschal's enrollment was near 3,000 students, the passing period was 6 minutes long. This was changed to five minutes in 1963.



John Giordano slyly puts his arm around Maurie Taylor.

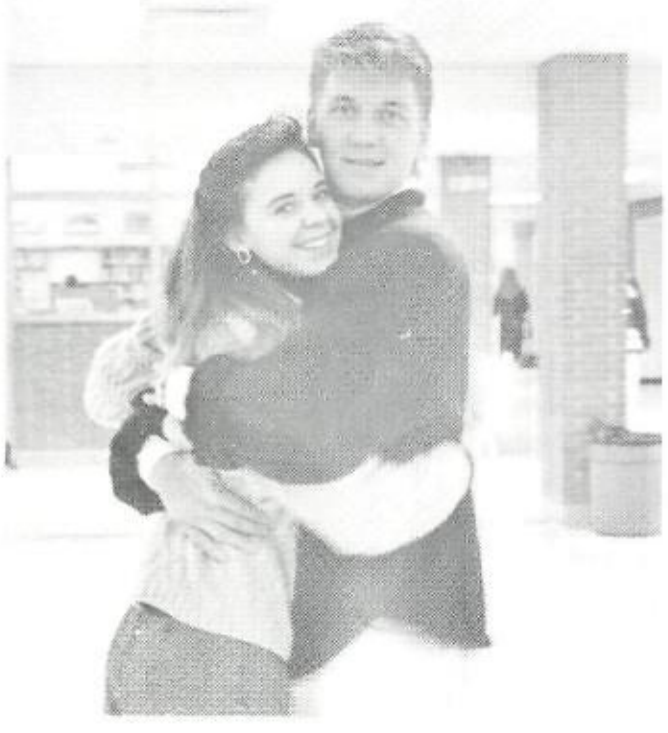
Brian Thomas thinks hugging Suzy Bailin is the same as hugging a teddy bear.

Grey Bullis and Julie Williams plan their next basketball date.

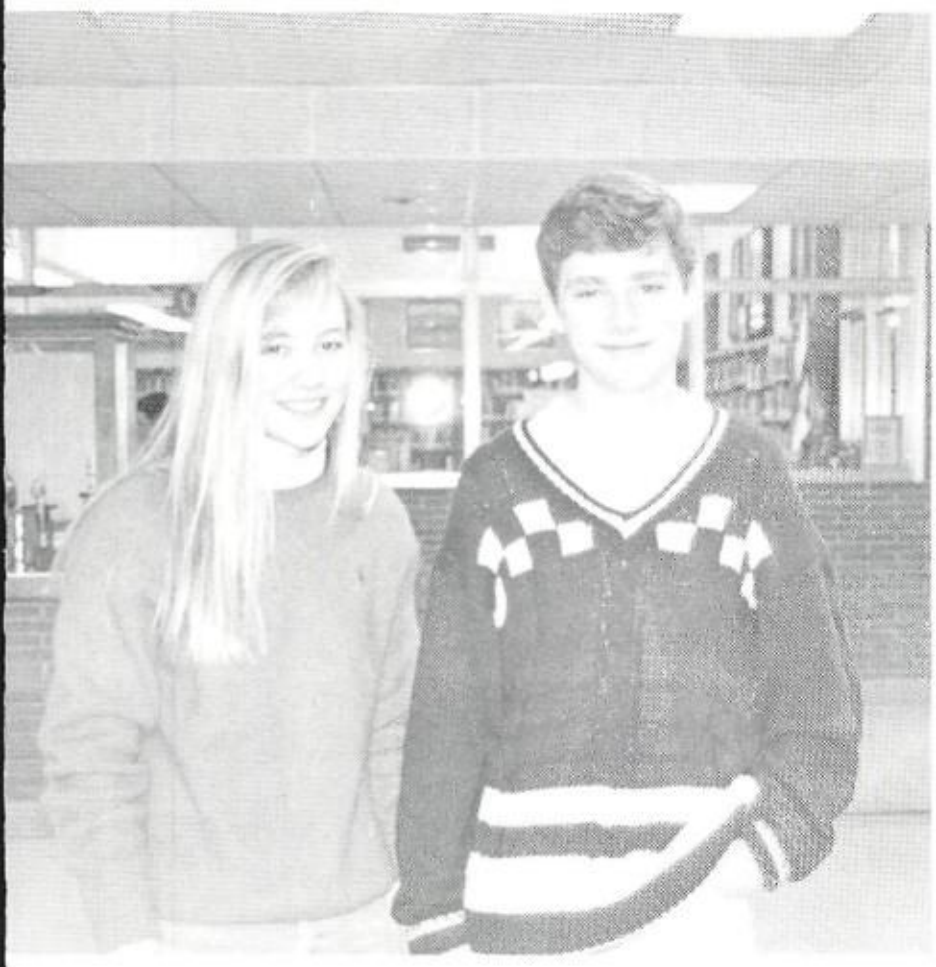
"We Go Together, Like . . . . . "

anna Jones, Michael Lewis, Ken Harper and Amy Bawcom just can't figure out how they were atched up.

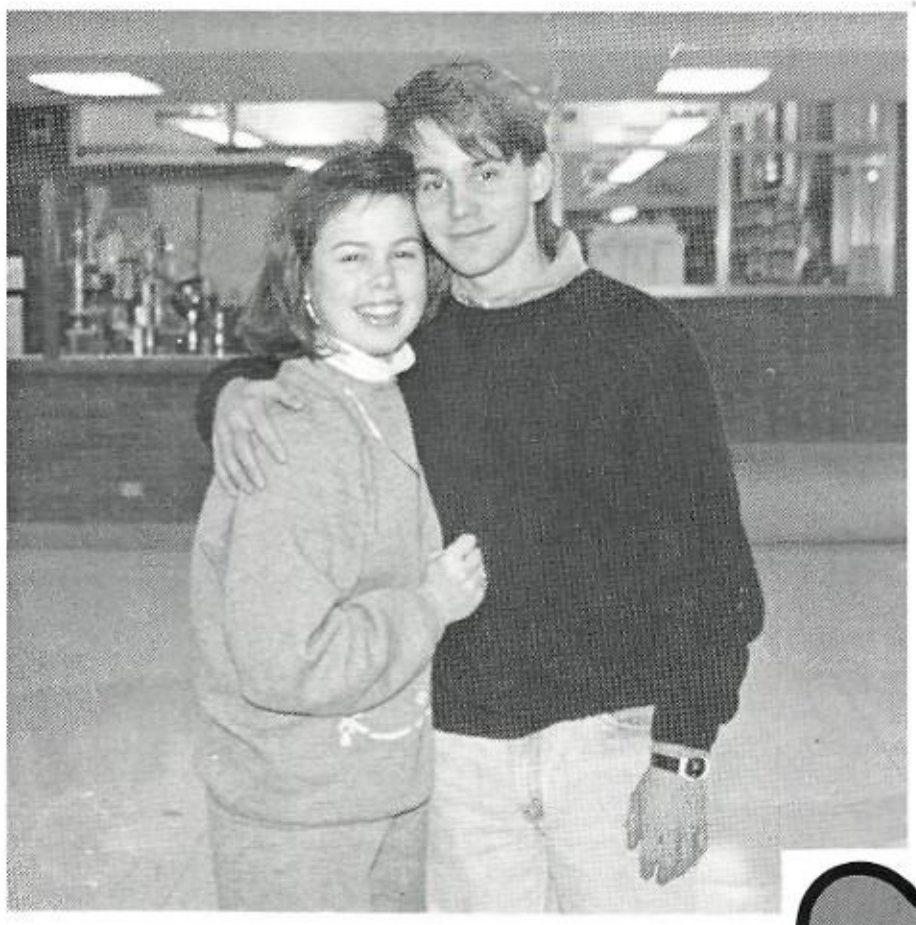
You always hear about people who look good together and should go out on a date, but usually they never do. A survey was taken and students voted on who they thought were an "ideal couple". Some of those couples chosen were already dating or good friends, while many of them never dreamed of going out. You never know, maybe some of the couples who were matched up by their friends will really begin dating some day.



Kindell Foley and David Bock bond together.



Elise Trotter and Matt Sullivan enjoy being matched together.



Julie Jones and Chris Yates are on cloud 9.

Survey Says . . . .

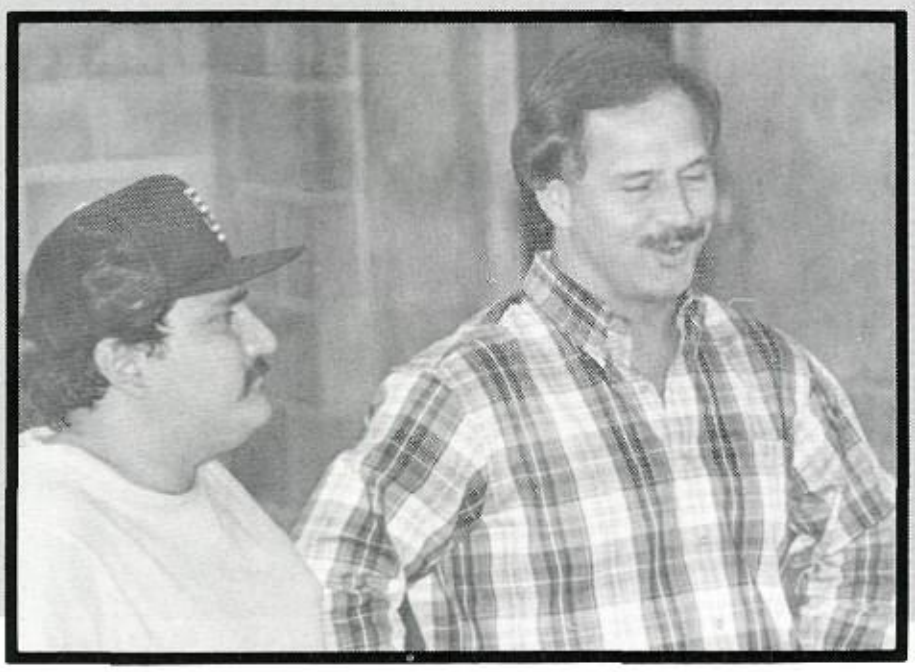
If you could give a name for the Paschal cheerleaders, what would it be?

- "Ace knee -brace association" - Kim Hines
- 'Yell leaders" - Mark Gabel
- "The Jelly Bean Crushers" - Lisa Markham
- "The Beautiful Babes" - John Giordano

"Yeah!" The Varsity Cheerleaders show their winning smiles.

What is the most trouble you have ever been in at Paschal?

- "I forgot to put my tray up in the cafeteria." - Dan Darr
- "Suspended for painting Heights." - Alan Norman
- "I've never been caught for doing anything!" - Tom Wacker
- "Me? None ... Absolutely ... Never ... No Way!" - Robin Denton

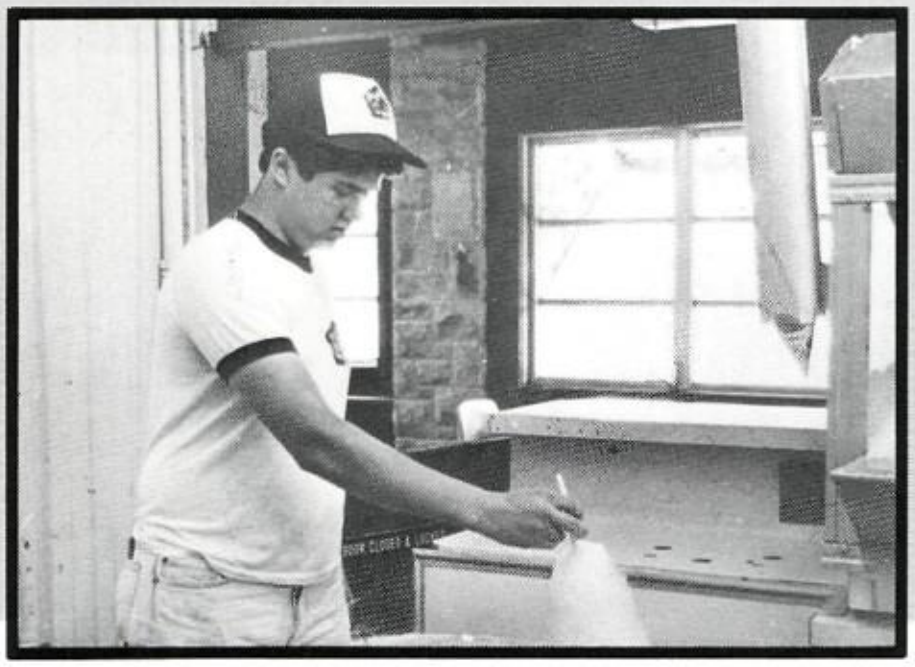


"The Enforcers," Mr. Torres and Mr. Angiano keep order at Paschal.

What was the worst date you ever had?

- "One that never existed-(shaft!!)" - Tara Mehta
- "My date ran over a frog then threw it in the back seat." - Maurie Taylor
- "With a blind date who gave the meaning to the word ugly." - James Allen

"Great. First I have to dance with you, and now I have to be in a picture with you. Danna Sides and Cass Jenkins have the date of their lives at homecoming.



"Boy, won't they be surprised when they find out I'm using real cotton!" Jason Bryant works hard making cotton candy at the zoo.

What is the worst job you've ever had, or had to do?

- "Sara Ellis and I volunteered to rake Mr. Reed's leaves. It took all day and he only gave us $15.00!!!" - Stepanie Bailey
- "My term theme." - Ryan Richardson
- "Working at a sno-cone stand for $1.10 an hour." - Cherri May

"Surprise guys! I lost your term themes!" Because of Ms. Maddux's humor many students consider her as their favorite teacher.

Who is your favorite teacher and why?

- "Mr. Lotspeich, because he's a good person with a remarkable sense of humor. He also has a mellow voice that helps me sleep better in class." - Jeff Young
- "Ms. Maddux, because she's funny." - Marc Belfry
- "Mr. Bretthaur, because he never yells at me." - Blake Hawkins

"Vacuum your face, baby!" Maurie Taylor dreams of her future as a domestic goddess.

What do you want to be like when you grow up?

"Ross Perot's money, Tom Cruises looks, and Ron Carter's woman." - Kyle Henry

- "Bob, the man next door." - Richard Hall
- "I want to be like Mr. Rogers, because he wears alot of different shoes." - Ben Williams.

Essential Shows Excellence

Originality exemplifies the Essential High School, being that it is one of only ten such programs in the country. Designed by Dr. Theodore Sizer of Brown University, the principle of the program is to go back to the basic courses, and take only courses which compliment them. The classes are small and personalized and everyone is challenged according to their own abilities. "Education should be a time of happy challenge," remarked Mr. Larry Barnes, coordinator. The students work together to achieve their goals, and as Colleen Lee stated, "We're like one big happy family!"

"What's the answer to number 3?" asks Jason Soule to Joe Fletcher and Mark Brewer.

Deanna Villegas calculates the number of days left in the week.

"Look, learning can be fun!" explains Clarity Faires to Aimee Gilliland.

Stuart Brown ponders the universe.

Why do you enjoy the Essential so much?

"Everyone here gets along. We're all close friends."
-Cara Laisure

"We understand the teachers. The teachers understand us."
-Courtney McLaughlin

"It enables us to go at our own pace and graduate early."
-Rebekah Miracle

"There is alot of flexibility in what you do."
-Paul McCarthy

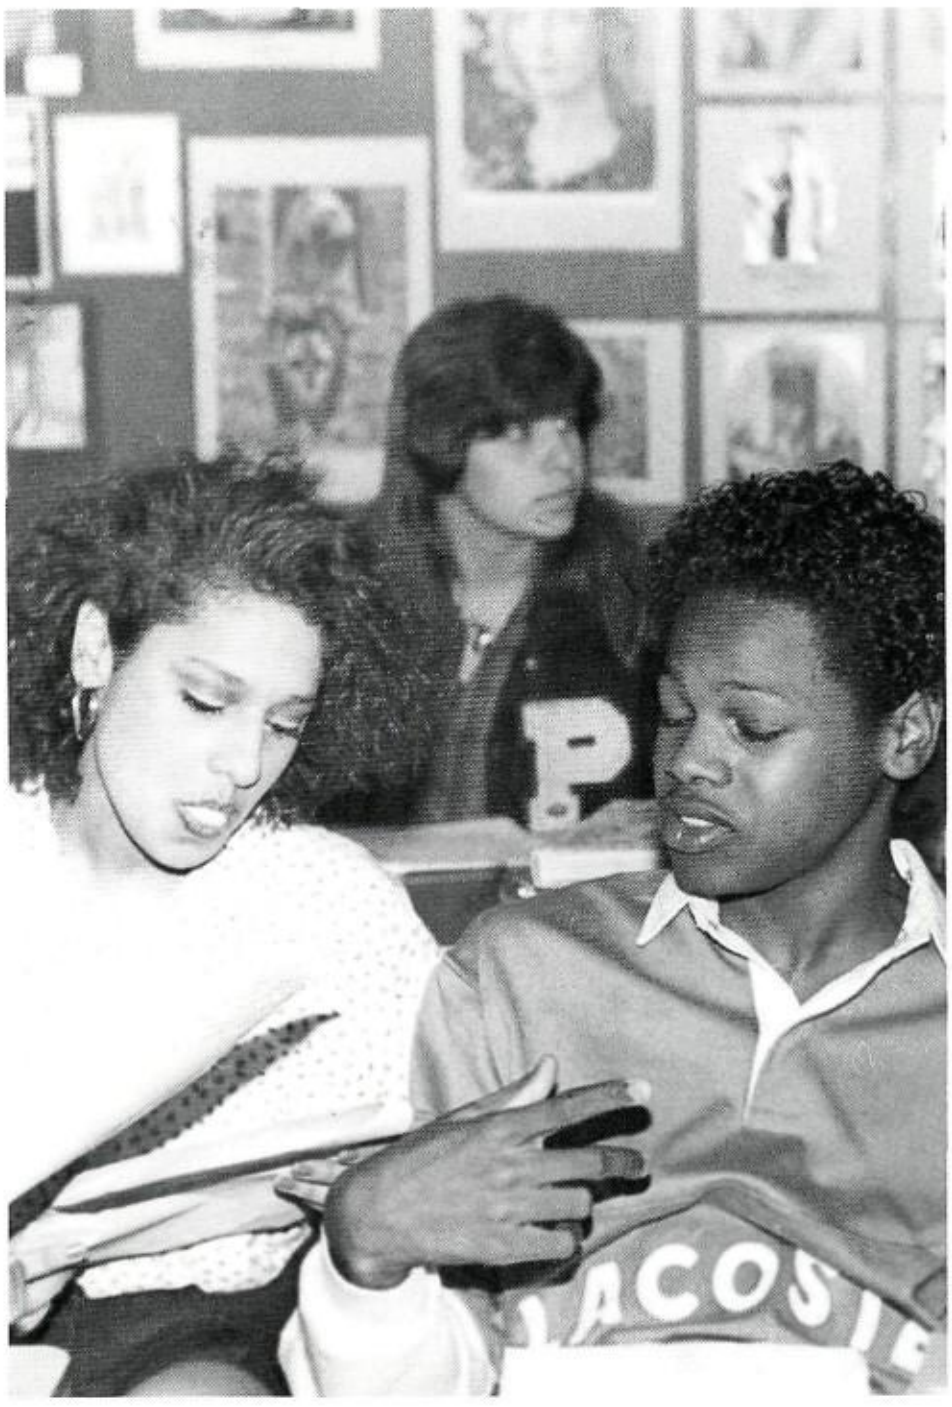
"If I were president ..." explains Mr. Faulkner to his government class.

It's Essential

The Essential High School began at Paschal High School during the 1985-1986 school year. This new program started with only freshmen and sophomores. The following year, 1986-1987, juniors were in the program also. Thus, the 1987-1988 year marked the first graduating class from an educational environment of this kind. Paschal eagerly supported the twenty-three graduating seniors of the Essential High School and was especially proud of the fact that they were the first to complete their high school education in the Essential High School program.



"Do I look like someone who didn't do his homework?" asks Andre Williams to Leti Silva.

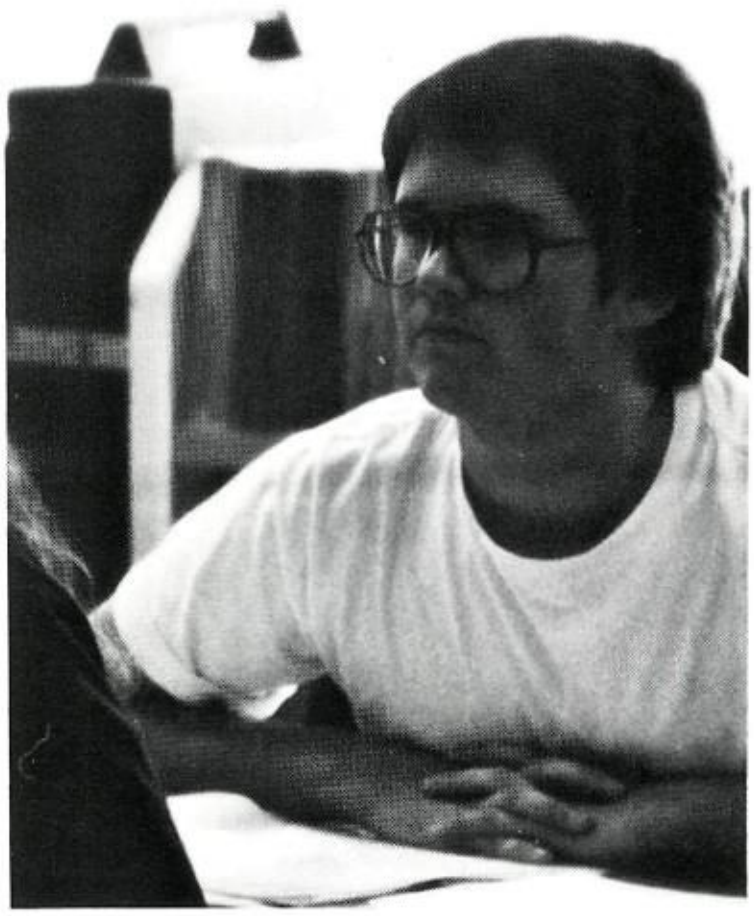
"So what if I didn't turn in my government project?" demands Chris Rossing.

"Whatever happened to the weekend?" wonders David Shelton-Davis on a Monday morning.

Mrs. Jhani Wright-Williams says, "You've got to be good."

Shay Mosley and Marla Levy laugh over history notes.

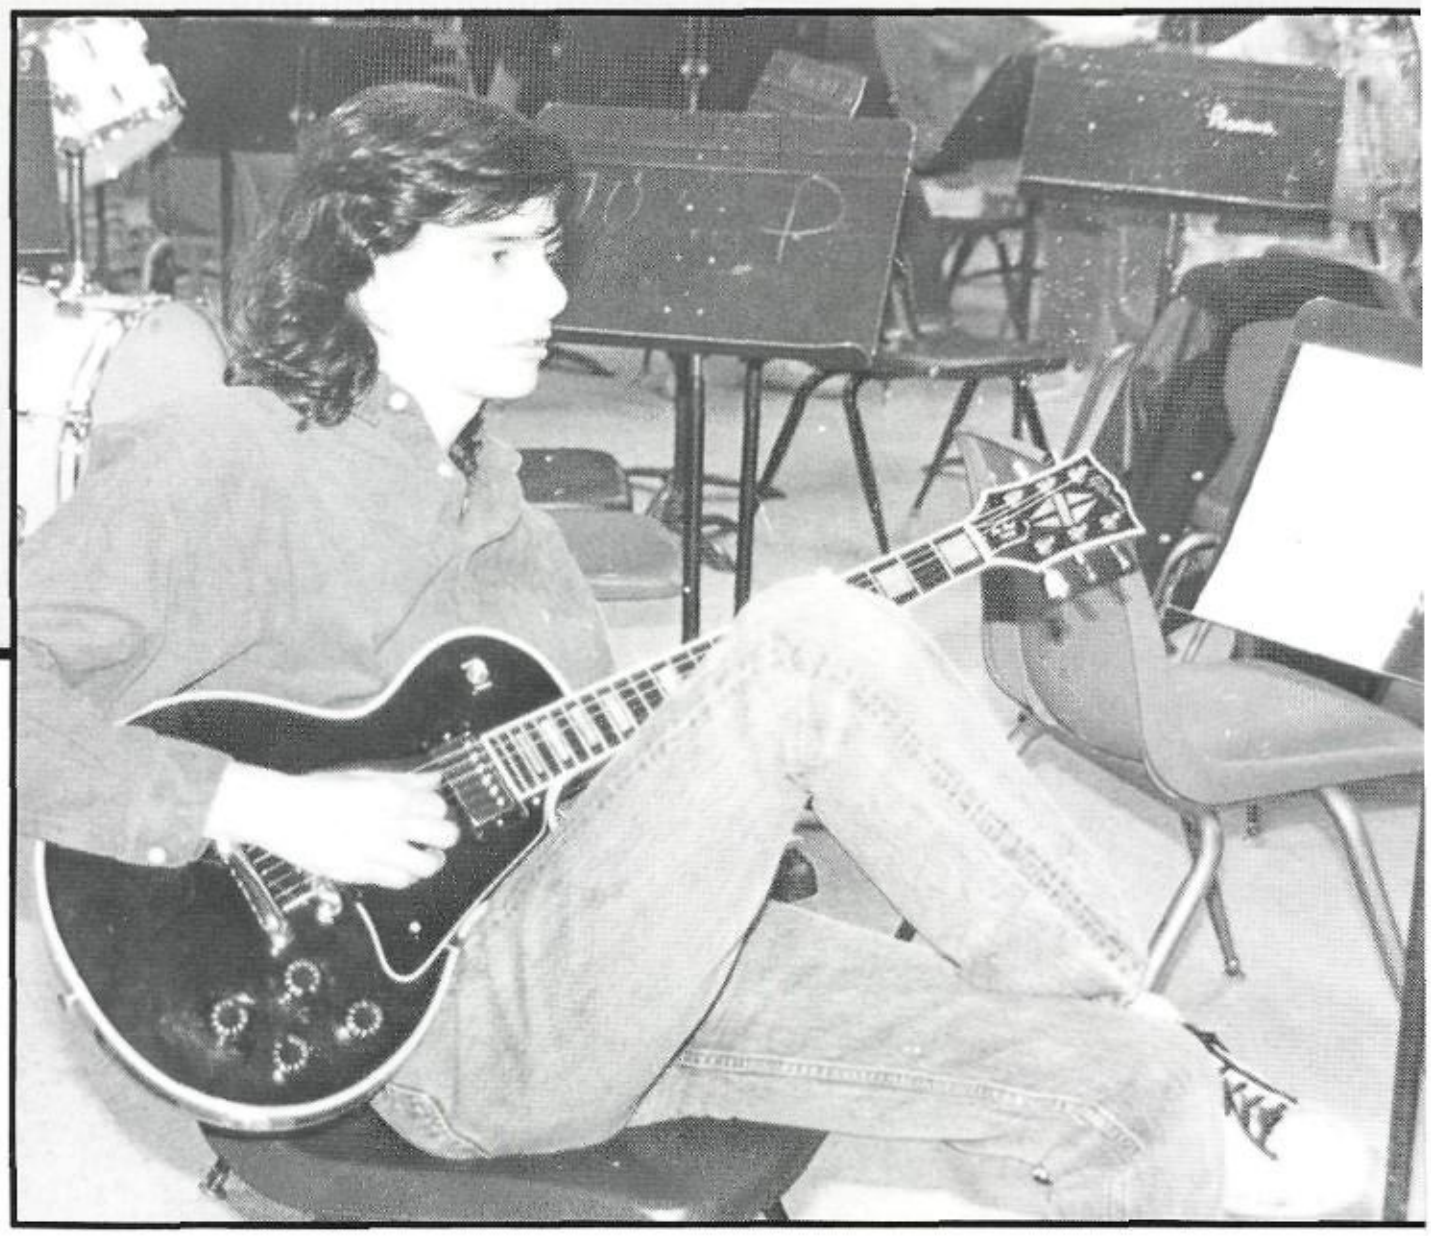
Jason Nemitz pauses for a moment of silent thought.



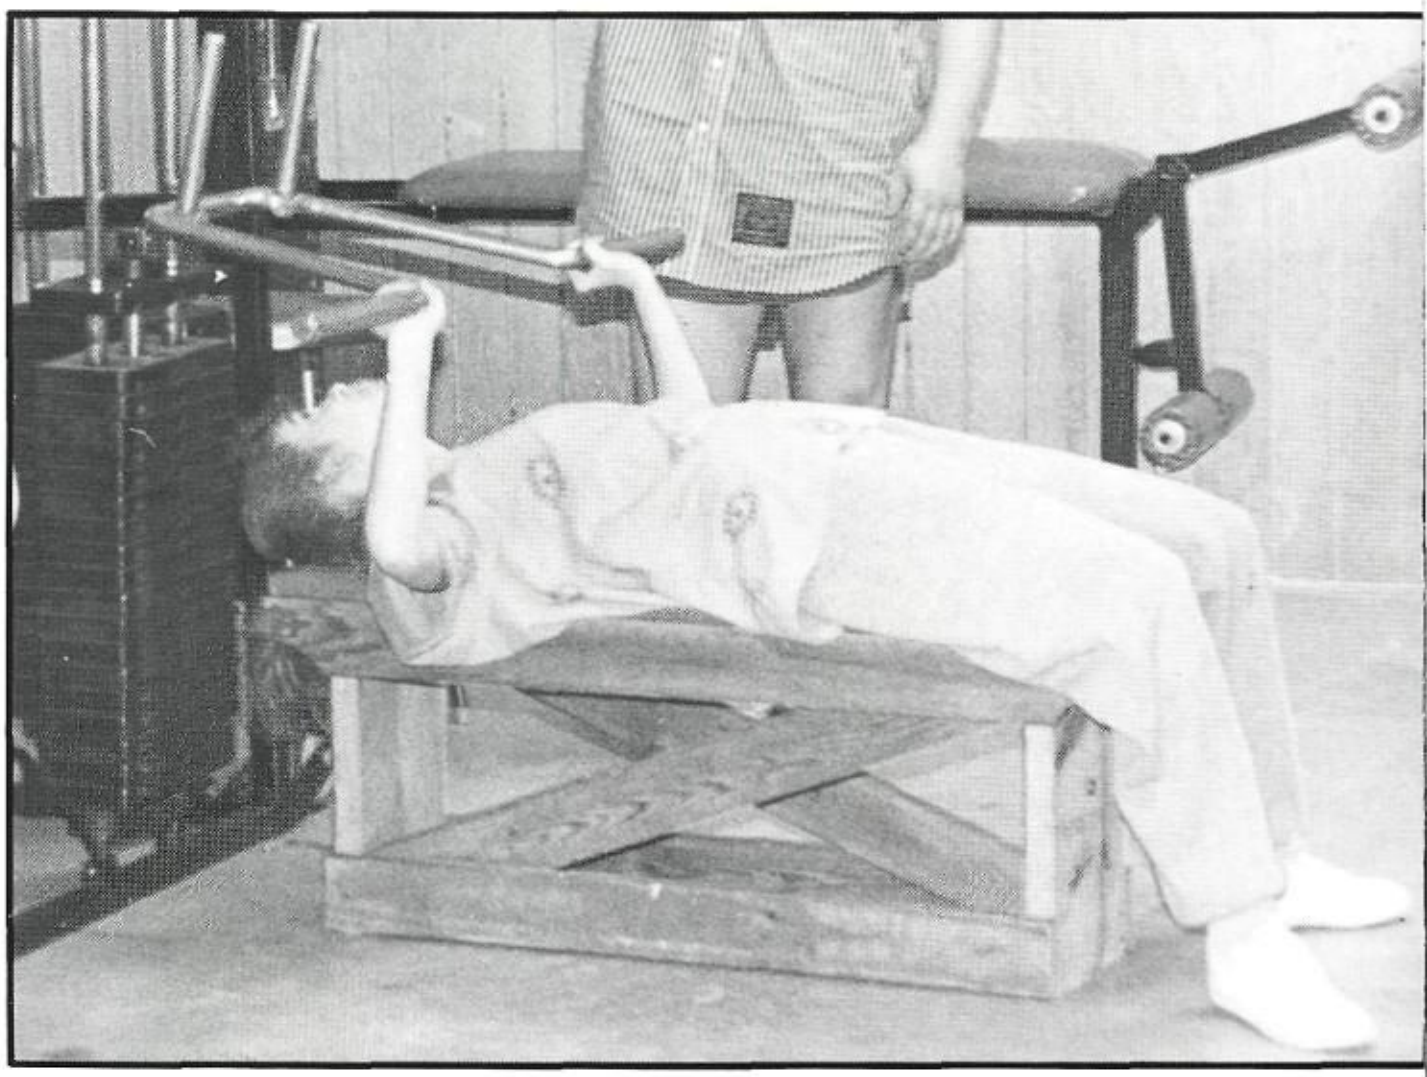
Cory Pitt waits for the lunch bell.

After Hours

Part of what makes Paschal so unique is its colorful student body. Students from Paschal have a great assortment of talents, many of which are developed at school. However, some students go beyond that, devoting time outside of the classroom to their favorite crafts and hobbies. Long hours of hard work are spent in hopes of making a career out of what they do best. These students go beyond the norm and we are proud of them.



"Wow- look at all the little black dots," wonders Jeff Young as he reads his music during Stage Band practice.



Students find weights to be an uplifting afterschool experience.

The Natural Helpers were a group of students chosen by the student body. This elected group proved to be a wonderful aid in helping students with their problems. Natural Helpers participated in an organizational meeting with the other high schools called the Peer Group Alliance Training. The instructors provided the students with helpful facts and statistics about drugs and alcohol. The senior Natural Helpers then went to the middle schools in the spring to inform middle school students about the harmful effects of drugs and alcohol. Events such as this made the Natural Helpers a special group with an essential purpose.

The Senior Psychos Vs. The Jinnin' Juniors

Georgette Lopez-Aguado, Senior, prepares to smash her opponent!

Regina Myers, Junior, prepares to be smashed!

The Senior Psychos vote on their coaches and cheerleaders.

Erin Clinard and Kelly Greene play "paper, rock, scissors" while the Senior girls discuss strategy.

"Powder Puff gives the girls who have never been athletes the chance to compete and learn what it is to be a team player." This was how Georgette Lopez-Aguado viewed Powder Puff football. The Powder Puff football game was organized and played in the spring of 1988. Junior and Senior girls participated in an exciting game of flag football. To cheer and help these girls through massive competition, guys from both the junior and senior classes were chosen by the Powder Puff teams to be coaches and cheerleaders. All proceeds benefited the Charles M. Berry Scholarship Fund. As in all extra-curricular activities, the players, cheerleaders, and coaches had to pass to play! This year the Senior Psychos and the Jinnin Juniors squared off the popular tradition of Powder Puff football.

Student Council

Students Make The Difference

With so much going on at Paschal, it was sometimes hard to keep up with everything. At the beginning of the year, each second period class elected one represented one alternate from their class. This representative attended each student council meeting and then reported back to their class about what was going on in their school.

These meetings were led by the leadership committee and gave the representatives a chance to voice their opinion and vote on various matters concerning students and Paschal. Since the representatives were delegates from each grade level, student council was an important part of government at Paschal.

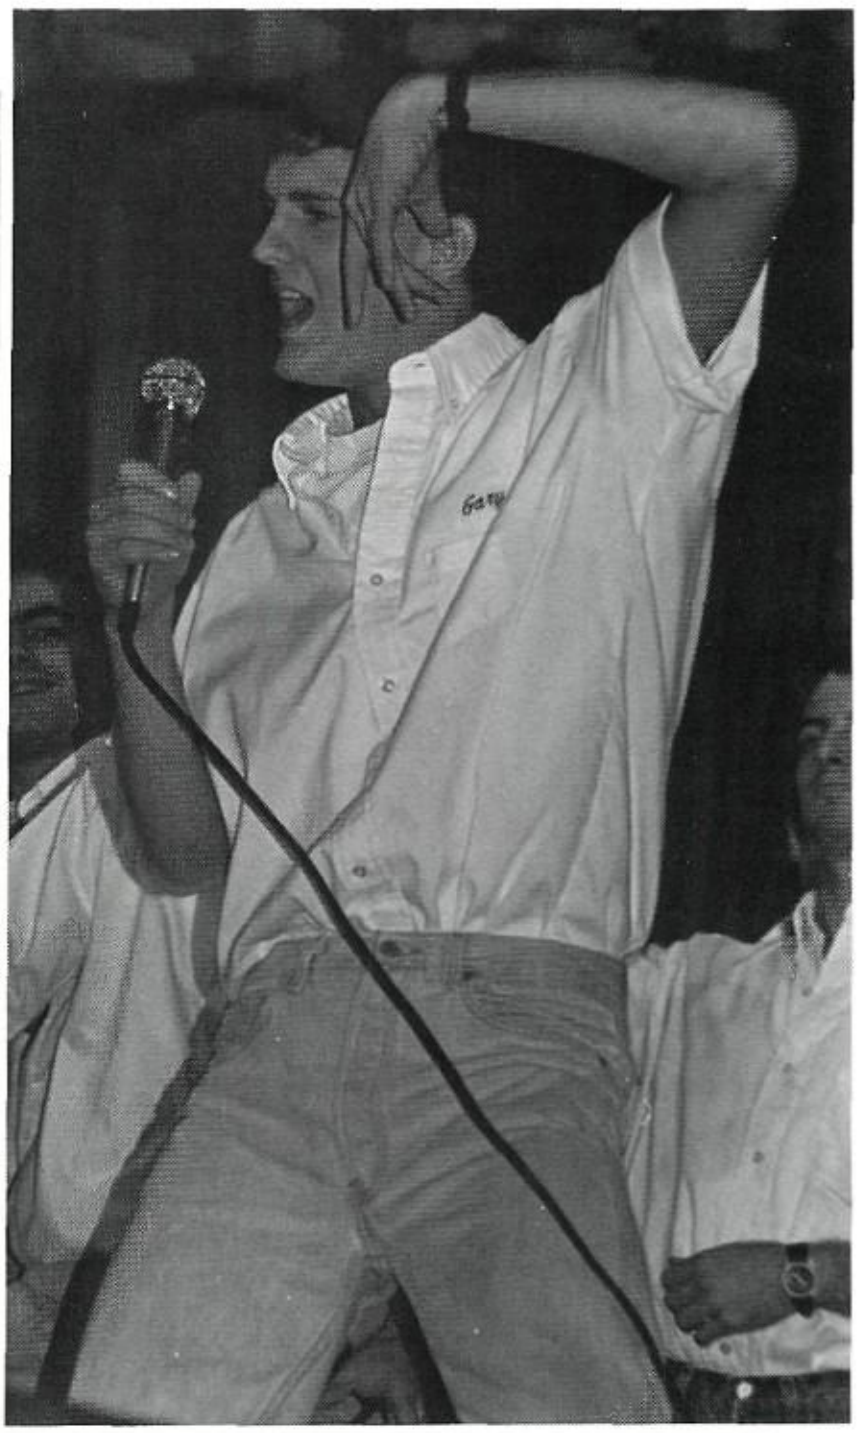
We're Pride

It was ten minutes before the first pep rally of the year. All the members of Panther Pride were called to the auditorium. We were so excited because we had worked hard that week to make this pep rally special. Wednesday we had our weekly meeting to discuss plans of what everyone had to do. One group made the awesome signs that hung in the auditorium. We were special. We were important to the school. We were the oldest. We were THE SENIORS!!!!!!

"Hip, hip hooray!" says Robbie Floyd, Ashlee Johnson, Sarah Fahy, Sally Elwood and Michael Conn during at an exciting pe rally.



"Who are we? We're pride!" shouts Gary Lewis during the senior rap session.

"Oh, my, we scored a touchdown!" says Paul Bierley to Amy Bawcom during a football game.

The National Honor Society was possibly one of the most difficult clubs to get into. It took much hard work and determination to maintain a 3.6 grade point average or higher. Those kids had to maintain that high G.P.A. throughout all four years at Paschal. Having the good grades is not all it took to be in the Honor Society. You had to also prove your maturity level by keeping your citizenship grades to E's and S's. There were no exceptions made if all the requirements were not met. So congratulations to all of those Seniors who kept up the grades and good luck to those Juniors who were inducted in February.

OAA - Exploring, Exciting

The Outdoor Adventure and Awareness class taught participants self-confidence and gave them more interest in the great outdoors. In addition to canoeing, rappeling, hiking, backpacking, and rock climbing, the students had to combine their efforts and work together to make their adventures successful. The OAA instructor, Mr. Bob Reed, not only allowed students to escape the traditional classroom setting for an hour a day, but also helped them to become more aware of nature and to appreciate it.

What does the Phythagorean Theorem have to do with Penta Club you ask? Well, all of the students in the Penta Club shared a big interest in math. To get to know each other, the Penta Club held their annual pizza party at Mama's in September. On May 16, 1988 the Math Awards Banquet was held to honor the outstanding students who excelled in the various types of math. Mrs. Conley summed up the year by saying, "This is our first Dowelless year, but the Penta Club still had an excellent one."

We Whiz, You Lose

This year's Whiz Quiz team was very successful. Every morning after a match, Mrs. Philp announced the winning results with enthusiasm. Whiz Quiz competed in two leagues, the Fort Worth League and the North Texas League. During the fall semester Whiz Quiz acquired a record of eight wins and zero losses in the Fort Worth League and three wins and one loss in the North Texas League. The Whiz Quiz team's success was attributed to each member showing a lot of enthusiasm and, of course, intelligence.

Colorful Cultural Combination

While walking down the halls this year, the cultural diversity of the student body became quite apparent. A conversation in fluent Spanish or Vietnamese could be heard, as could a native Texan asking one of the foreign exchange students what things were like back in Europe. In addition, members of all races and religious faiths were present, making for a very diverse student body. However, despite the wide variety of ethnic and cultural backgrounds from which students came, each and every one could proudly say, "I go to Paschal."

Spanish Club/ Spanish Honor Society

Spanish Club was an exciting organization for all of Paschal's Spanish speaking afficionados. They participated in many events from a Cinco de Mayo celebration to cultural events with the other foreign language clubs. All of the functions this year were very successful. It was a year muy bien.

The Spanish Honor Society was for advanced Spanish juniors and seniors who had taken Spanish at least four years and had maintained a B average. The Spanish Honor Society was a tremendous honor for those recognized, but these students' ability in Spanish was their greatest reward.

The 1987-88 Paschal Marching Band

Mr. Larry Harrison:
Director of Bands

Dedication And Pride

It was a hot, summer day when the Paschal Band met for the first time for the 1987-88 year. Everyone was excited to see each other. The band practiced diligently 5 days a week, 4 long hours a day for one month. "Left flank, right flank, about face, forward march." That's all you heard while new Drum-majors Holly Cox and Jeff Gonzales drilled new and old members.

The next month every Tuesday and Thursday was spent preparing the band's show for the upcoming contest. Finally the time arrived. It was October 5, 1987 at Farrington Field. Everyone was nervous and very frightened. "The next band to enter the field of competition: Paschal High School." The band performed ver well and received a division one, which is superior top rating.

The band also participated in the UI Marching Contest, TCU Homecomin Parade, The Christmas Parade of Light The Stock Show Parade, The 200th Ann versary of the Constitution Downtown an many other concerts throughout the city Holly Cox, one of the Drum Major summed up the year by saying, "Eve though the band went through many toug challenges this year we overcame them. believe the 1987-88 year was truly a grow ing time for the band and it will be stron ger in years to come!"

Oh Say Can You Sing

Under the direction of Mr. Larry Harrison, the 87-88 choir worked long and hard all year. They shared their talent at various places, such as Texas Wesleyan college during a city-wide festival. Also, to show their bright Christmas cheer they performed at the new Fort Worth Town Center Mall. In addition, the all city contest was a high point of the year in March. This year, individuals had the opportunity to sing in the all-city honors chorus. The choir consisted of the best choir members in the city of Fort Worth. Overall, the Paschal choir proved to be a smash this year.

EXTRA! EXTRA!

The Pantherette is Paschal's renowned newspaper that is produced once a month by the Pantherette staff. The members of the Pantherette staff are Robin Denton, editor; Sally Elwood, Rob Robinson, assistant editors; Erin Clinard, feature editor; Brian Thomas, advertising manager; Kyle Henry, news editor Chris Tyler, entertainment; John Mark Williams, sports; Debbie Reeves, photographer; Jamie Girouard, business manager and David Bock, graphics. The publication is paid for through advertisements from different establishments collected by Brian Thomas and others.

The staffers learned to use journalistic skills as well as computer skills. They did their own type setting and layouts on the Mac Plus computer. By using a program called "Page Maker" they were able to accomplish nearly a perfect paper.

When asked about the Pantherette and her job, Robin Denton, senior, editor, said, "It's a lot of hard work. Everyone on staff works together and that makes it more enjoyable. It makes my job a lot easier." Sally Elwood, senior, co-editor, summed up the Pantherette by saying, "I like the Pantherette because I can put my own ideas into it, and it is a lot of fun. It also takes motivation and a lot of work."

WRITE ON!!

"It flows well." "Good description!" "That drew me out." "It was more like an essay than a short story." Confused? These are the statements you would have heard if you had walked into the creative writing class, taught by Mr. "Ranger Bob" Reed. This talented group wrote four poems, three short stories and a play during the first semester. Then they organized the "Vignette" literary magazine the second semester.

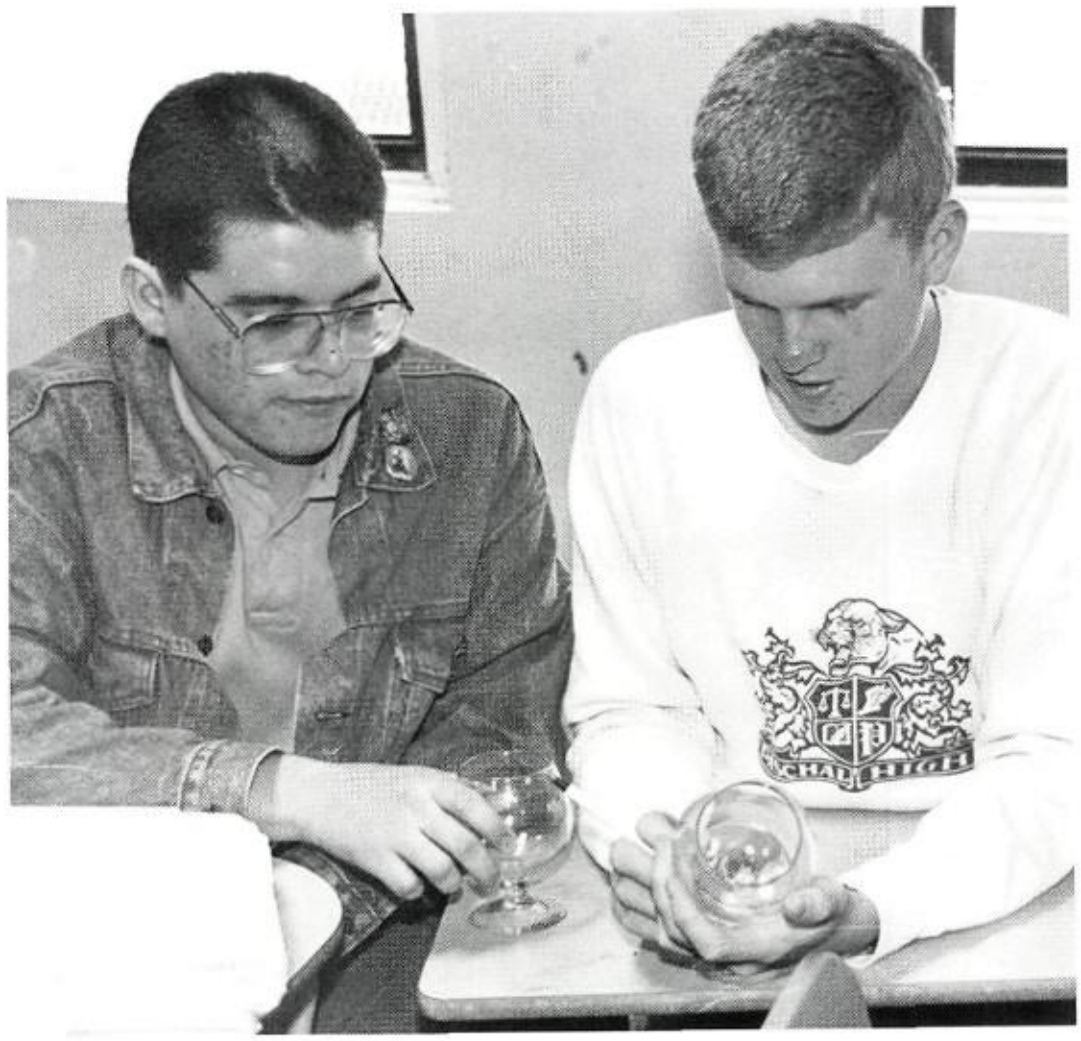
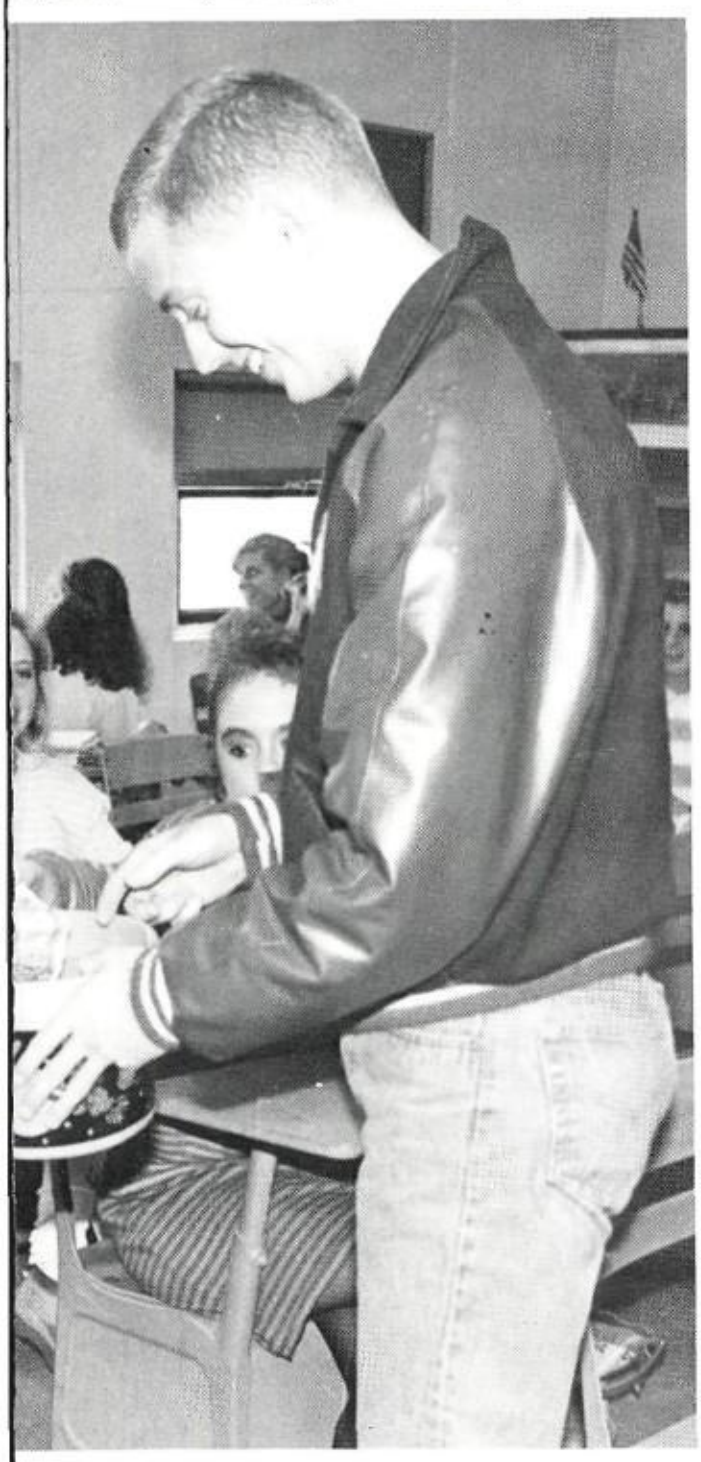
Kelly Greene is daydreaming about what her prom dress will look like.



Chris Brants tries to convince his friend which brandy sniffer to choose.



Kevin Dickson looks at the green and grins.

Senior Activities was a hand picked English class that represented senior class, that planned prom and did the required English Curriculum. This group moved at a steady pace, starting with magazine sales to help cut the price of the dinner dance. They chose the menu, the decorations, the band, organized the slide show and the clever "remember whens". Without this group, what would prom be?

"Senior Activities was alot of hard work because Cissy and I has to count all of the money for magazine sales." - Sally Elwood.

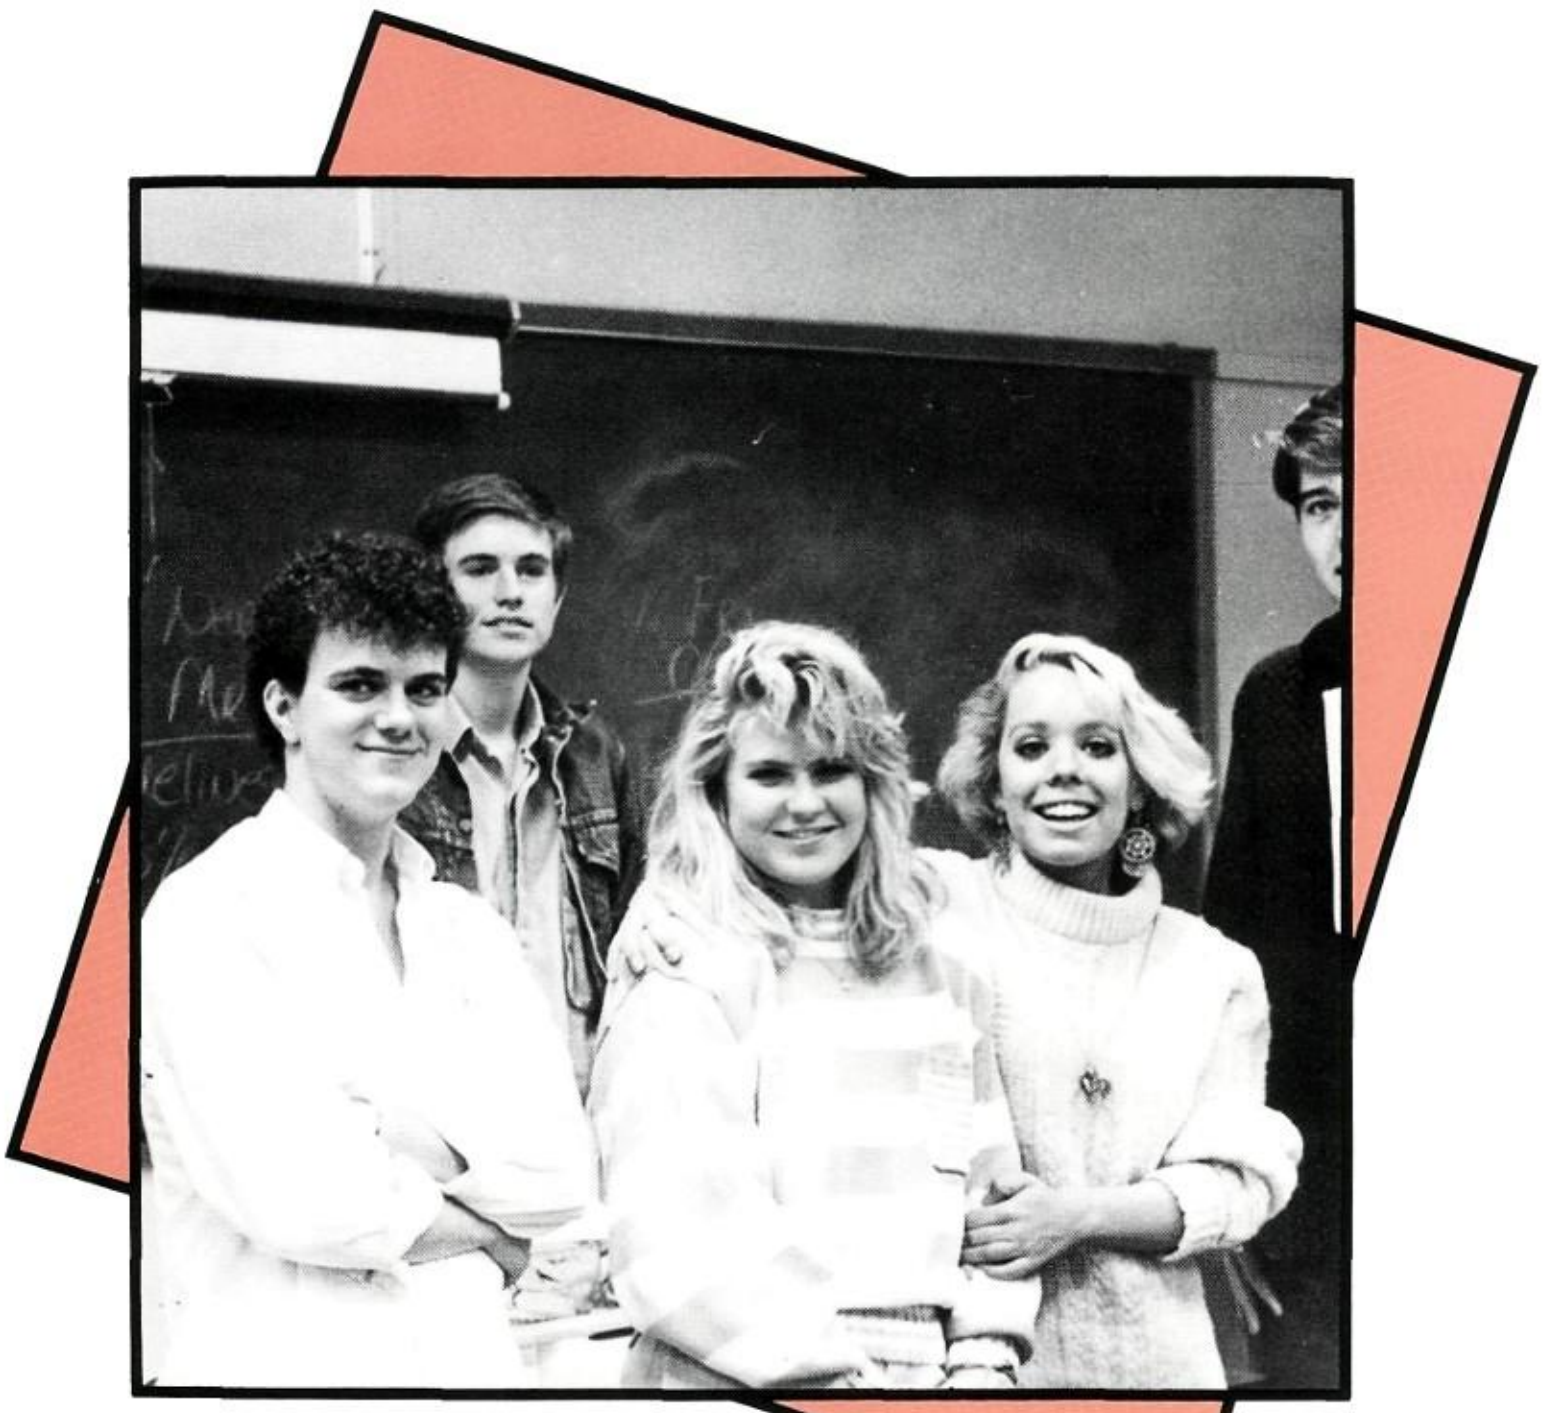
PEOPLE

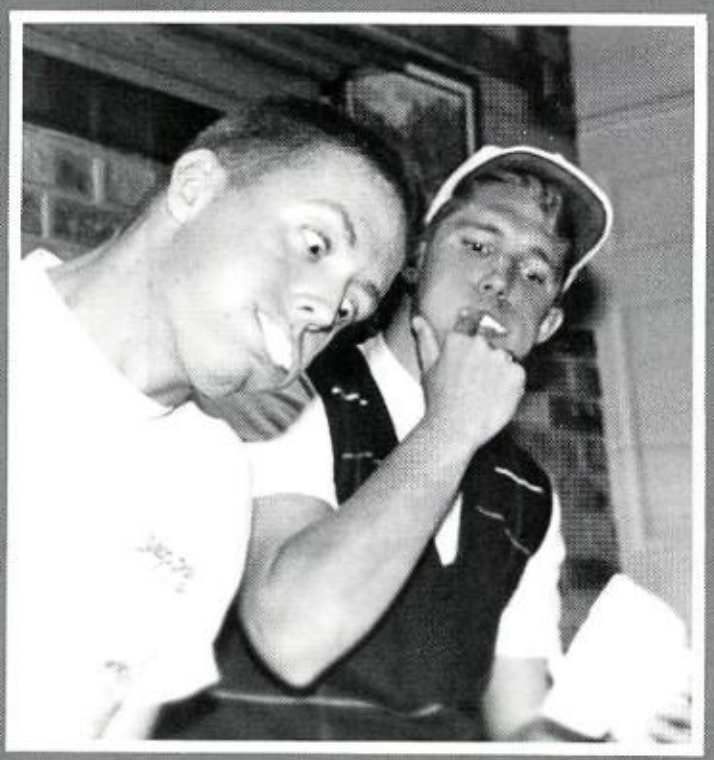


INDIVIDUAL FACES

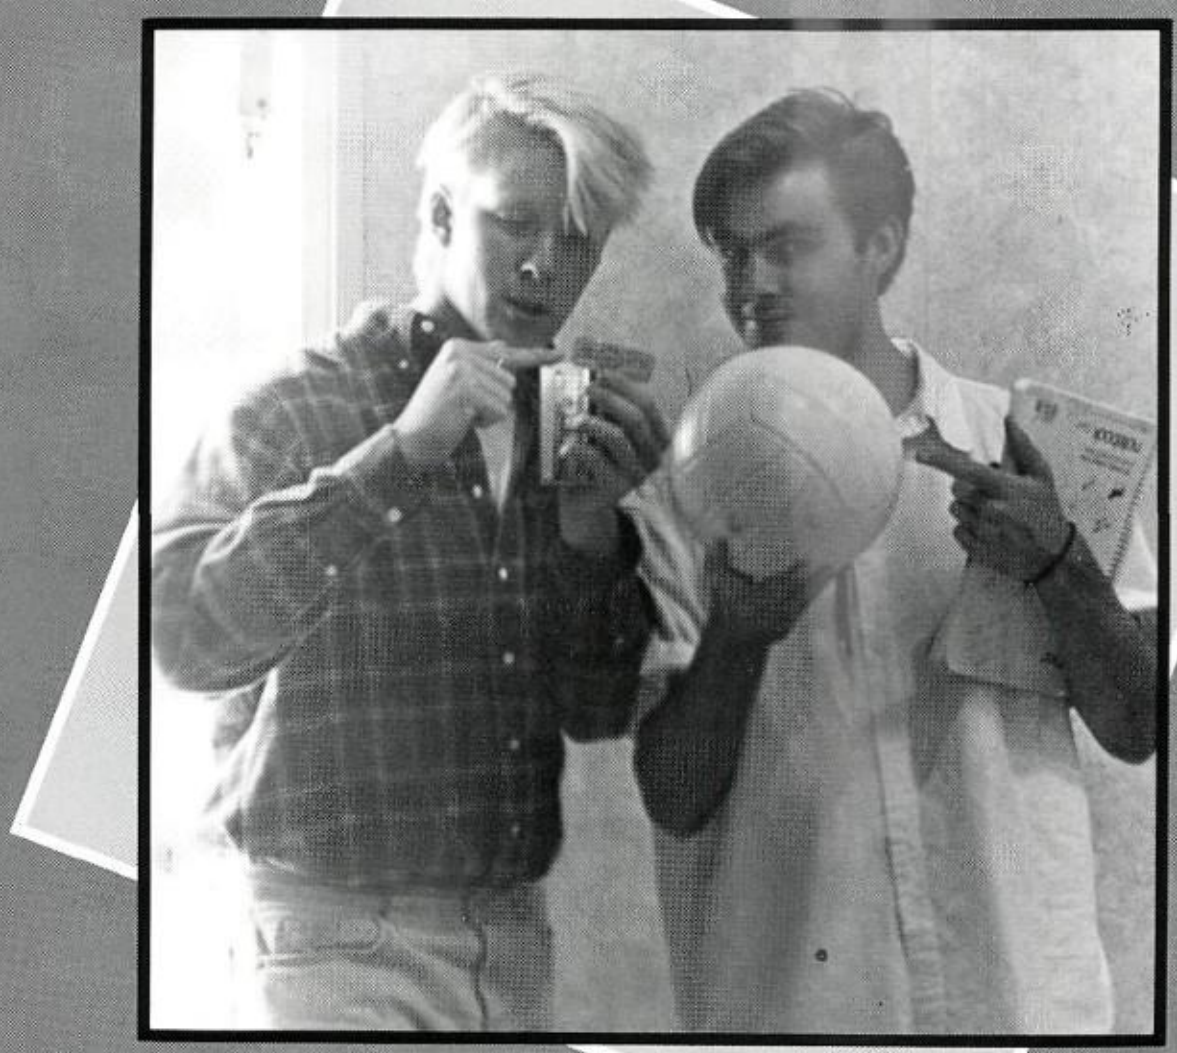
Seniors Strut Their Stuff!

"Day-O! Daylight come and I want to go home!" sing Debbie Llaca and Georgette Lopez-Aguado, as they jam to the Banana Boat Song.

The moment we anticipated since we first walked through the big doors of Paschal had arrived. We were finally seniors, the leaders of the school. So much spirit was displayed as the seniors participated in Panther Pride, Senior Activities and selling magazines, along with "legally" going off campus for lunch. Being seniors we had many responsibilities to take care of concerning our future, such as college applications to complete, tests to take, and jobs to find. At the close of our senior year it was time for the class of 1988 to move on to another chapter of our lives.



Kevin Dickson and Layne Kasper display the finer points of eating marshmallows.



"We're Panther Pride and there's no debate, we're the best there is, the Class of '88!" sing Wendy Schuster, Kindell Foley, and Tricia Cannady.

What was your most embarrassing moment while at Paschal?

"When I had to go out and rescue my car from a bunch of senior guys who were picking it up and moving it out of the way in the parking lot."

"When I was crossing Forest Park in the morning and the whole school was in the front foyer. I slipped on the street and fell on my behind in front of everyone!"

"Walking into a senior class by accident when I was a freshman."

"When I stepped in a trash can in the front of class and fell and ripped my shirt."

"When I fell on the football field during a half-time performance with everybody watching."

Trey Shanks thinks Melissa Petteway is out of place as he heads for the slopes, and she heads for the Ranch in a skit for Mrs. Carter's class.

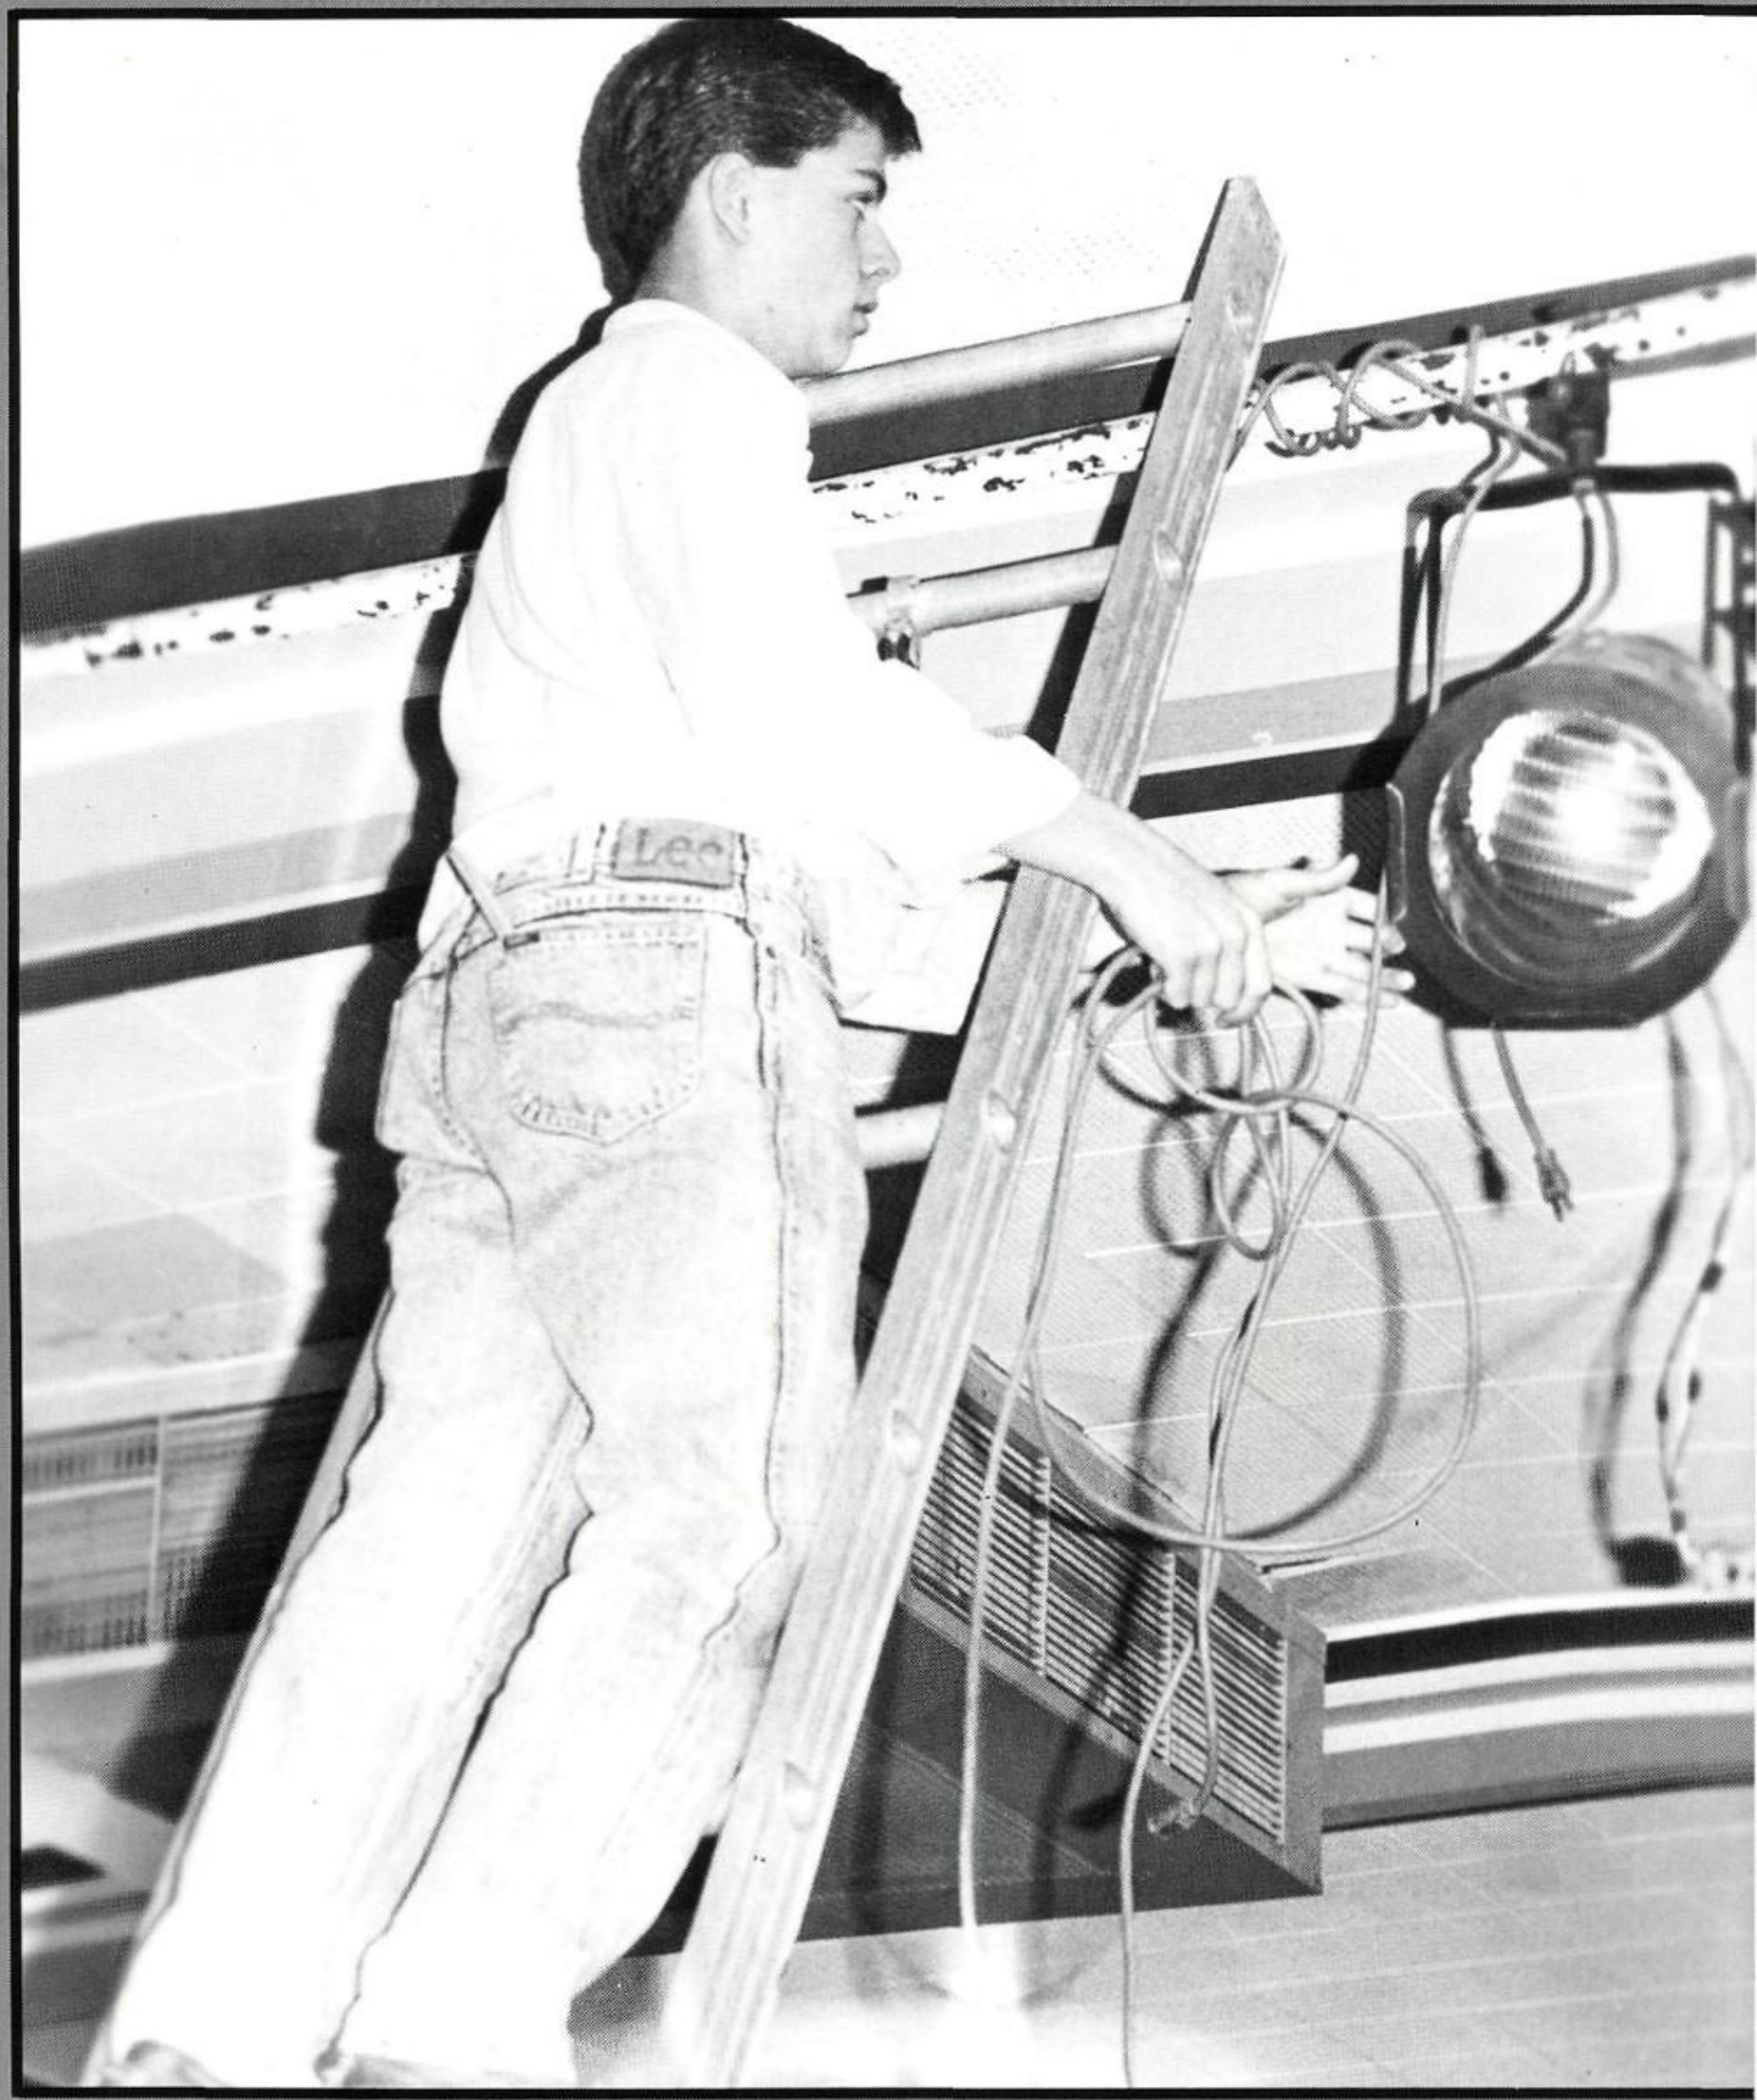
Juniors Of '89 Are Dynamite!



Bobby Filarowicz hopes his Lee jeans look good in the spotlight.

The Juniors of '89 had shown much enthusiasm this year. The major accomplishment they gained was the organization of the Junior Panthers. They were a group of juniors that supported PHS by displaying spirit and enthusiasm. It was the group that sat in the middle section and wore their purple sweatshirts with Junior Panthers splashed across the front. This year was a special year for the Juniors.

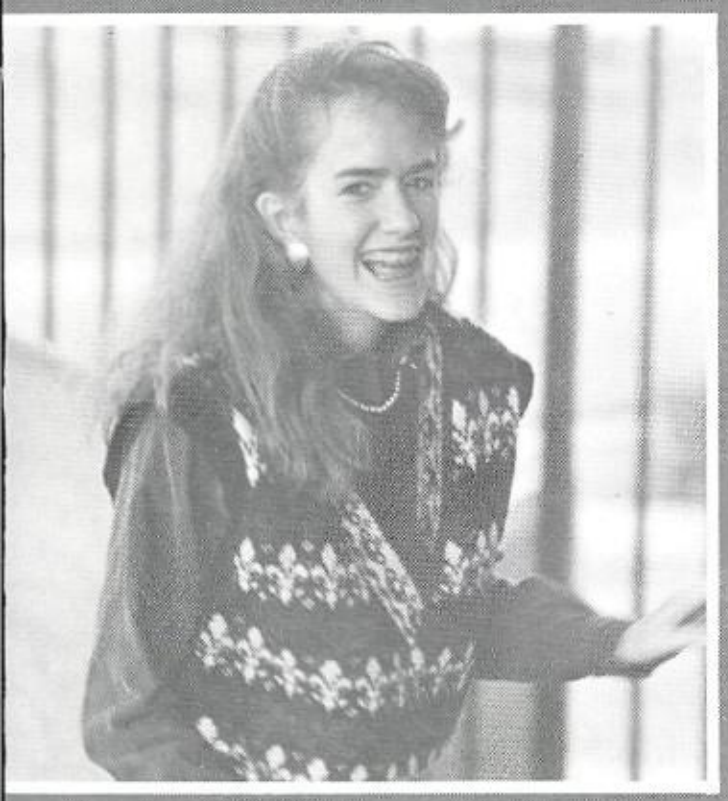
Survival

"We freshmen are experts on McDonald Land slides!" Jennifer Rosenfield and Amy Thomas enjoy their weekend with an afternoon at McDonald's.

For the Freshman, this year was a contest of "Survival of the Fittest". The confusion seemed never ending.

Freshmen realized that the key to survival was participation. They proved this by participating in Howdy Week, the Homecoming skit, Leadership Committee elections, and they even won the victory competition at a pep rally. Through the confusion of their first year in high school, the Freshmen showed traits that expressed their desire to survive in the high school life.

In spite of all the taunts and teases, the Freshmen held their heads high and displayed genuine pride. They proved that they were fit to survive.



"I am so happy to be a freshman!" says Stacey McCarrol.

Rule #2
2. Do not bring your lunchbox to school no matter how cute it is. You will be laughed at and you will feel stupid. Remember . . . this is not middle school.

Rule #3
3. Do not ask an upper classman for directions. He will lead you the wrong way. Most likely, you will end up in the basement or on the opposite side of the school from where you are supposed to be.

Unsurpassed Times

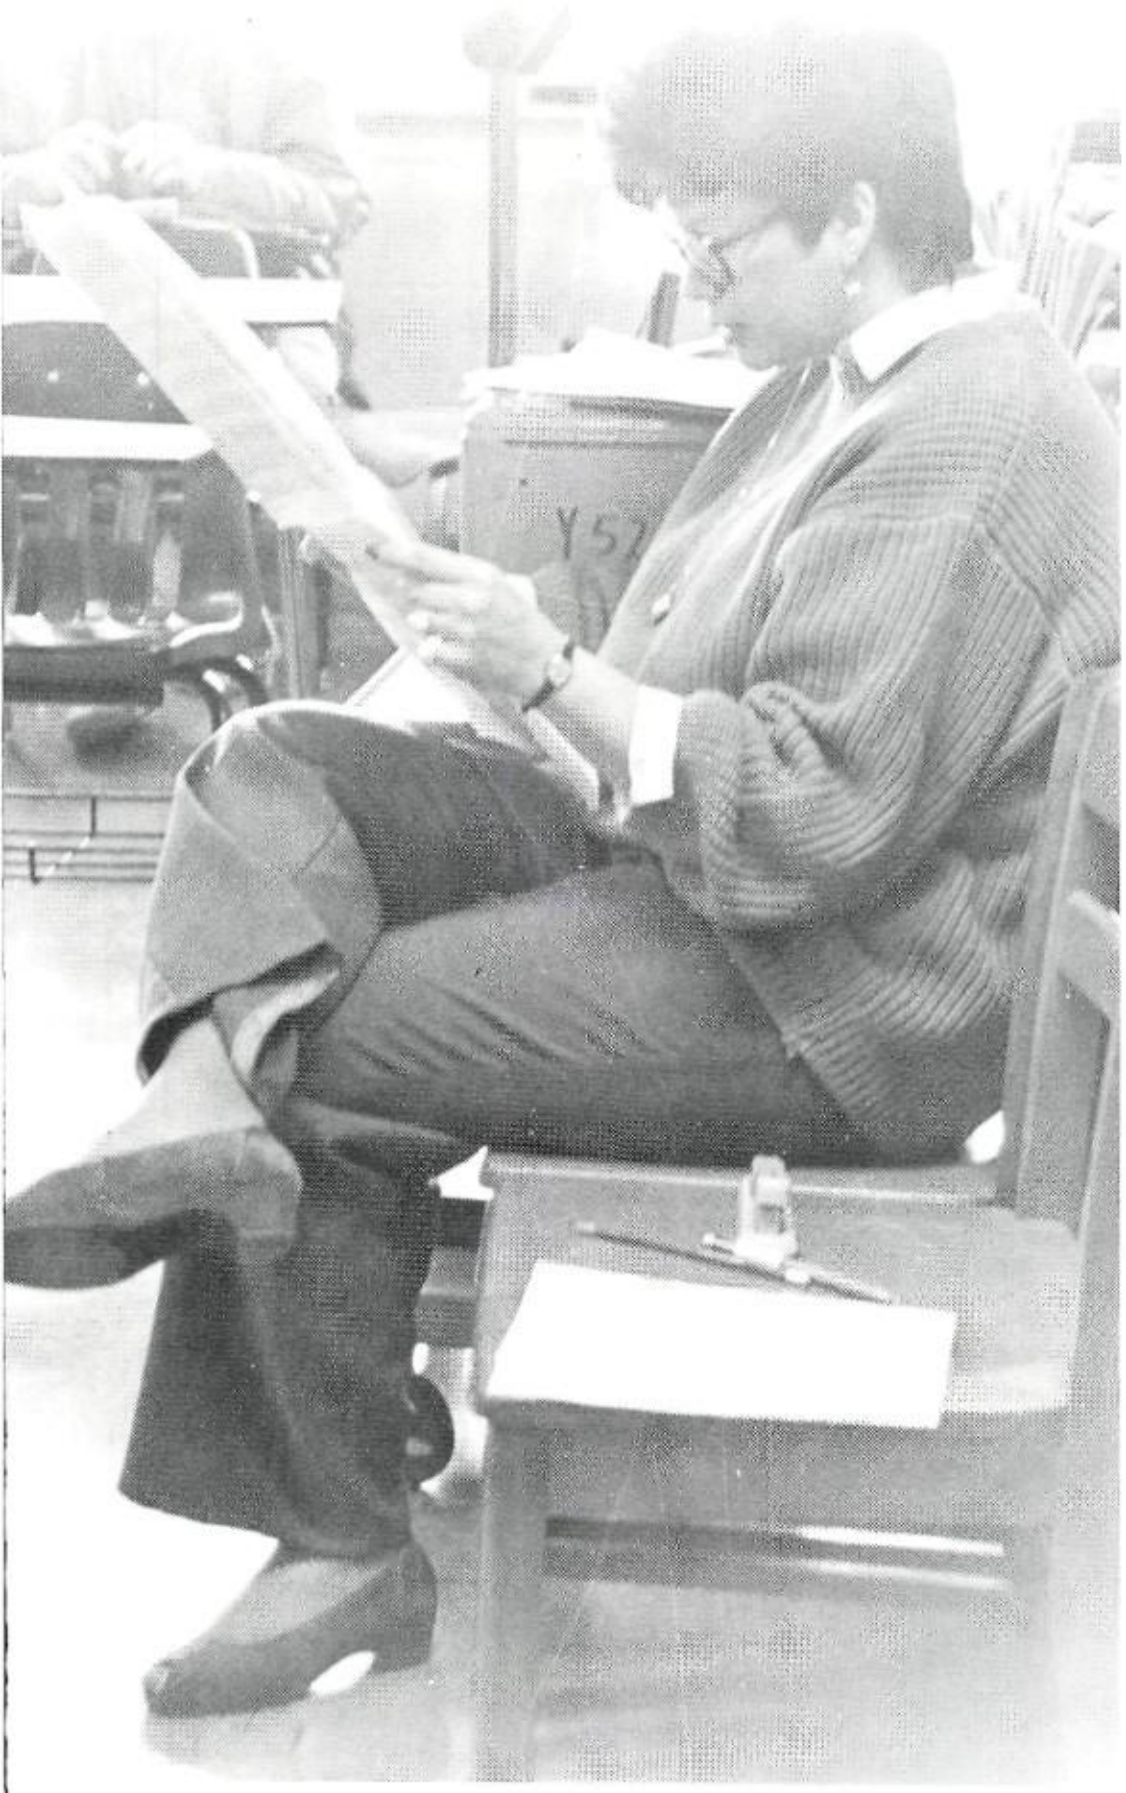
Paschal has always had an outstanding faculty and staff. Many teachers, besides doing their usual great job, go above and beyond the call of duty. Besides sponsoring clubs and organizations, some come early and stay late to tutor students who need extra help. Some sponsor such activities as spirit groups, publications and trips to places such as Arkansas, Washington, D.C. and Puerto Vallarta. Many Saturdays you can find teachers at school helping out with the SAT/PSAT tutoring. Members of the staff are the backbone of such groups as Natural Helpers, Whiz Quiz and, of course, Paschal's Essential High School. The behind-the-scenes people are just as important. Our custodians, campus monitors and cafeteria workers all help to keep the school running smoothly.

"Mrs. Brooke, let's see how long we can keep our eyes closed!" say two PTA members.

Mrs. Grant, your grade sheets were due two days ago!

Mrs. Vick shows a confused Pete Abbemonte how to add 2+2.

Mrs. Garland makes funny pictures with her fingers on the overhead.



Mrs. Camp, did you forget all of your Spanish over Christmas break?

Mrs. Welch has never seen a student try to run his tongue through a typewriter.

Faculty '87-'88

Mr. Radford Gregg, Principal

Mr. Radford Gregg, the principal
Paschal, was born here in Fort Worth
June 28th, 1934. He taught math and w a consultant in math with Fort Wor schools previously. Before his transfer Paschal High School he was the princip of McLean Middle School. His favor color is brown and his favorite food is p terhouse steak. He enjoyed the movie T
Searchers with John Wayne and the bo
Call of the Wild by John Steinbeck. This Mr. Gregg's fifth year at Paschal and favorite thing about being principal is "b ing able to congratulate students for hi achievements in extra curricular acti ties." He also enjoys watching stude mature, study and solve their problems

Mr. Gregg discusses a memo with his secretary, Mrs. Eloise Longoria.

"And for 25 cents, you can buy 2 pencils!" Mr. Gregg says to Jal Robinson.

Faculty

You mean to tell me that my paycheck is buried under all this stuff?" asks Mr. King.

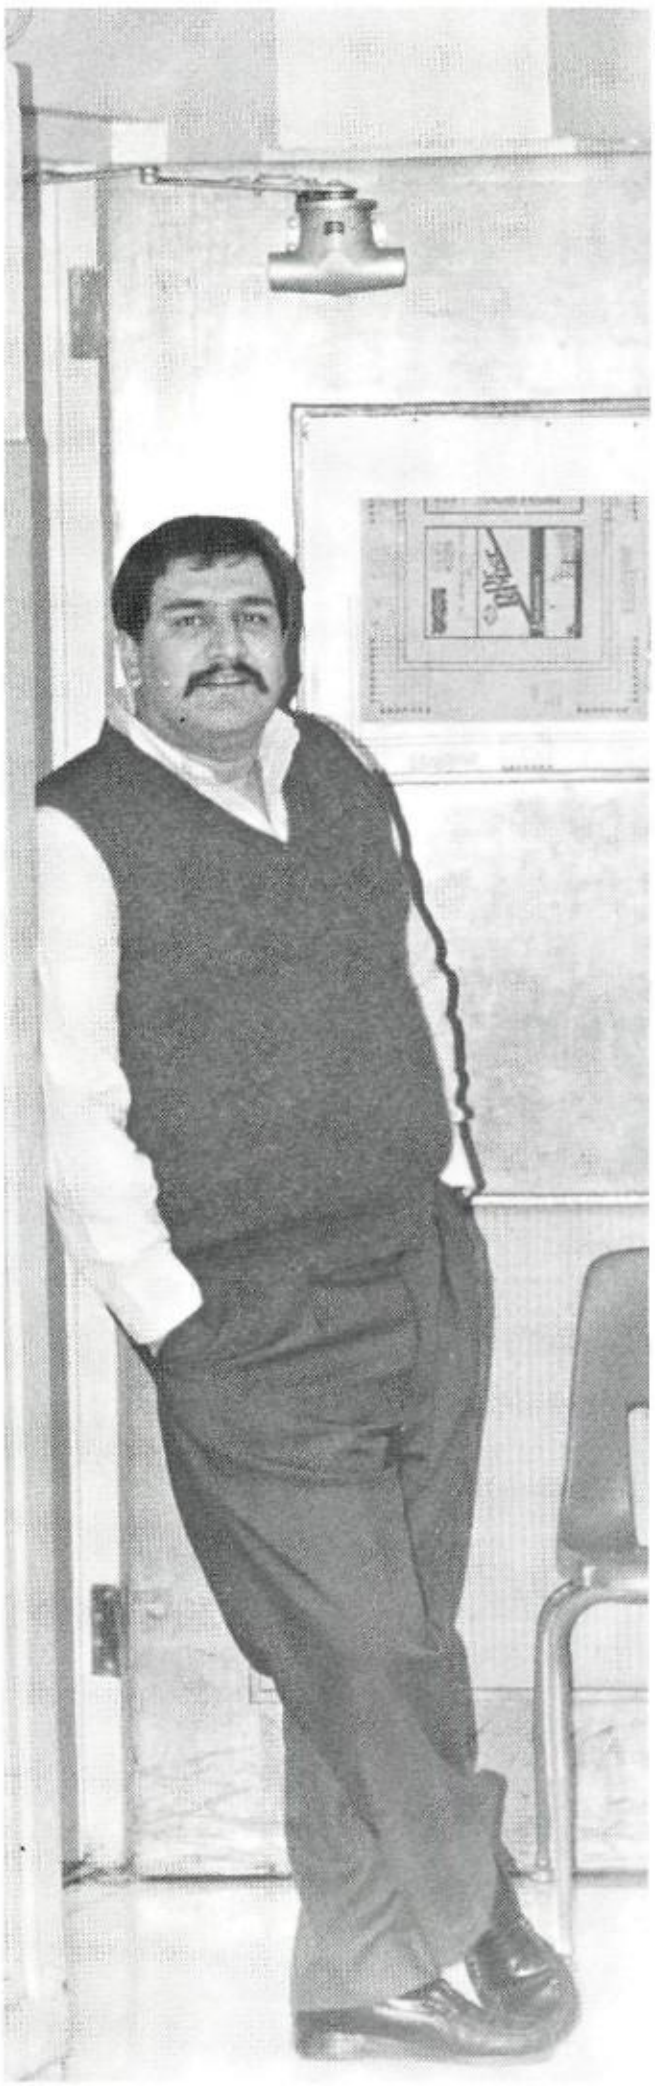
Mr. Barnes laughs at the thought of working late.

Mrs. Wood itemizes her tax forms with a smile.

We asked the vice-principals of P.H.S., Mrs. Coultas, Mrs. Wood, Mr. King, Mr. Torres and Mr. Barnes, what the most rewarding part of their job was. Mrs. Coultas enjoys "being a part of young people at Paschal", while Mrs. Wood is happy to see just a little bit of success when you've finally gotten through to a student." Mr. King tries to "encourage students to achieve potential" and he also tries to motivate them. Mr. Torres favorite part about being a P.H.S. vice-principal is "the relationships that develop from working with different people on a day to day basis." Mr. Barnes likes "being able to work with a student and watch the student mature and become a responsible individual." Basically, it's easy to tell that our vice-principals goals are in our best interest!

"Sing at the P.T.A. meeting tonight? Surely, you jest!" exclaims Mrs. Coultas.

"I enjoy looking at the dictionary because of the pretty pictures!" admits Mr. Torres.

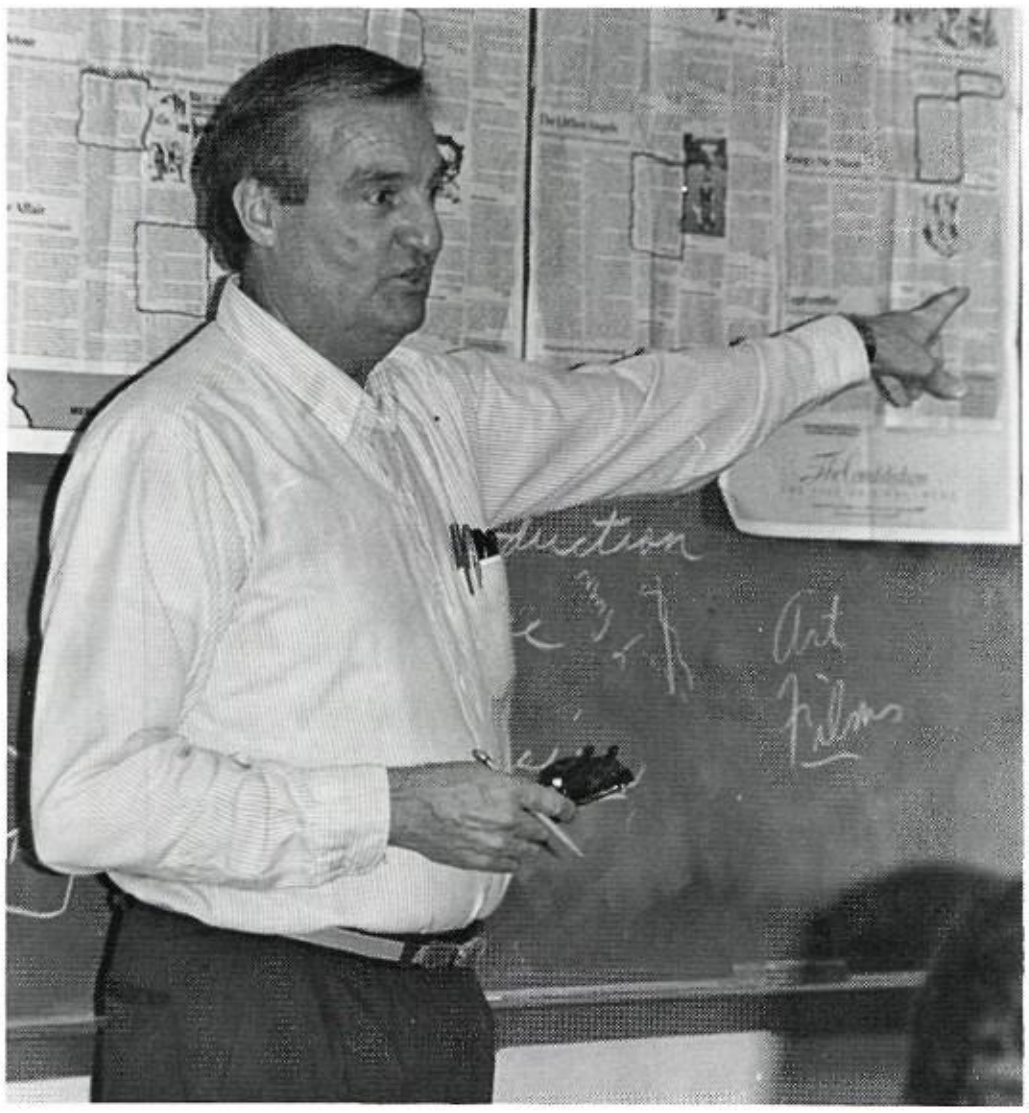


Mr. Anguiano tries to look natural while having his picture taken.

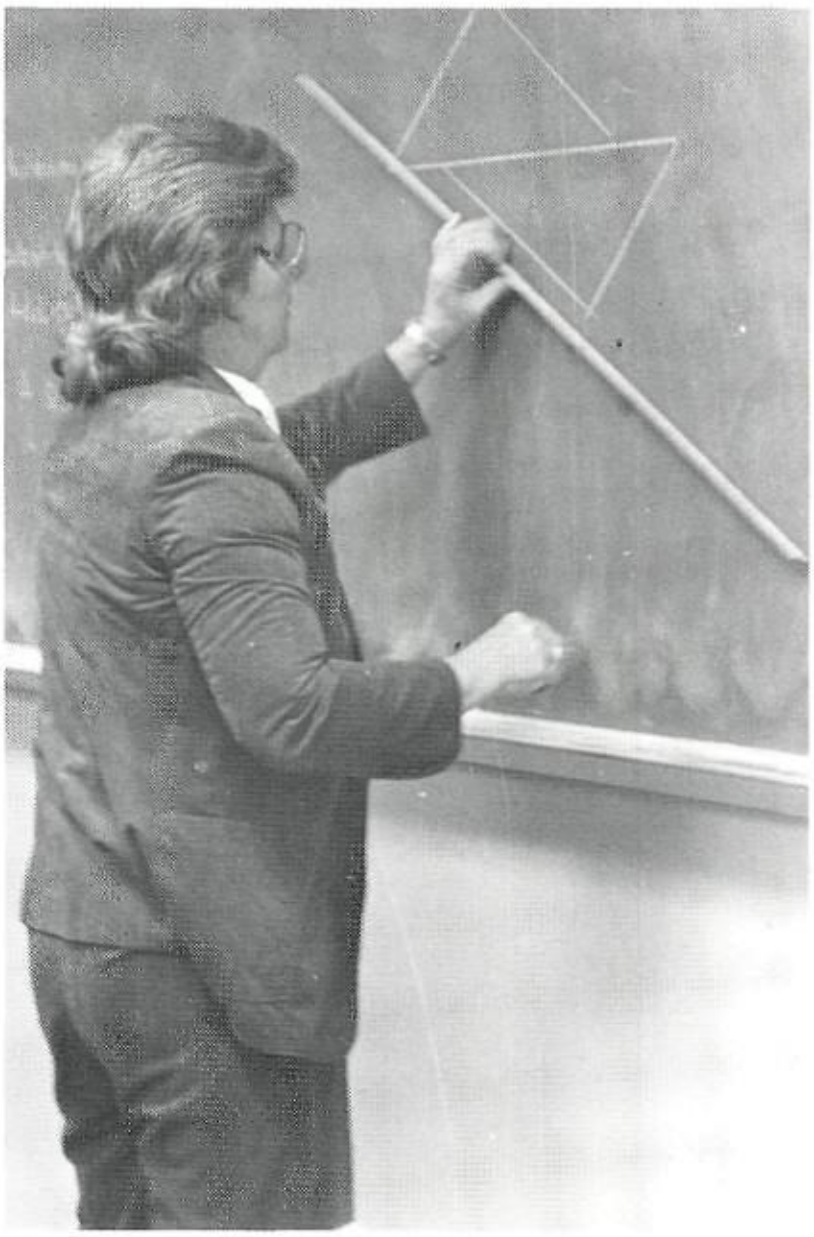
"Now, what did you say your name was?" asks Mr. Craft.

"And students think they have it hard during finals!" thinks Mrs. Leonhardt.

Faculty '87-'88



"The Stock Market crashed on . . . anyone? Anyone?" Mr. Bennett asks.

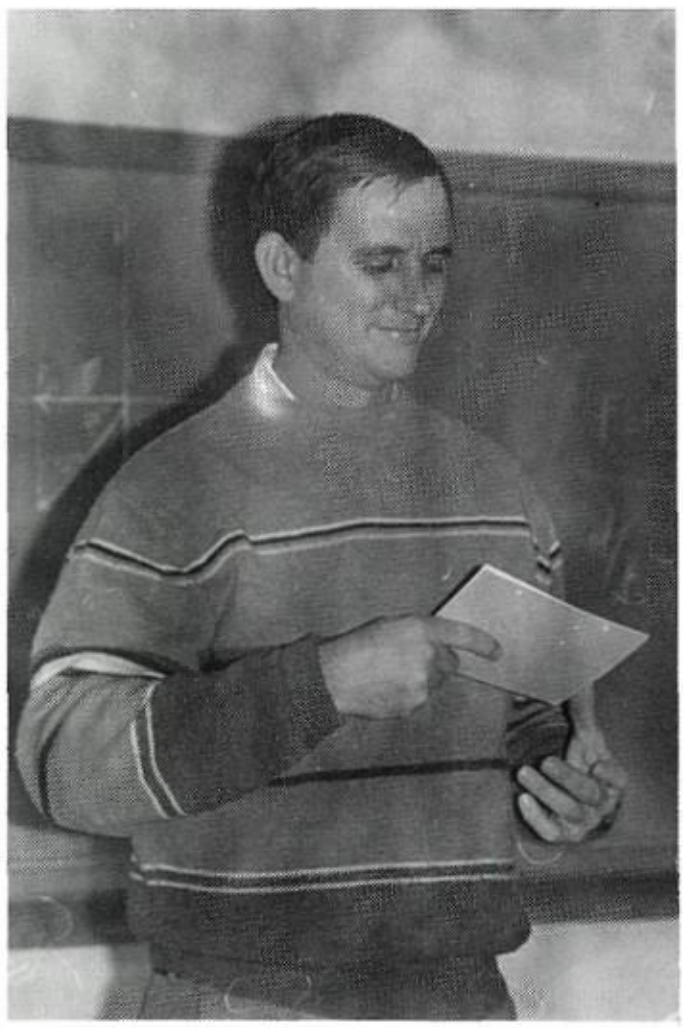


Mrs. Conley works to see how many triangles she can fit on the chalkboard.

"You want to take under water basket weaving?" giggles Mrs. Headrick.

Mrs. Barnes explains the big picture.

"Who are you? Get to class!" authorizes Mr. Torres.



"Question #2: Define 'universe'. Give two examples," grin
Mr. Bretthauer.

Faculty

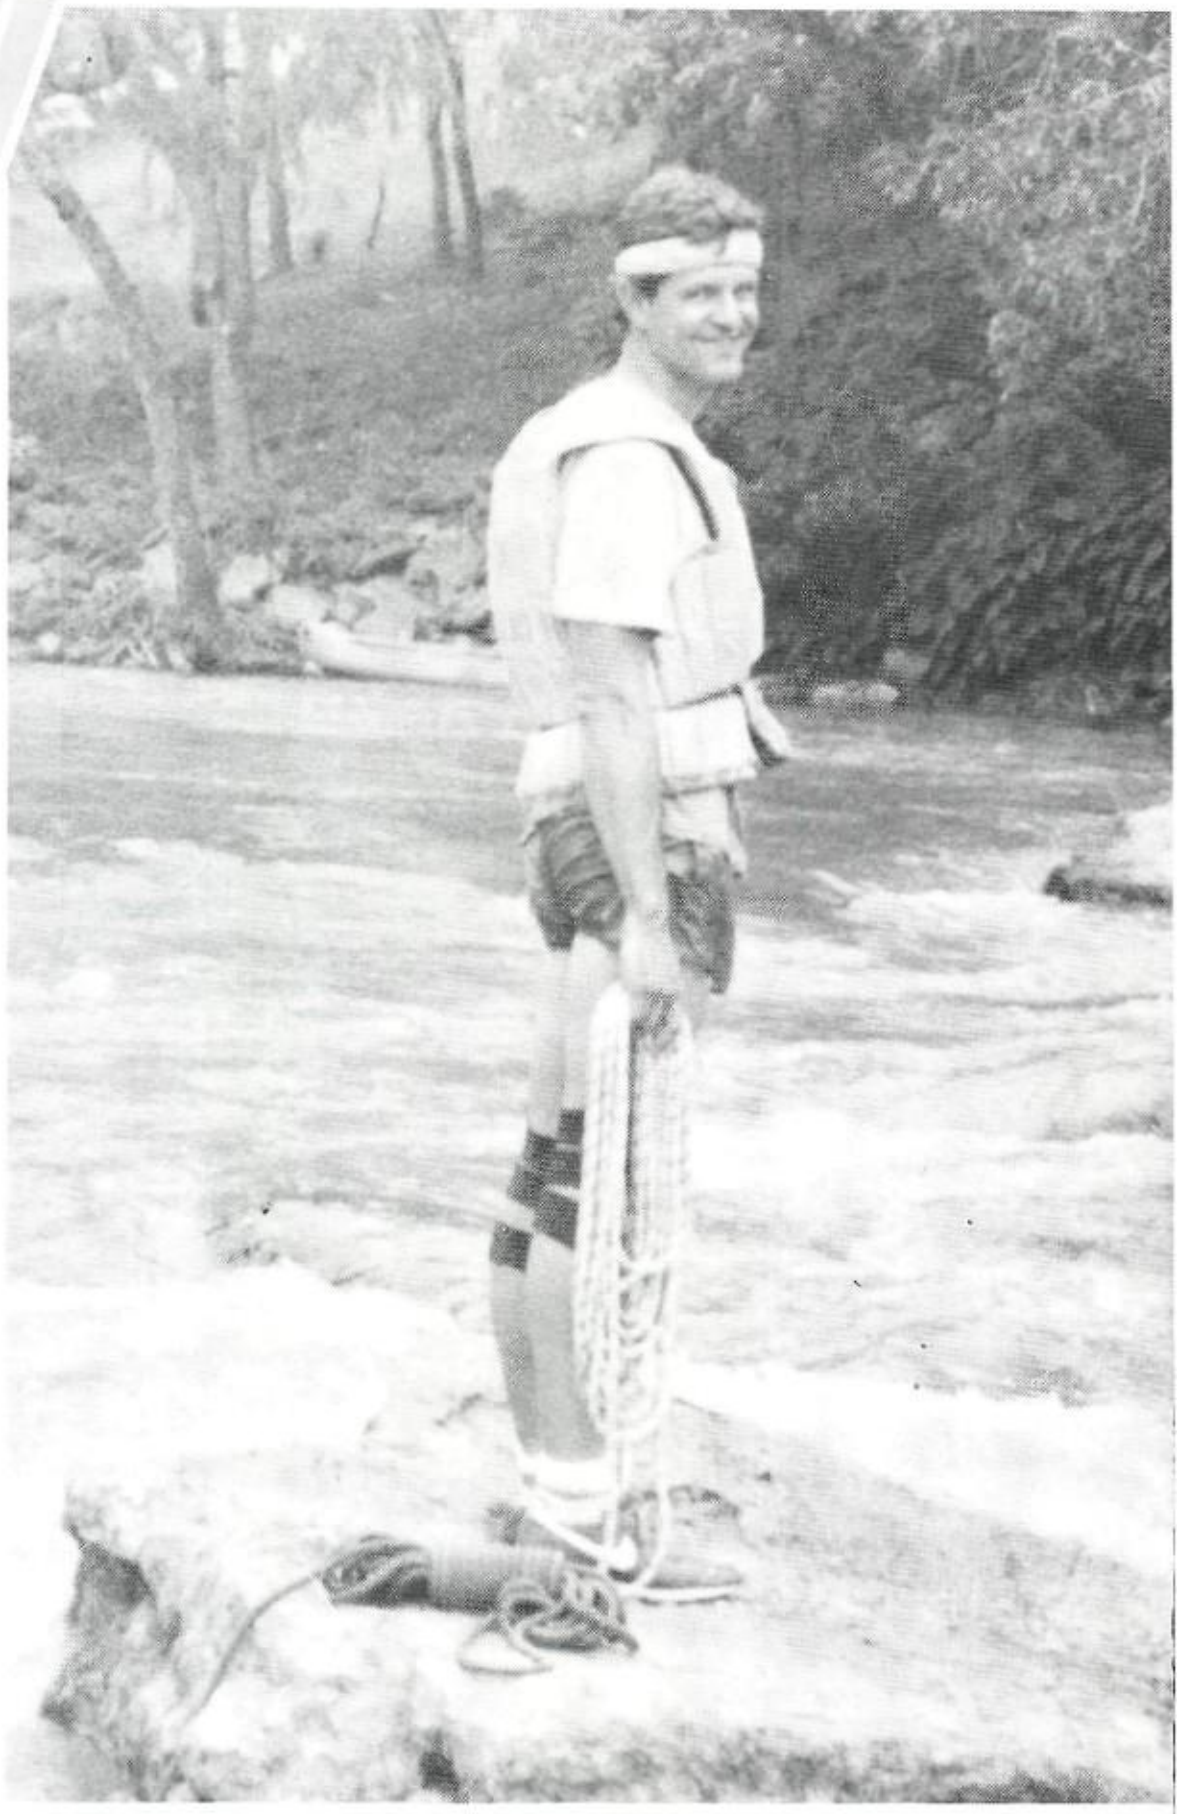
Mrs. Longoria decides she'd rather be fishing.

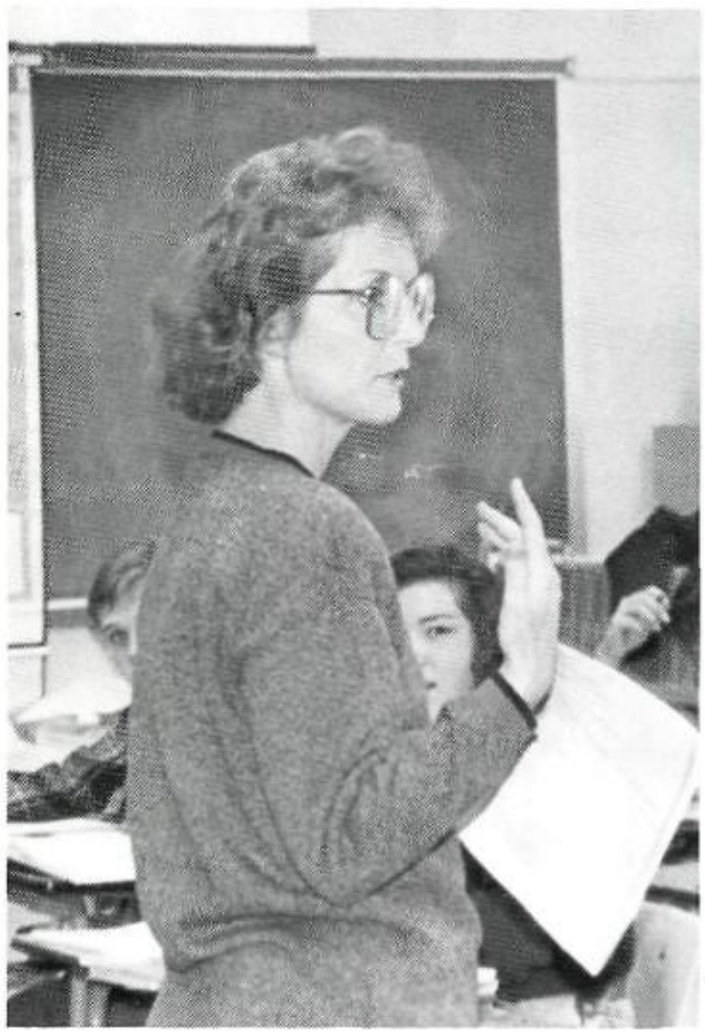
Mrs. Bott receives positive karma rays from her overhead projector.

Left: Mrs. Prior learns that it is almost three o'clock.

Mrs. Anderson explains to the caller that she already has a subscription to Rolling Stone, thank you.

"Stop in the name of love," sings home-making teacher Mrs. Kathi Davidson.

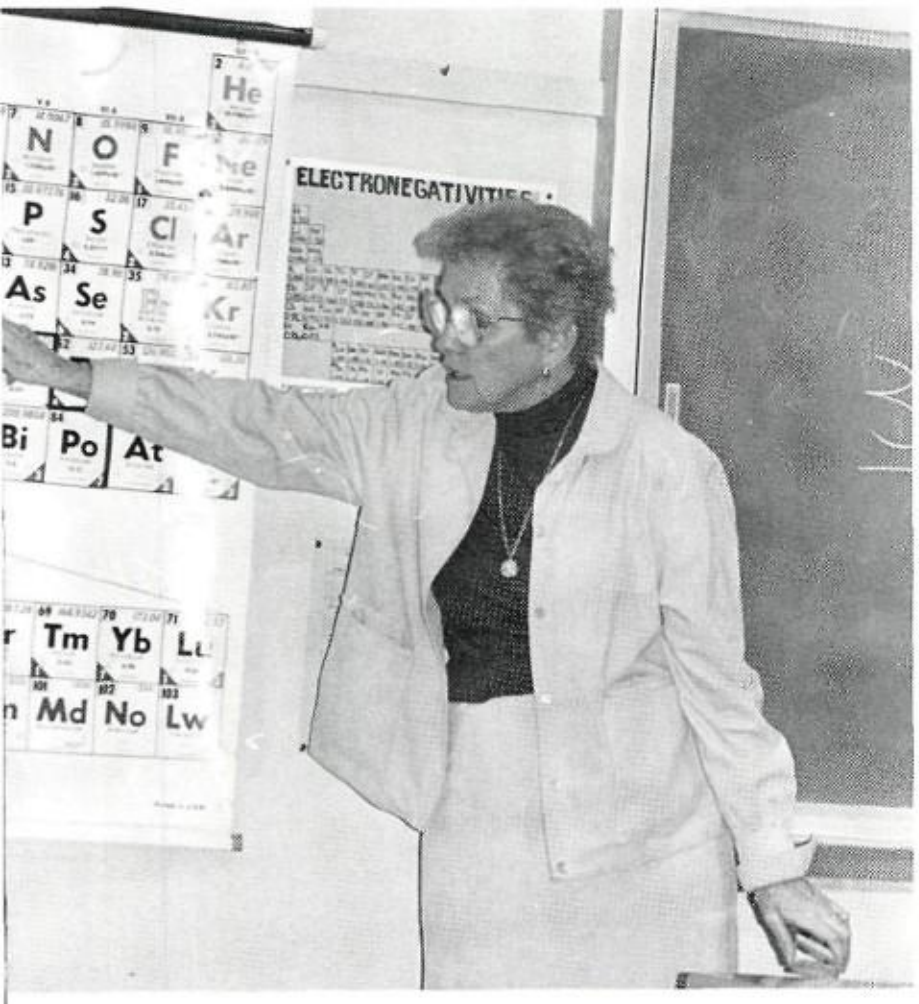




"I am not up here for my health," says history teacher Mrs. Marge Philp.

"You want me to read your short story now?" implores Mr. Bob Reed.

'87 - '88 Faculty



You were to know these chemical symbols by yesterday," Mrs. Mary Strasheim ectures.

"This isn't going in the annual, is it?" asks algebra teacher Mr. Billy Hasenkamp.

Biology teacher Mr. Herb Stephens demonstrates the size of a paramesium.

Typing teacher Mrs. LaTonne Enright looks on at all the fingers stuck in the typewriters.

The Boys Of Summer - Varsity Baseball

When the grass turned green and the birds began to sing everyone knew that it was time for Paschal's boys of summer, the Varsity Baseball team, to take the field. Under the leadership of a new coach, Coach Jimmy Walker, the Panthers took on a new look of excitement and youth. Only two starters from the 1987 season returned for Paschal, pitcher, Michael Peck and all-district infielder, Layne Kasper. Peck and Kasper both provided strong leadership and experience, along with pitcher/outfielder, Manuel Flores and pitcher/first baseman Bryan Burleson.

Coach Walker had to choose from last year's J.V. team for most of his other positions, but he had a good group to choose from. Outfielder, Greg Smith gave the team speed on the basepaths while Jerry Nelson, second baseman, helped on defense. Brad Fricks handled the catching duties behind the plate. The best thing about the varsity team was the amount of fun each player had, whether in practice or in games. That's what America's game is all about.

Greg "The Gazelle" Smith leads off with a single.

Coach's Quips

Here are a few of Coach Jimmy Walker's sayings and what they mean:

"Hacienda time!" - practice is over, go home.

"Posich" (po-zich) - take your position

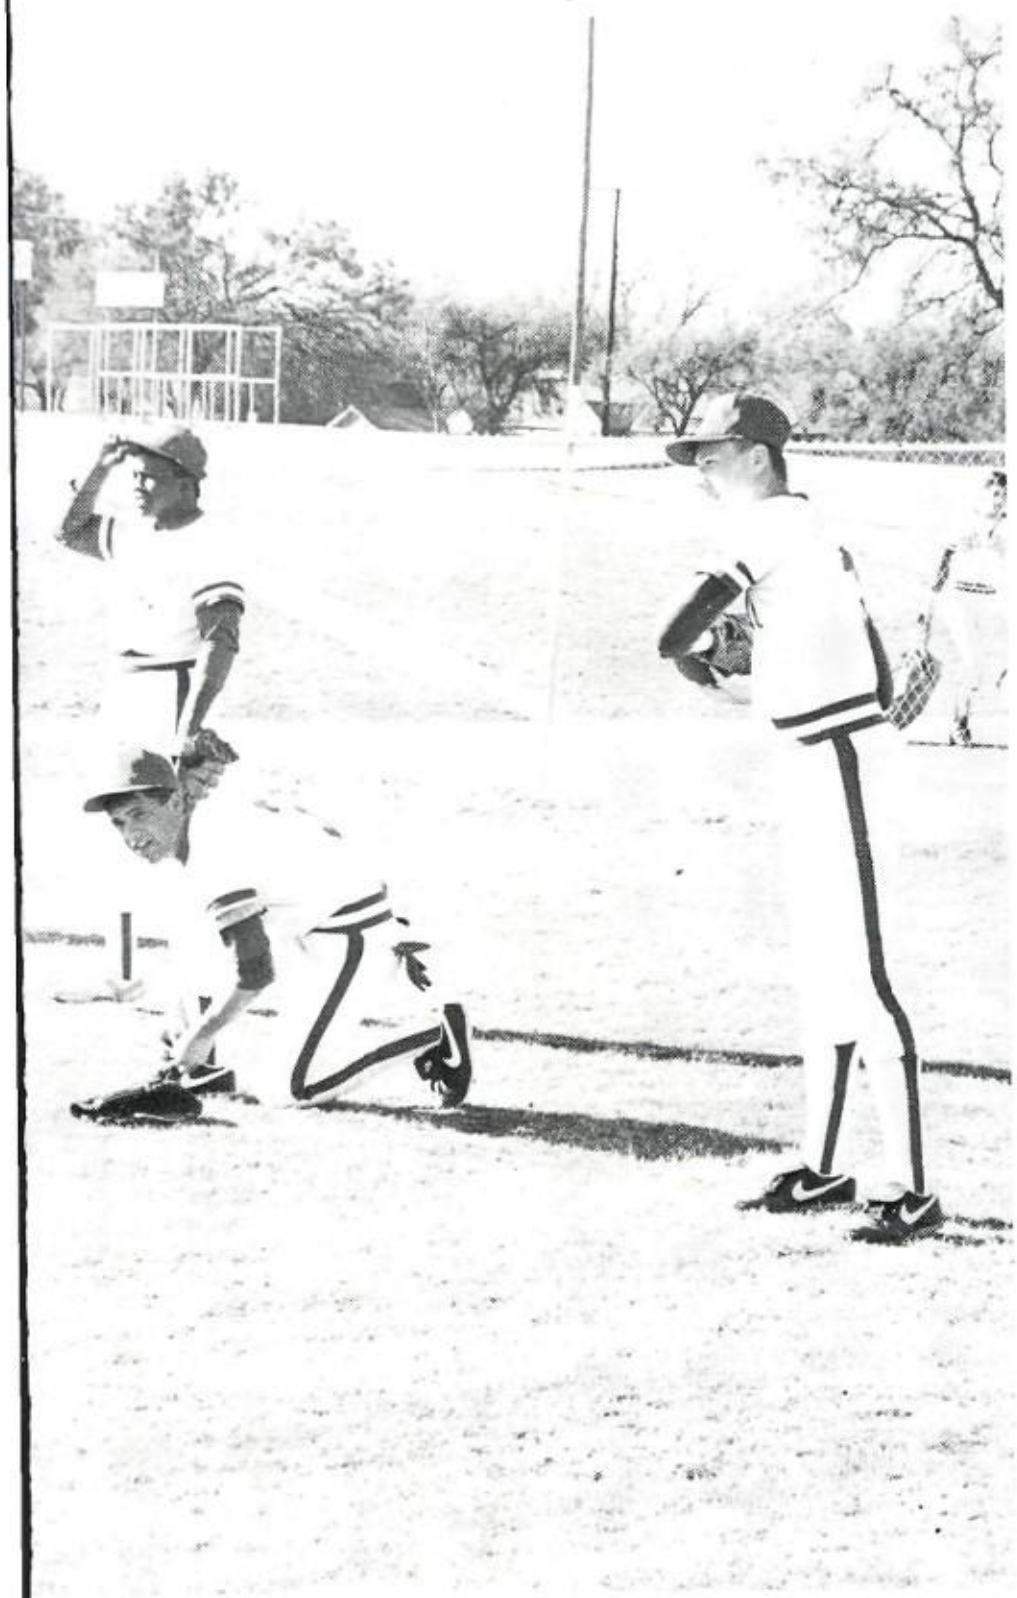
"Warm up your wings" - warm up your throwing arm

"Hot pepper" - sharp hit ground ball or line drive

"Corner of Hollywood and Vince" - third base

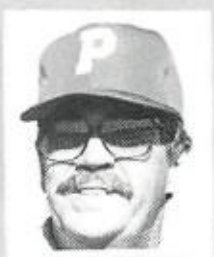
"That's two feet off a midget" - very low pitch

"Duck's on the pond" - runners are on base



Don't just stand there!" Victor Simms, Michael Peck and Bryan Burleson prepare to ake the field.

You Said It!



"Once we get into our Pork Chop, it's hacienda time for the rest of our district."
-Coach Jimmy Walker

"We're an awesome team, when we get our butts in gear."
-Michael Peck

"O.K. Stretch!" Layne Kasper does the Jane Fonda Workout before the game.

"How low can you go?" Bryan Burleson gets down and dirty to scoop up the ball

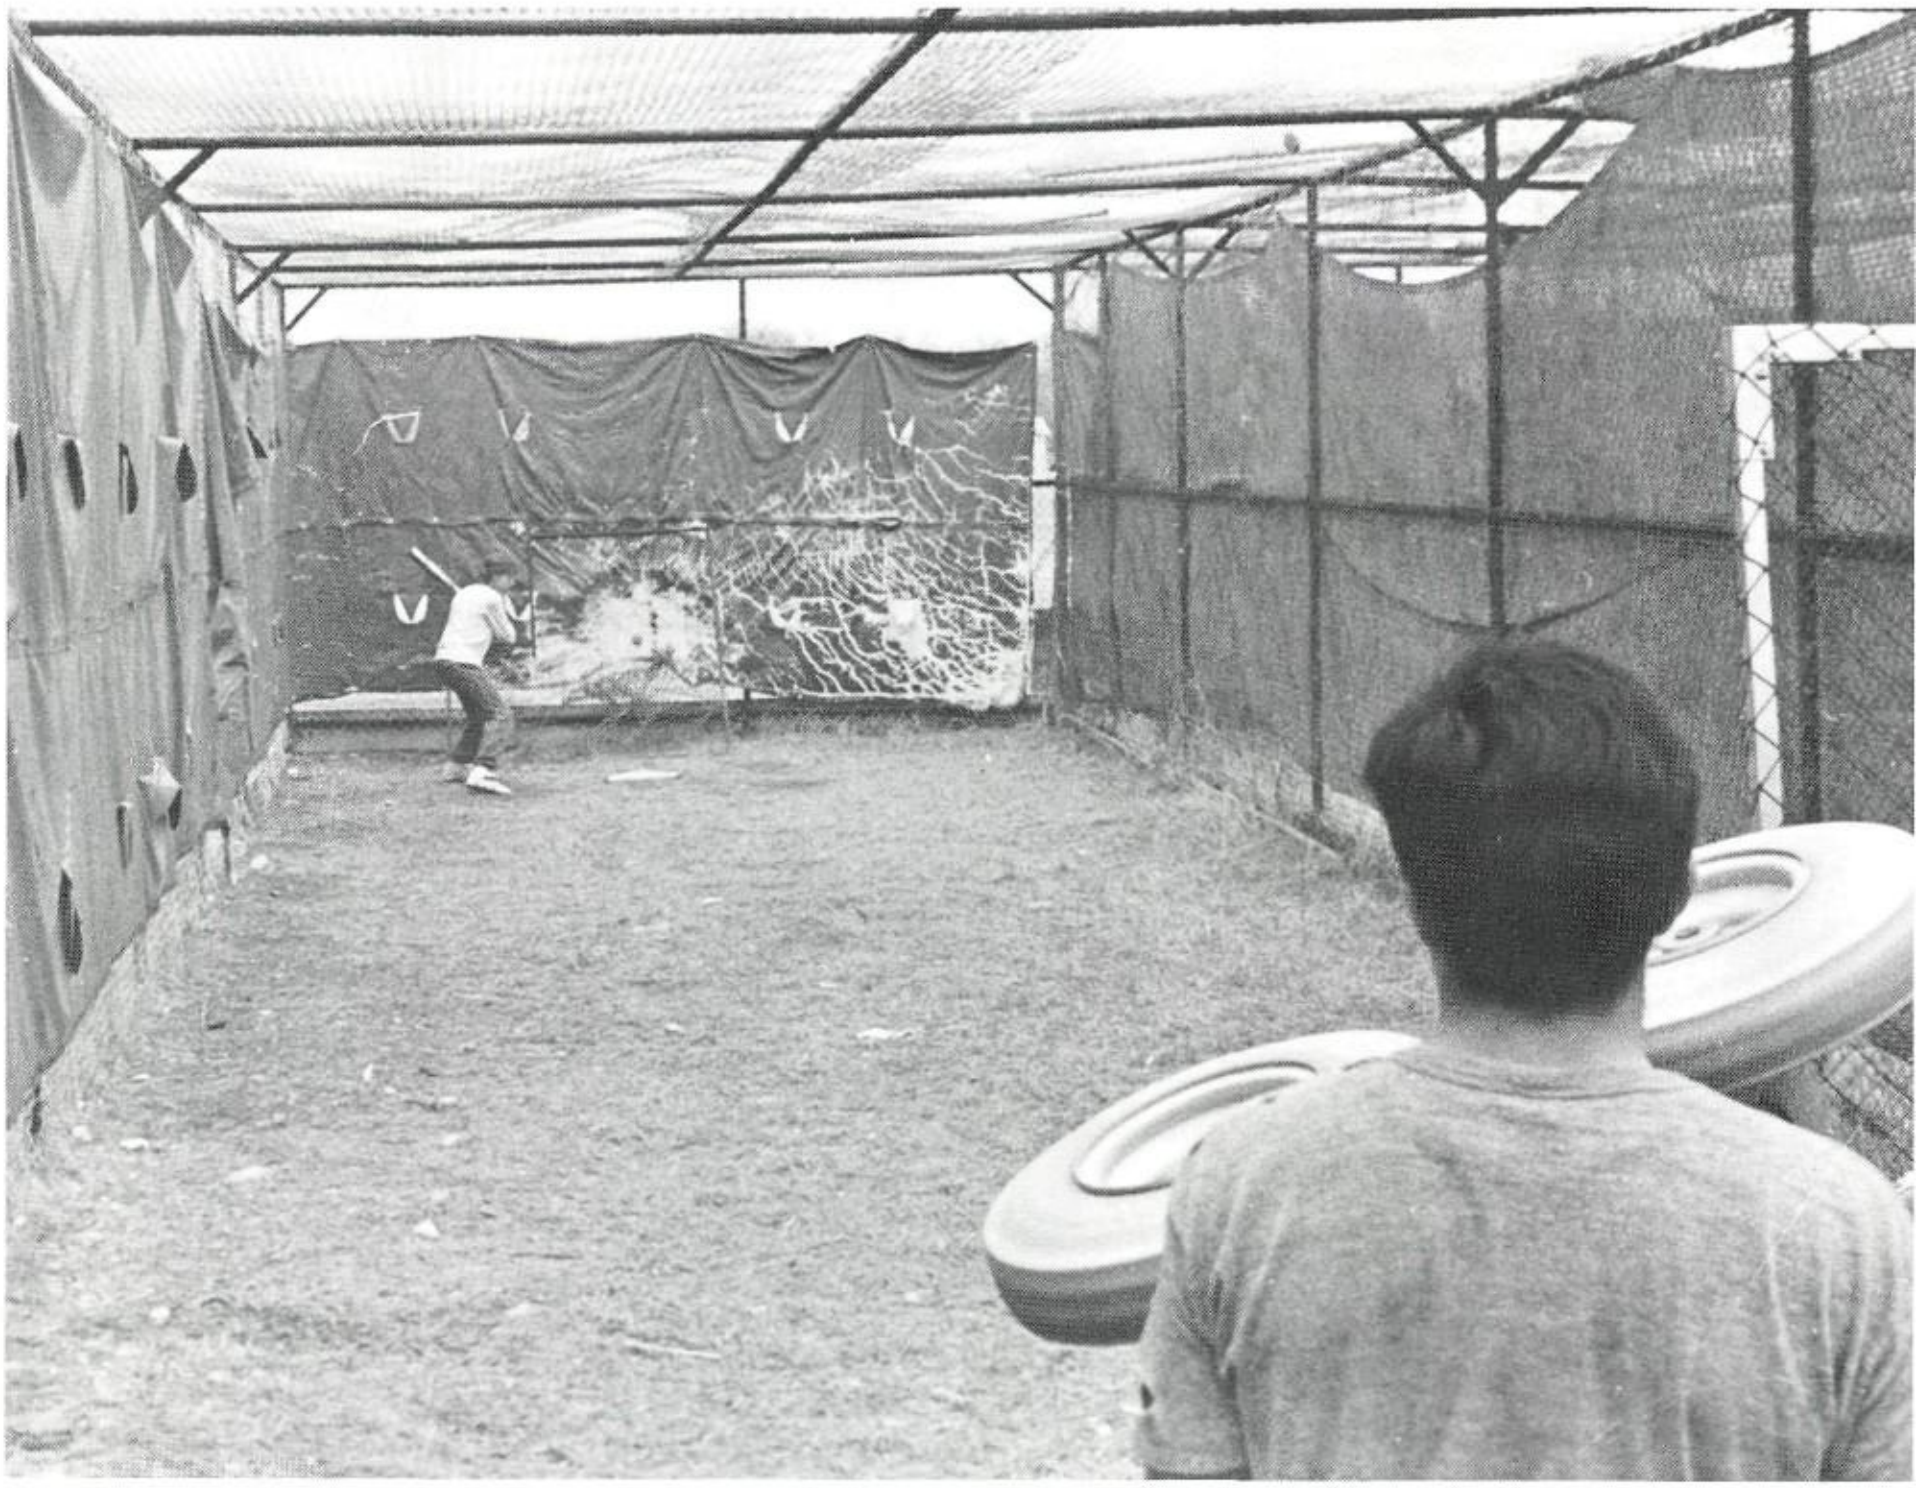
"Mike, hit the ball, not yourself!" Michael Peck gets the first hit of the season for the Panthers, a home run to center field.

Bryan Burleson delivers the pitch while Todd Touchette covers third base.

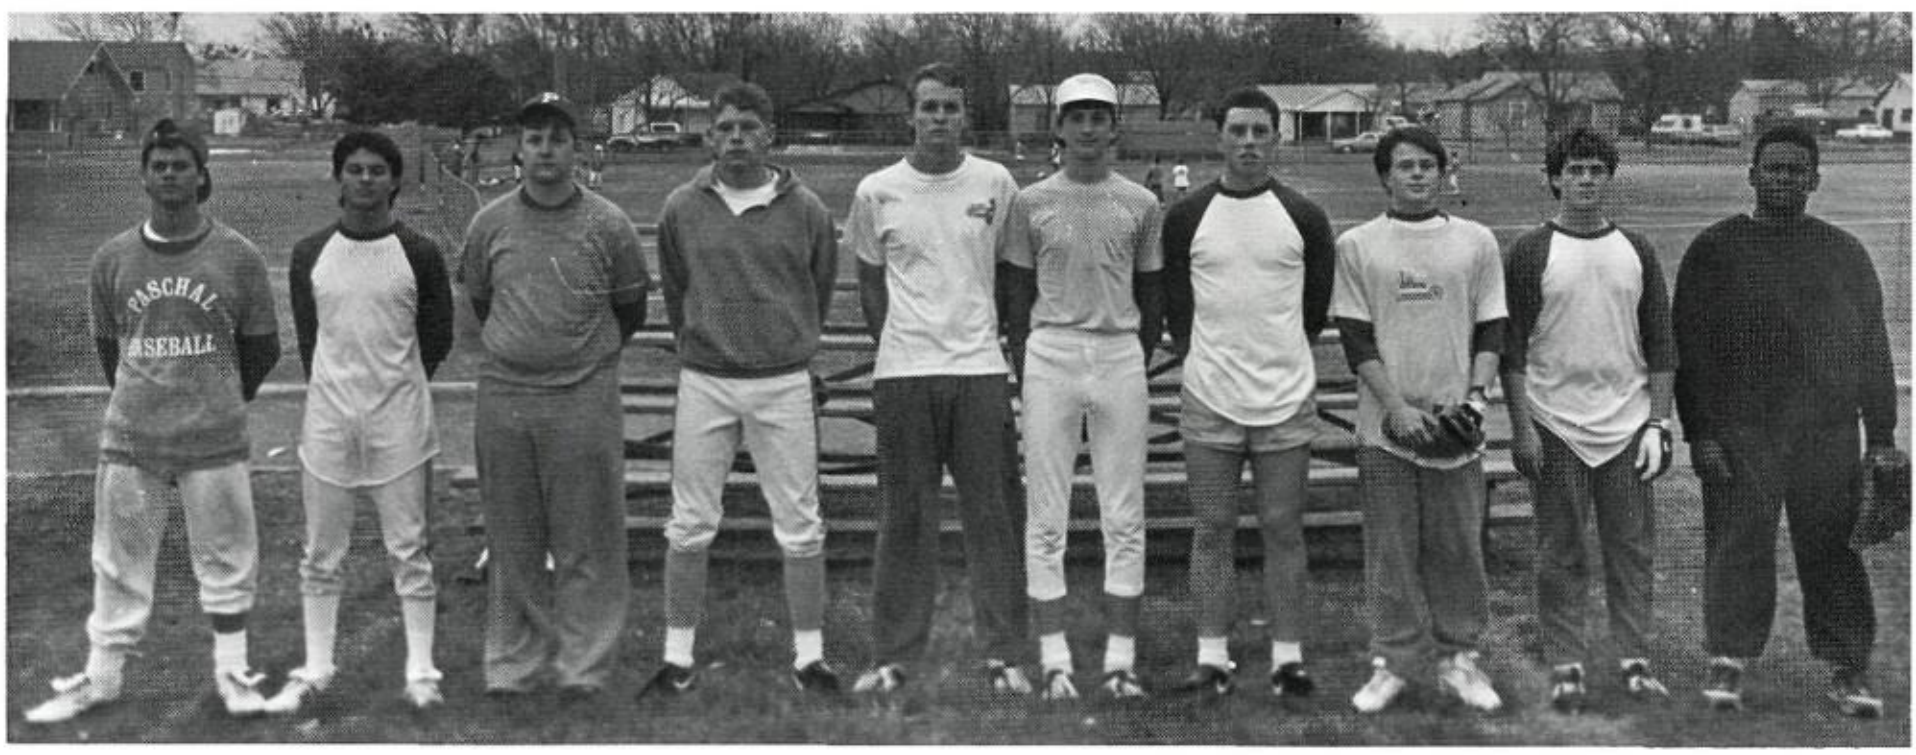
John Mark Williams is ready to catch.

Ahhh, the graceful hitting form of John Mark Williams.

"Whoa!" Layne Kasper holds his swing.



Strike one! And a miss. A member of the J.V. team practices on the pitching machine.



Jose Nieves, Jesse Juarez, Brian Gardner, Rodney Trueter, John Looney, Bobby Busher, Brent Harlan, Sean Carter, Kibett Gresham, and Ronnie Shelton.

Catcher, Ronnie Shelton, anticipates a good pitch.

Some words and phrases associated with baseball: tobacco ... homerun ... dugout ... squeeze play ... double play ... strike! ... out! ... foul ball ... extra innings ... batting glove ... home plate ... ump ... bad call ... fast ball ... curve ball ... knuckle ball ... slide ... up the middle ... pop up ... GO PANTHERS AND KEEP THAT WINNING SPIRIT!!!!!

Brent Harlan scoops up the ball with such grace.

Catcher, Ronnie Shelton, throws the ball back after a strike.

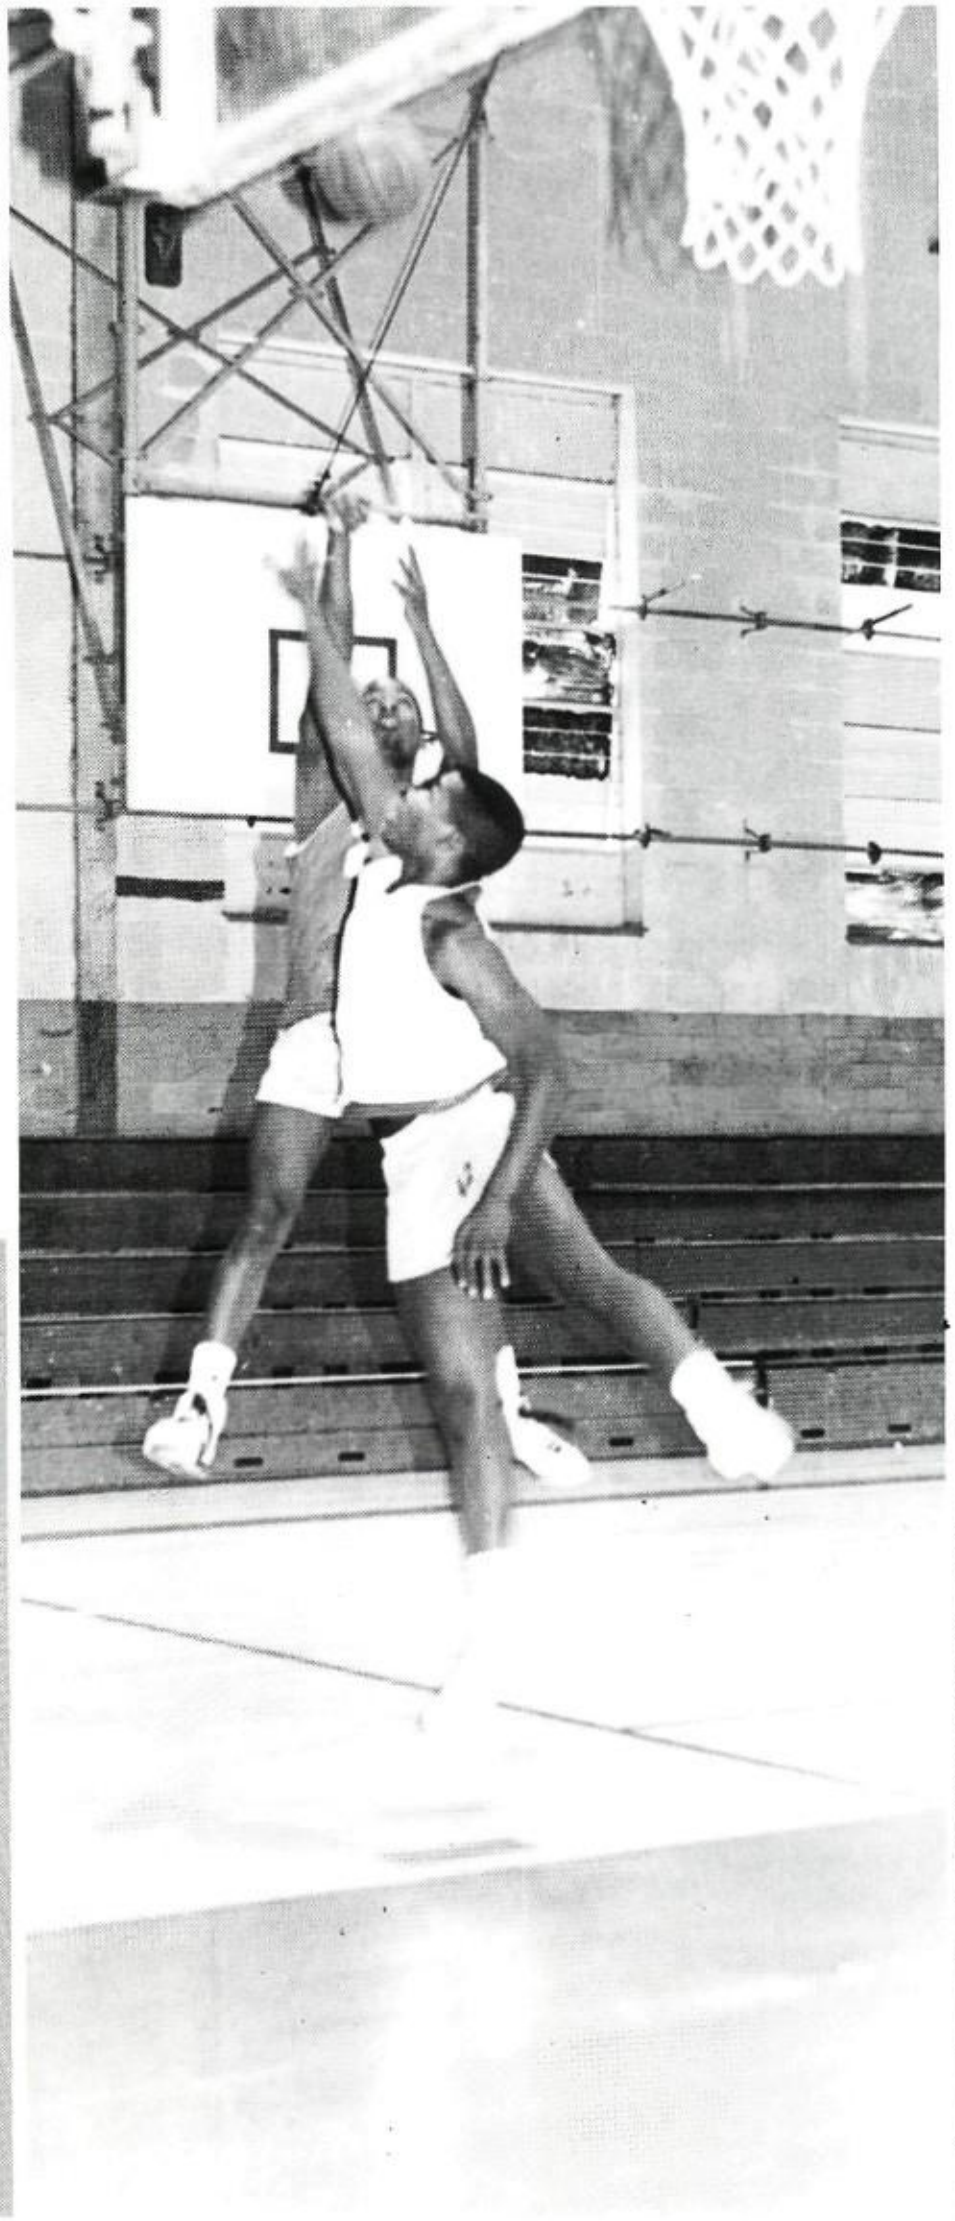
Jose Nieves throws the ball like a Darryl Strawberry.

You Said It!

"I'm expecting to have an undefeated season. I feel enthusiastic about the whole thing."
-Coach Brown

"We're gonna be pretty good this year."
-Brent Harlan

Varsity Boys Basketball . . .



5,4,3,2, . . . and the shot was up from three point range. The crowd was quite. There was no movement throughout the whole gymnasium. The ball seemed suspended in air while fans stood in hope. It was win or lose now. The basketball dropped straight through, hitting only the net. There was a cheer. No, there was a roar. The crowd was going crazy. The excitement was too much. They cleared the bleachers and charged the team. Everyone was excited, there was yet another Paschal victory.

In case some people never attended a Varsity Boys Basketball game, they were missing something great. The excitement was there. The team always made sure of that. Even during a losing game, which was very rare, the suspense was always tremendous.

"I can dunk like Michael Jordan," says Scott Pritchard.

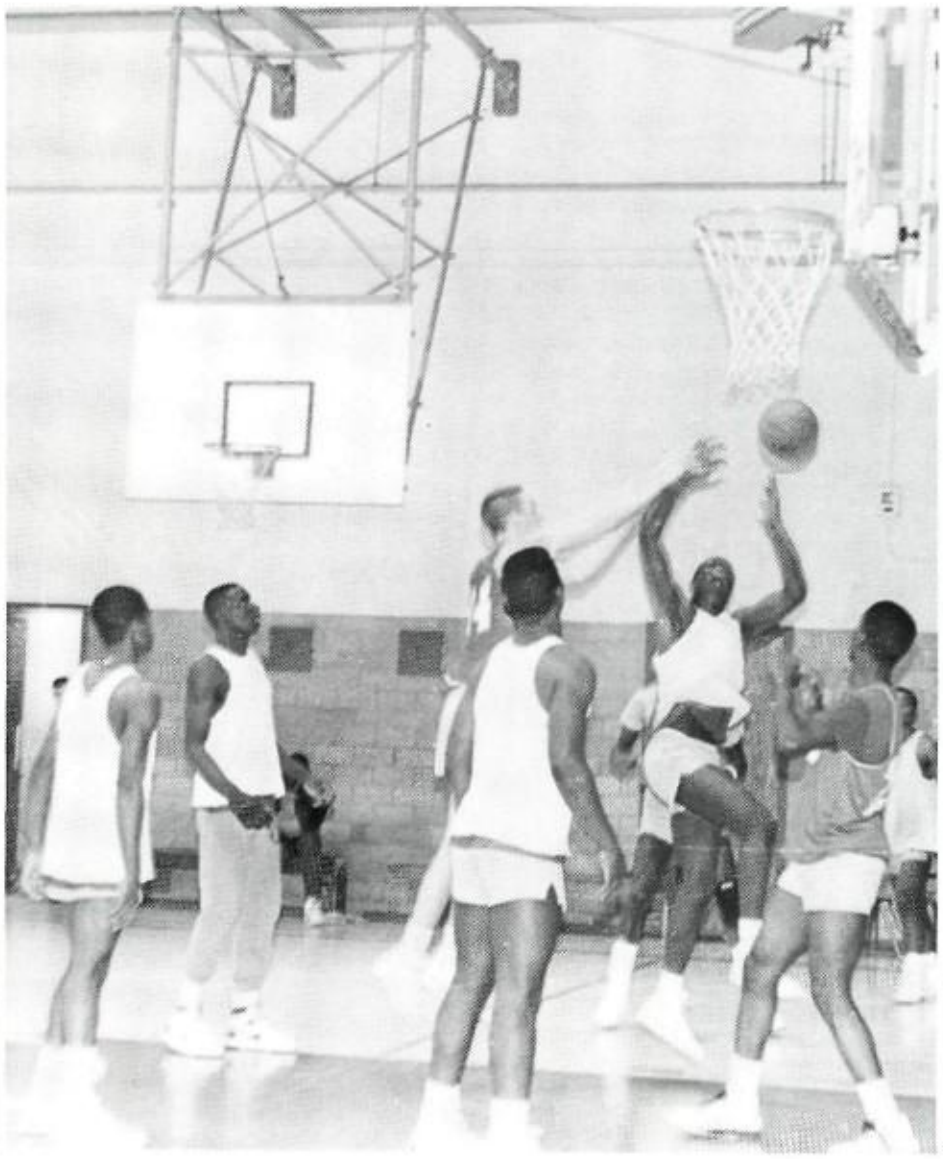
Bobby Greene soars high above Eric Browning, Gray Bullis, and Weldon Adams as he shoots for two.

. . . Leaps To Definite Heights

Heads go up. Where is that ball?

Coach Dansby speaks to his team about the upcoming game.



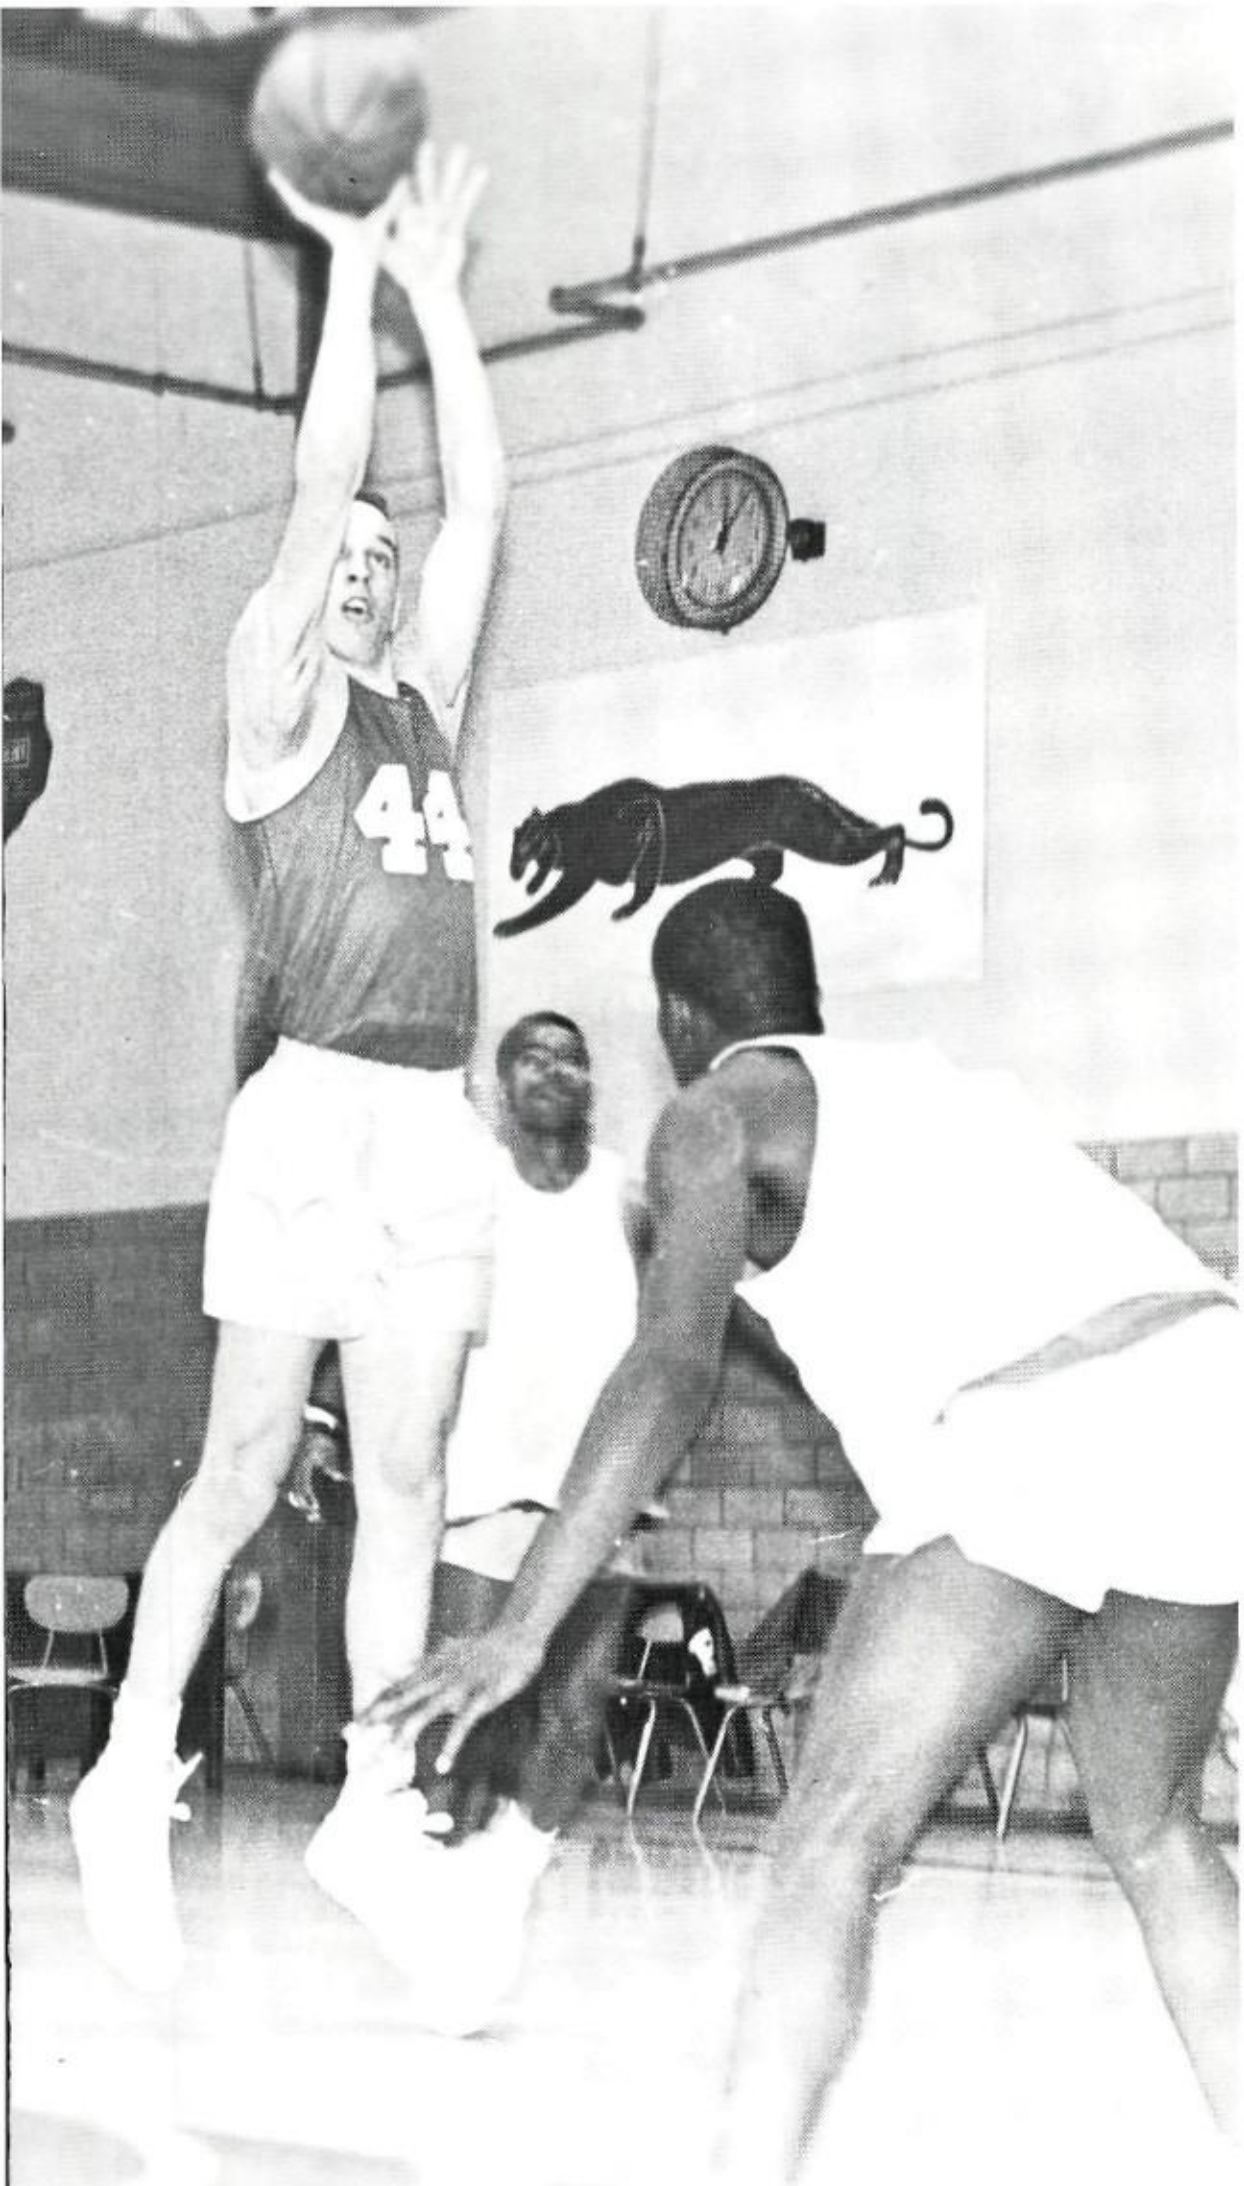
The basketball team shows its abilities during their "strenuous" practice.

Weldon Adams and Larry King do the side shuffle.

Varsity

THE 1987-1988 PHS boys' basketball team started the season with an attitude easily seen. They were determined to play ball to their best ability. And always show their unique talents and skills. Eventhough, they had their loses, they were always ready to begin the next game as a "team." This was a requirement of Coach Dabsby's team members. "Keep one thing in mind, guys. We are going out there to be a team, to work as a team, and to win as a team."

Paschal fans cheered them on, knowing they would always make them proud. They were a hard working team and deserved all praise given to them. Making all members of the Paschal student body and faculty have respect for their performance they displayed on and off the court.



"Air" Bullis displays his talent during practice.

Weldon Adams wants to express his feelings, but Mike Perkins holds him back.

You Said It!

"We've got a young team with great possibilities. I'd say I have the most talented team since I've been at Paschal."

"I enjoy every game even if we don't come out on top."

Basketball Reaches New Heights

Freshman And JV Move Ahead

Go Panthers!

The Junior Varsity Basketball team has once again made us proud. The JV team was filled with hard-working players and coached by Mr. Billy Wilson. The team displayed good sportsmanship and strived for the 'perfect score.' Slam dunk, swoosh and jump shot became the players' middle names. They proved themselves as talented young players and showed promise for the future in varsity basketball.

The freshman basketball team worked hard this year to improve their play. They diligently went through a series of drills and scrimmages during sixth-period practices. The members of the team pulled together to work as a unit in early season tournaments and continued in district games. The effort put forth by the freshman basketball players and Coach Doug Brown made us all proud.

Julie Williams bounced the ball on the free throw line. Everyone's eyes followed the ball from Julie's hands to the backboard, where it bounced and went into the net. The crowd cheered and the team, under the coaching of Chuck Lincoln, played a hard game. In the first game of the season against O.D. Wyatt, the girls' varsity basketball team showed Coach Lincoln that they had the determination and talent it takes to be a winning team. For the remainder of the basketball season, the girls continued to prove to us that they valued the desire to win.

The cheerleaders were rocking with vitality at all sporting events and pep rallies. Accuracy was also a trait of the squad which enabled them to win superior ribbons every night of competition at the National Cheerleaders Association Camp at SMU. Varsity captains Rob Robinson, Lori Cauble and Heather Cordray led the squad in their display of rhythm and spirit. All the cheerleaders put their imagination in everything and backed it up with talent. All of those characteristics along with encouragement and help from their sponsor, Mrs. Kathi Davidson, helped the cheerleaders perform to the best of their abilities.

"Walk like an Egyptian," says Krista Nix.

Varsity Builds A Foundation

The number one goal of the 1987 Paschal Varsity Football Team was to improve as a team and gain respectability around the district. The Panthers did just that. The work began in November of 1986 as Coach Finis Vanover put the team through the toughest off-season program around. A strict workout consisting of weightlifting, agility work and running put the team in top athletic form. The work continued in August '87, with Paschal's two-a-day workouts in the heat of summer. The coaches were determined to make sure that the team was stronger than their opponents because of the tough schedule the Panthers faced. Four of the ten teams they played had reached the playoffs the previous year.

Paschal's athletic facilities were improved to become the finest in the city with a redecorated, air-conditioned field house, weight room and a fully lighted practice field. On the first day of summer workouts, a car crashed directly into the newly decorated coach's office. But the coaching staff acted quickly to fix the damage.

As the season progressed, opponents knew that this was not the same kind of Paschal team they were used to. These Panthers wouldn't quit, even when times were hard. Led by quarterback Brian Burleson and tough running back Tony Hawkins, Paschal was always an offensive threat with support from the "Hogs", the offensive line. Defensively, the Panthers were sound, with linebackers Eric Browning, Victor Simms and Tom Wacker. The defensive line stayed tough with Erich Palko and Wes Read while defensive backs Gabe Harman and James Stephens stopped the opponents' passing attack. The Panthers, with twenty-seven seniors, always had extra support from the bench, with players like Karl Hahnfield and Victor Vega ready to come in whenever needed.

The success of this year's team may not have showed up on the scoreboard, but they did what they set out to do: build a foundation for a winning team, and bring back respect for Paschal.

Congratulations, J.V.!

How many of you knew this? Before a J.V. or Freshman ɔotball game the team went to the fieldhouse and relaxed in ıe dark. Then they recited the Lord's Prayer together and the ɔaches gave their pep talks. The spirit grew, along with the ervousness as the players ran onto the field. After the kick off ıe players could think of only one thing: FOOTBALL!

Working out six hours a day during the summer and two and half hours during the school year put the team in great shape.)bviously it paid off considering J.V. had a winning season! reshman didn't do quite as well, but that didn't hurt their pirit or fun times. When asked about the no pass/no play rule, ıost players agreed it made sense, even though it hurt the am. Brent Harlan said he agreed with the rule although it id take away some key players. Ian Salavon, another J.V. layer also agreed, "If a player can't perform in the classroom, e shouldn't be able to perform on the field." Everyone is ɔoking forward to next year's football season. Some J.V. will e moving up to varsity and the freshman will no longer be the oungest players. Any advice for the new freshman football layers? Brent Harlan encouraged, "Even though it's hard at ıe beginning, don't give up. I didn't and I'm looking forward ɔ a starting position on varsity next year."

The 1987-88 J. V. Volleyball

STRAIGHT SHOT

The Junior Varsity Volleyball Stars Coach Jane Blaylock

You thought our J.V. Lady Panthers were HOT last season, they are back and hotter than ever. "This year our team has improved so much with team work. We play together as a team and no one person receives all the glory," said Julie Angles, junior setter. "Our team had dedication in practice this year and strived hard for the win. We had the 'Gonna go all the way spirit!' said Stacey McConnel, junior server. When talking to the coach, she said, "I expect great things from the team." "We were very strong in district play. All the team members worked very hard to improve their skills." said Coach Jane Blaylock.

Tillentha Sanders makes a list of goals.

"Lord give me strength" prays Mrs. Blaylock.

Freshman Volleyball Serves Up A Good Year

Paschal's Freshman volleyball team practiced long and hard to make this year their best. They showed great spirit and enthusiasm at all of the games and tried their hardest at tournaments. At the Diamond Hill freshman tournament in October, they placed third, defeating Poly and Diamond Hill. Coach Santos describes her girls as enthusiastic kids with a promising future, as their five district wins show. It was hard for them, coming from different middle schools to combine their skills and ideas from past teams to make one team but they pulled it off well. Thus, their desire to win got them through the season and Coach Santos and the girls are looking forward to the future of PHS volleyball being highly competitive.

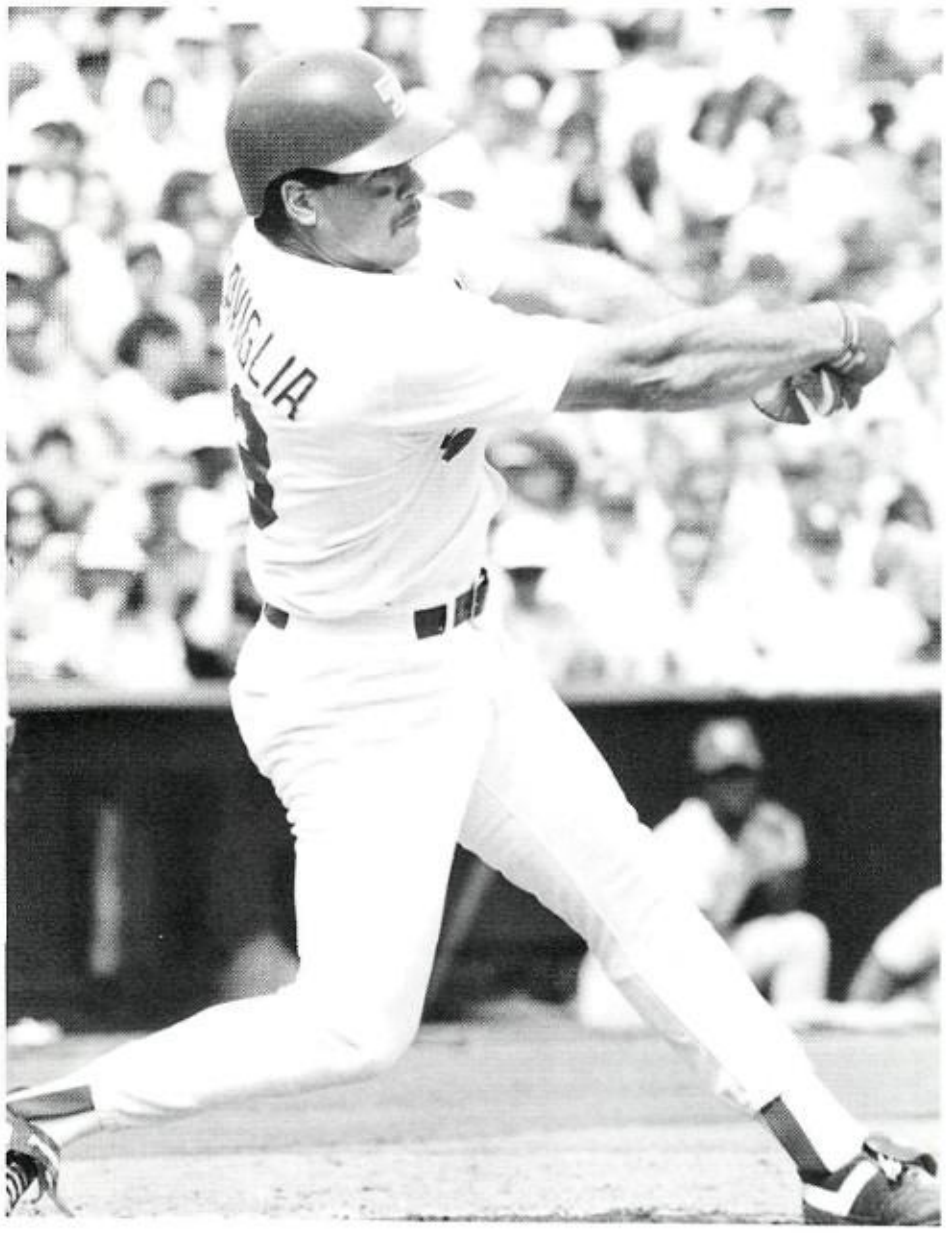
Look Around You

The metroplex is filled with many professional teams. Among them are the Dallas Sidekicks. This soccer team has been together for only five years and somehow found a way to win it all. In 1987 they were named the MISL World Indoor Champion.

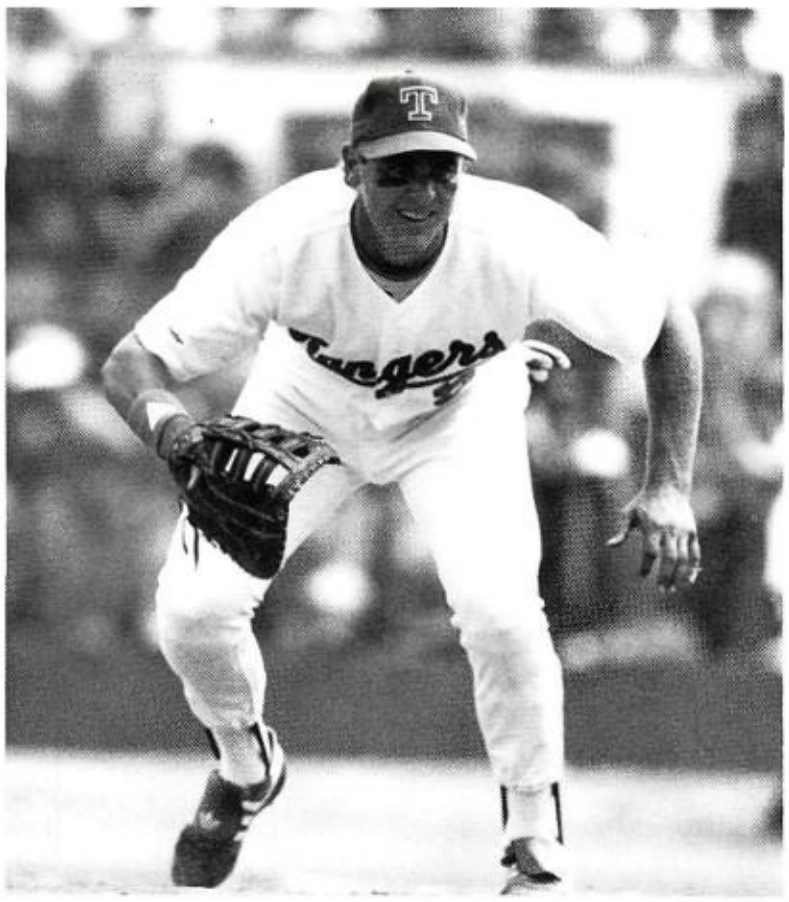
The Dallas Cowboys, also called "America's Team", were among one of the most watched football teams in the country. They became especially popular since the addition of Hershel Walker, the famous USFL running back.

Finally we have the Texas Rangers, hailing from Arlington, practically in our own backyards. This baseball team, coached by Bobby Valentine, works hard every year to make its fans proud. As you can see, talent abounds in Dallas/Fort Worth. All you have to do is look around you!



Pete Incaviglia shows us the homerun swing.

Doc Lawson gets ready to kick the ball in for a score.



Pete O'Brien gets ready for a ground ball.

Randy White puts his sights on the Houston quarterback.

Tatu fends off an opponent for the ball.

Herschel Walker cuts back through the hole.

Royal Purple

Royal Purple is an honor that only seniors can receive. It is when a senior student has gone above and beyond the call of duty. He or she has worked hard throughout their four years in high school. Not limited academically, they volunteer their time to improving Paschal. The faculty nominated the following students for their leadership, hard work and dedication. These students were chosen for Royal Purple by a committee of Senior teachers and the annual staff.

Getting Ahead . . .

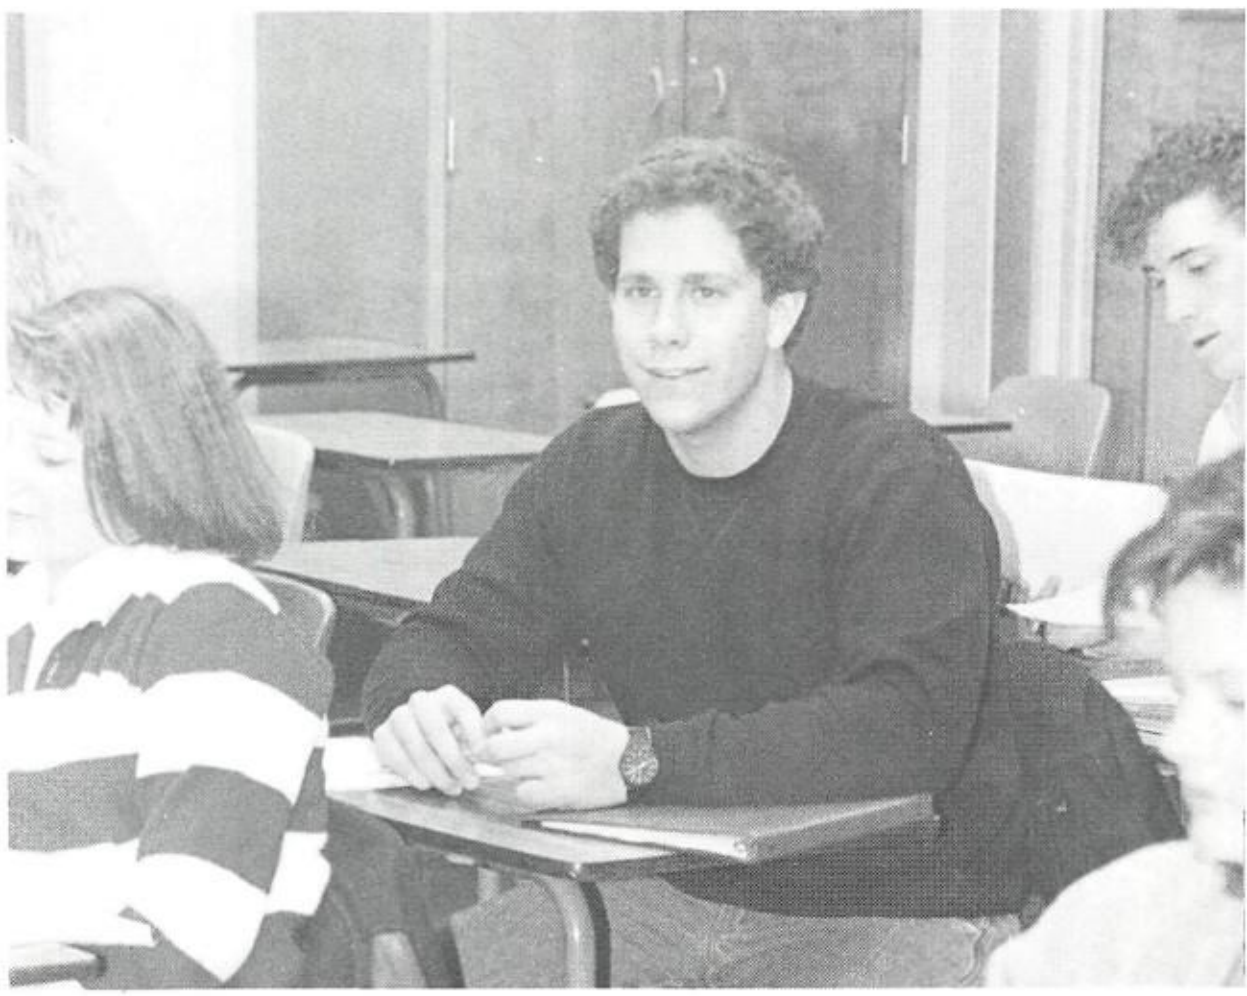
Paschal had seven National Merit Scholar semifinalists, more than most Fort Worth high schools combined. These semifinalists include Amy Bawcom, Ken Harper, Layne Kasper, Rebekah Miracle, Trey Shanks, Stephen Strange and Pam Sumner. To qualify for this, they all scored exceptionally high on the PSAT and the SAT and wrote essays about things such as their most challenging experience in high school.

We also had two National Merit Hispanic Scholars, Georgette Lopez-Aguado and Jeff Gonzales. This was a scholarship competition for Hispanic students who showed excellence in all academic areas, not just high scores on the PSAT and SAT.



Stephen Strange always listens attentively in Calculus!

"Ummm, this book looks good!" says Georgi Lopez-Aguado

"The highest honor I have received in my high school career is being named National Merit Scholar Semifinalist. It is indeed a privilege to be selected along with such a fine, respected group such as thus. I feel like the luckiest man on the face of this dear earth" -Layne Kasper

WE the People of the States of New-Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New-York, New-Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North-Carolina, South-Carolina, and Georgia, do ordain, declare and establish the following Constitution for the Government of Ourselves and our Posterity.

ARTICLE I.

Sect. 1. The Members of the House of Representatives shall be chosen every second year, by the people of the several States comprehended within this Union. The qualifications of the electors shall be the same, from time to time, as those of the electors in the several States, of the most numerous branch of their own legislatures.

Sect. 2. Every Member of the House of Representatives shall be of the age of twenty-five years at least; shall have been [illegible] years before his election, and shall, at the time of his election, be a resident of the State in which he shall be chosen.

Sect. 3. The House of Representatives shall, at its first formation, and until the number of citizens and inhabitants shall be taken in the manner above directed, be entitled to choose [illegible] Members, of whom three shall be chosen in New-Hampshire, eight in Massachusetts, one in Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations, five in Connecticut, five in New-York, four in New-Jersey, eight in Pennsylvania, one in Delaware, five in Maryland, [illegible] five in South-Carolina, and three in Georgia.

Sect. 4. As the proportions of numbers in the different States will alter from time to time; as some of the States may hereafter be divided; or others may be enlarged by additional settlements, or by the admission of new States; the representation will be regulated anew by the several legislatures, in such manner as they shall think proper; [illegible] number of inhabitants, according to the [illegible] rate of one for every forty thousand.

Sect. 5. All bills for raising or appropriating money, and for fixing the salaries of the officers of government, shall originate in the House of Representatives, and shall not be altered or amended by the Senate. No money shall be drawn from the public Treasury, but in pursuance of appropriations that shall originate in the House of Representatives.

Sect. 6. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment. It shall choose their Speaker and other officers.

Sect. 7. Vacancies in the House of Representatives shall be supplied by writs of election from the executive authority of the State, in the representation from which they shall happen.

Shit annual stuff!!
summer + all that hell-
Or well have a good
we were better friends!!
was better!! Except last year blast but of course this year this class!! last year was a
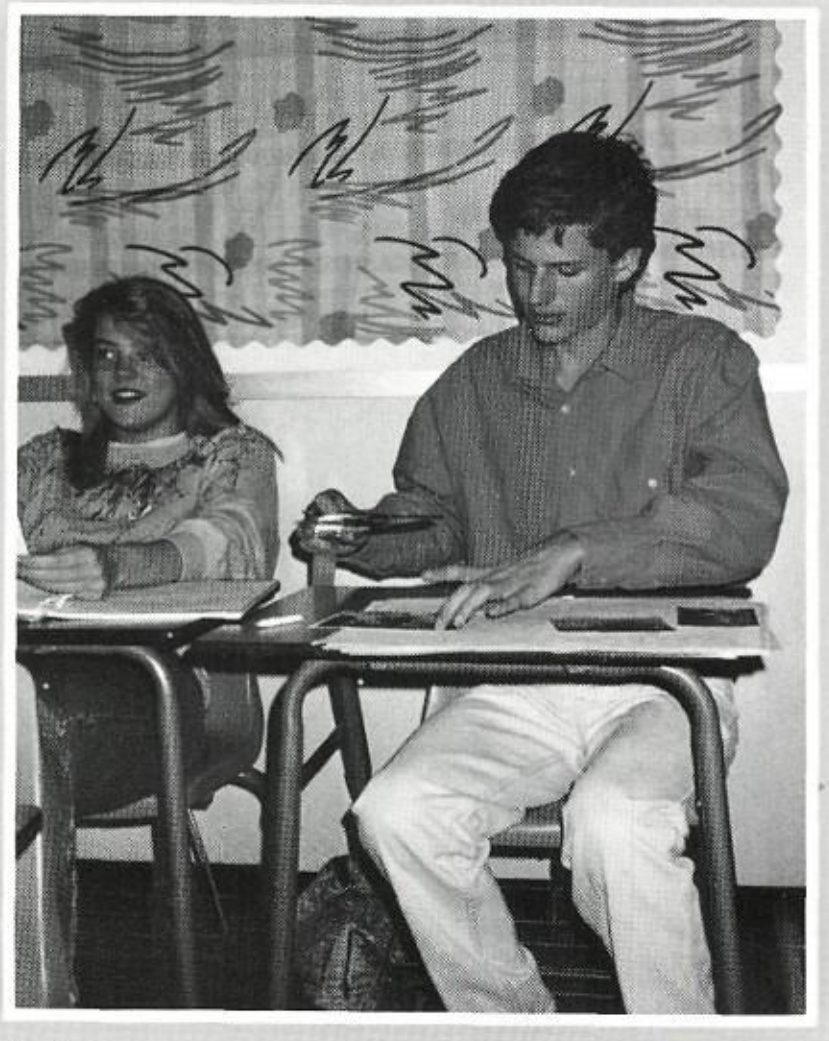
You always cause trouble ;)
O.K. I'll agree help from me!!
Term Theme!! I hope you did
Act was a blast especially
Troll

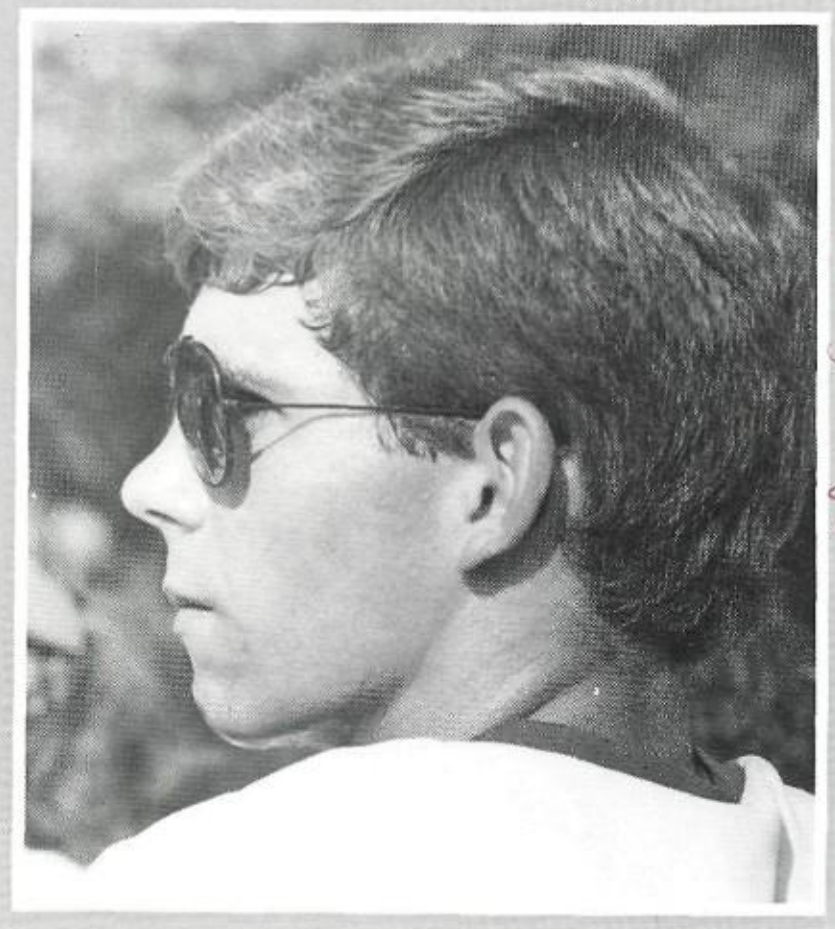
Eric Browning struts his stuff while Mary Nell King watches closely.

Troy - This year is almost over Thank God. But you may get to savor some of your classes twice (Tris) After finals we need to go get really trashed. Have a bunk summer

David Williams



April Taylor takes time to relax as OP Johnson works diligently on his weekend page in annual staff.



John Andrus is a movie star in his shades.

Troy - Byron -
U never can get that straight! ha! ha!
U am glad U got to know you this year.
You really are a Sweetie!
Have a safe Summer!

Robert Smith and Brian Hathaway look speechless when questioned.

Issac Contreras, Garando Ramirez, Claudia Ramirez and Nelson Fonseca know they are stars at the History Club party.

Lori Cauble and Tara Mehta jam to the beat at Sarah Fahy's house.

Kim Hines and Brandon Riggs do the tango.

Ben Isgur's heart pounds while Andrea Herman gets swept off her feet.

The Panther

The 1988 Panther is printed on 304 pages of 9 x 12 double coated enamel gloss paper text. The cover is custom designed, process color. The black and white photograph was school submitted and Creative Services of Jostens created color additions. The cover material is wrapped around a 150 pt. Davey Red Label binder's board. Body copy and captions throughout the book are set in Times Roman. Headlines appear in various point sizes in Times Roman. The opening section consists of pages 1-15 using process color with a Black and Magenta background. All division pages appear in second color.

Troy -
It's been alot of fun knowing ya!
I'm glad you & Bybarie working out. Thanx for always turning to me when I had problems. Let's all keep in touch over the summer we can all four go but sometime! Thanx alot, you've been a great friend! ♡♡
♡Ya lots!

RESERVED JOY

Troy: Well we made it through the year (wit out killing each other) can you believe? Can you [redacted] really believe that this year went by so fast! Troy I really don't know what to wr
I see you everyday and you know everything
Besides the things I do want to write to you I don't want this nosey people to read
But I hope that we can go through many more years together! are little married couple selves that don't live together (as yo mother says) I want you to know That if you ever need [redacted] a friend I'm hear know matter what happens! I hope we have a great summer together! I hope that next year goes just a fast a this year! I just want you to know that what ever happens I love you & I always will! Even though we always fight, I love you & I'm glad we met. And I would never think twice abou chosing you over Errol! And I want you to know that! Because I don't think I've ever told you! Hopefully you will end up getting a new Truck or Blazer soon! Because you are driving me out of my mind talk abo your Truck!

Love Ya. I

Joy

Troy - It was interesting knowing you in classes. You know Mrs. Maddux, Mr. Bradley and Mr. Rutherford pretty well & I'm sure they'll be glad to see you graduate. Now I know I'll be different to you! What was your favorite class? Math? Psych? Or a class that made a decent grade AND kept your interest? Anyway, I'm glad we got to know each other this year & I hope you have a great summer and have a wonderful life. Be safe & have fun & don't get too drunk! It would be a shame to wreck your car anymore.

Your Bud,
DAVID
RUTHERFORD

Byroon,
Well, Bub, we have finally made it to our "Sr" year. You've been a swell guy. Glad I got to know ya. Keep things in there fella and play it safe. Things will work out, if you have a level head on shoulders. Keep it cool, and try not to "wreck your car anymore."

Troy - Well, we finally made it to our Senior yr. ACT, computer math, and Chemistry have been a blast. Thank you for helping me survive. I know I strel owe you my car for a minute, but the day will come. You really are a sweet friend to me and I hope you and Joy will quit bickering at each other. Im gonna miss your obscene jokes & comments, but call me in the summer & keep in touch. Stay out of trouble. Debra.
